

Chanukah Party Has Audience Dancing in Aisles

Over 250 people from the Charlotte Jewish community participated in the Chanukah festival which featured a concert by Moshe Yess, composer and singer of the Megama duo.

The festival began with the kindling of the Chanukah menorah by Arny Pickholtz who led the crowd with the proper blessings and songs. The ceremony was followed by a short talk on the significance and relevance of Chanukah given by Rabbi Yossi Groner, of LUBAVITCH of North Carolina, sponsor of the festival.

Arny Pickholtz lights Chanukah candles.

Then the fun began with Moshe Yess singing Jewish favorites spiced with his humorous remarks. Most of his songs deliver a message of returning to our roots. The audience responded with great enthusiasm; some were seen dancing in the aisles.

Moshe Yess "strumming" away.

There was plenty of good food: traditional Chanukah latkes, home baked cakes and other delicacies as well. "This was the most enjoyable evening of the year" one participant was heard saying at the end of the evening.

Not an empty seat in the house!
