THE LAST FIRE IN CHARLOTTE.

I would most respectfully acknowledge myself under most lasting obligations to the citizens of Charlotte and the public generally for the very flattering patronage extended to my business previous to the late FIRE in the city, which swept away nearly everything I possessed of this world's goods. Now, since my great misfortune, I have again embarked in the Family Grocery and Provision Business, and would solicit a liberal share of public patronage so lavishly bestowed in the past. I propose to strictly adhere to the same system in the service as practiced in the past, to wit: Fair and honest dealing, keeping the best goods for the lowest money, and in all particulars representing them as they are, or no sale. Parties purchasing goods of me can have them delivered free to any part of the city, as I have a dray in connection with my house.

Respectfully,

oc29 B. N. SMITH.

TO THE MERCHANTS AND CITIZENS OF CHARLOTTE, N. C.:

Having associated with me Mr. F. HAMPSON, a practical and skillful manufacturer of Artificial Stone, of several years experience, I am now prepared to execute in all its branches, viz:

Hearths, Steps, Sills,
Horse Blocks, Cornices,
Brackets, Watertable,
Sill Corners, Belting,
Ashler Chimney Caps,
Lintel's Coping, &c.

Pavements, Walks and concreting of cellar floors respectfully solicited. Cemetery work at one-third less cost than marble. Vaults on very easy terms. Workmanship and material guaranteed of first quality, and warranted to give entire satisfaction.

Artificial Stone is the only one that withstood the great Chicago fire.

Charges reasonable, and at much less cost than any natural stone.

CAPT. JOHN C. BRAIN, Agent.

Having connected myself with Captain Brain, I am confident of pleasing the most fastidious as to designs in the manufacture of Artificial Stone. I have made stone for one of the finest buildings in the South—the Masonic Temple at Savannah, Ga.; dimensions, 90 by 60 feet; height, 60 feet; main room, 36 by 56 feet in the clear; the roof and third floor suspended, resting entirely on walls of Artificial Stone. The above work has given great satisfaction. I have also made stone for Metropolitan Fire Company's hall and S. P. Hamilton, Esq.'s house, also in Savannah, all of which work has given every possible satisfaction.

In soliciting a share of your patronage, on behalf of Captain Brain, you may rest assured the whole of my attention will be given to the manufacture of this stone, which is damp, fire and rat proof. One thing particularly in favor of this stone is its cost, which is half the price of granite and as durable; two-thirds less than brownstone and more durable, and one-third less than any soft or sand stone. Respectfully yours, o24 F. HAMPSON.

NOTICE.—TO HOUSE BUILDERS AND CONTRACTORS.—I have accepted the Agency for a Saw Mill, and am prepared to receive and fill all orders for any kind of Lumber at as short a notice as possible. I have on hand a lot of flooring and inch plank.

CITY BULLETIN.

The woman who was accidentally shot on Monday evening, was better yesterday.—There is a prospect of her recovery.

We understand that the hop at fireman's hall last night, was a pleasant occasion. Dancing was indulged until a late hour and then refreshments were served. Other business prevented our being present at the hop.

Crowds of people are pouring into the city, and the hotels and boarding houses are filling up rapidly. Like an omnibus, though, there is always room for one more and we invite everybody to come ahead. Room will be made for them.

Our South Carolina friends having finished their voting yesterday, will be along in force to-day and to-morrow. A number arrived last evening, among others, Maj. R. A. Springs, President of the New Fair of the Carolinas.

We are authorized by His Honor W. P. Davidson, Mayor of the city of Charlotte, to request the banks and business houses of the city to close on Thursday November 5th, that all may have an opportunity of attending the Fair.

Flight Between Drag & Drag.

Yesterday morning a fight took place on the platform between the N G and C C & A Railroad depots, the combatants being Mr Ed Lewis and Mr Henry Cruse. Both of these are dray owners, or superintendents of drays, and the origin of the difficulty was some freight which each claimed for his dray. High words took place between them, and these ended by Mr Lewis striking Mr Cruse. The latter whipped out a knife and, making a plunge at his antagonist, cut through his hat rim, grazed his head and inflicted a deep gash in his cheek. Reports were current on the streets that Mr. L. had been mortally wounded, but as far from this being the case his injuries, though painful, are not at all serious, and he is about his business as usual.

Trotting on Exhibition.

Mrs. Sallie A. Tucker, of Warren county, gave birth last February to three stout, well developed children, and will have them on exhibition at the Fair Grounds to-day.—This no fraud, but they are real live, genuine North Carolina triplets. We have seen a certificate from Dr. Yancey, the attending physician, to the fact, and all concur in saying so. The father and mother are in poor circumstances, and people ought to go in and see the children if from no other reason through sympathy for their parents.

An Amateur Statesman.

A little boy, about thirteen years old, had a four-horned goat on exhibition in a tenement on Trade street last night, and the way that boy talked for that goat kept the church was a caution. It was worth ten cents to hear him set forth in words how perfectly wonderful the goat is.

PROGRAMME

OF THE

New Fair of the Carolinas.

SECOND DAY,

Wednesday, November 4th, 1874.

The President and Directors announce to the public that the Fair of the Carolinas has opened with grand success, with the finest display on the course, on the first day, ever seen before in North Carolina. Encouraged by this the Board will continue to add new features to the exposition so as to make the exhibition more and more attractive to all visitors.

The Fair will open to-day with the meeting of the Directors as usual at the gates a 9 o'clock A. M.

At 11 o'clock there will be parade of Stock on exhibition on the path outside of the race course.

At 9½ A. M., the Charlotte Silver Cornet Band will proceed to the grounds.

During the forenoon the various Exhibition Halls will be open to the public—a visit to Floral Hall will amply repay the visitors, as here will be seen many articles fancy, useful and ornamental. At Machinery Hall four steam engines will be working driving Cotton Gins, Saw Mills, &c., and on the grounds the display of Agricultural implements and Farming tools cannot but please the farmers.

The lovers of amusements will find ample fun in the numerous side shows which are on the grounds.

The grand event of the day will be the mile dash,—one mile heat,—races to be run by some of the finest stock in America, punctually at

TWO O'CLOCK P. M.

For full particulars of which the public are referred to the Track Committees advertisement in this paper.

In order to give all an opportunity to compete for premiums in this grand Fair. The time for receiving entries will be extended to close of this day—after to-day no entries will be received, as the Committees will make their examination and award on Thursday.

Gates opened at 8 o'clock, close at 5 o'clock P. M. Tickets may be had at the corner Drug Store, Central Hotel and Bruton's. Single Admission 50 cents. Single tickets $1.50.

Editors, and Delegates, from other Fairs, are requested to make themselves known to the President, Secretary, Chief Marshal, as one of the Directors that proper attention may be paid them.

WALTER BREM,
Chief Marshall.

The Opera House Last Night.

The audience at the Opera House last night, though not so large as the merits of the troupe deserve, was largely composed of the ladies and gentlemen of the city, and judging from the intensity of the attention paid, the performance must have pleased all. "Kathleen Mavourneen," was presented and played with great acceptability. Rose and Harry Watkins both showed themselves as powerful delineators of character. The acting was very fine, and they were greeted frequently with storms of applause; but even their fine acting was not more interesting than "what an awful villain I am," who brought roar after roar of laughter from the listeners. We hardly remember ever seeing a more perfectly ridiculous character on the stage. Whenever he appeared all eyes were bent on him, and all lips were prepared to laugh whenever he would say "what an awful villain I am." "Kathleen Mavourneen" took splendidly, everybody was pleased. It is an excellent piece and was well played, though it struck us that Mr. Levvey as Captain Clearfield lacked life, and that Mr. Glassford as Father O'Cassidy was rather business like in his acting.

To-night we shall have the "Hidden Hand." The actors who play "Kathleen Mavourneen" so well, will play this better, and we hope and expect to see the Opera House filled.

Personal.

The following citizens of Wilmington registered last evening at the Central Hotel: Henry Nutt, Esq., Col. W. L. DeRosset, Col. S. L. Fremont and G. Z. French, Esq.

E. E. Levey, Esq., Secretary of the Business Trade Union, is registered at the Central.

G. W. Lawrence, Esq., of Fayetteville, Secretary of the State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, is in the city, and favored us with a call last evening.

Capt. B. B. True, of New York, the irrepressible Tom, and Col. H. P. Underhill, of Baltimore, are among the exhibitors at present in the city.

NEW FAIR OF THE CAROLINAS.

THE OPENING DAY OF THE EXHIBITION.

THE DISPLAY OF ARTICLES.

The Races, &c., &c.

Yesterday was as auspicious a day as could have been desired, for the opening of the New Fair of the Carolinas. Just cool enough to ward off any apprehensions of rain, and at the same time warm enough in the sunshine to be quite pleasant, it was all that could have been desired for the purpose for which it was set aside, by the managers of the Fair.

At 9½ A. M., the Charlotte Silver Cornet Band met on the corner of Trade and Tryon streets, and played several airs; after which the Marshals, under the direction of their chief, Walter Brem, Esq., formed procession, and moved off to the Fair Grounds. There being nothing on the programme until 2 P. M., visitors devoted their time to visiting the various departments, and to examining the various articles on exhibition. The crowd on the grounds was by no means large, but this was to have been expected, and while the visitors were few in number, compared with what they will be every other day this week, there was quite as many of them as we had expected to see there.

The exhibition of articles, up to the departure of the crowd from the grounds in the afternoon, was not very full, but it is rarely the case that anything like a full display is made the first day. But all day long, entries poured in, and by to-day, or to-morrow at the furthest, the halls will be pretty full. Floral Hall contains a number of attractive objects. Some of the handiwork of the ladies is very fine; a quantity of beautiful wax work is on exhibition; the embroidery is particularly noticeable; some of it is very original in design, and very beautiful. The buggies, top and open, and the pheatons, on exhibition, are more than creditable. They are from the shops of Messrs. J. W. Wadsworth, Charles Wilson and Joshua Trotter, of this city. On the left hand side as you enter the door, are among other things, hubs, rims and spokes, from the factory of P. S. Whisnant & Sons, of this city, which took a premium at the Atlanta Fair last month.

One of the most interesting departments in this hall, is that of mineralogy, which is quite full. Here, Dr. C. L. Hunter, exhibited 360 specimens of minerals a part of his cabinet, principally from the United States, many of them from North Carolina, but a few from Canada, Europe and Asia. Many of them were very fine and beautiful, more particularly, the crystals of amethyst, beryl, garnet, rutile, mica, corundum, &c., showing the wonderful variety of nature in this comparatively new field of scientific research. He also exhibited about 400 botanical specimens, a part of his herbarium, including 150 species of native grasses, now attracting considerable interest, as they properly should, in the agricultural community, all showing the great natural wealth of the old North State; Dr. H. also exhibited a small moccasin, with two well formed, distinct heads, from Gaston county. On the same side of the hall, were exhibited by Mr. A. D. Williams, unusually fine qualities of cotton, unusually well developed.

Sewing Machines from all the offices in the city, occupy no inconsiderable space in a corner of this hall.

Passing over to the other side, we come to domestic articles from various persons—jellies, preserves, cordials, &c., &c., and also the big $100 cake, which has been exhibited at many Fairs this season. It was sent here this day, if we are not mistaken, and should be seen by every one. Farther on, we find many other and various articles, of a miscellaneous character, which we cannot notice in a running sketch like this. Perhaps the most interesting exhibition of a garden product, is the lot of twenty pumpkins, which was raised by Mrs. J. R. Davidson, on one vine. In the middle of this hall, stands a table, containing a large quantity of silver ware, which will be given away as premiums. The stock presents a beautiful appearance, and adds greatly to the looks of the room. We shall have more to say of this department in our next.

The art gallery looks somewhat bare as yet. Here, Mr. Van Ness, our splendid photographer, has on exhibition, quite a number of his finest specimens. To the left of these, are paintings beautiful and carefully executed, which were entered by Gen. Rufus Bessinger, they are the work of Miss Long. Here, also, is a piece of splendid skeleton leaf work, from the same hand, which attracted no little attention yesterday.

On the wall, are crayon sketches, which show a high order of talent in this line, on the part of the young lady who drew them. They are a scene "On the Catawba" MOCKING BIRD, and are the workmanship of Miss Mary Bewey.

Up here, are splendid specimens of penmanship from Master R. S. Collins, of Steel Creek, and from Master Freddy Abiens, of Charlotte. This hall is adorned by a capital collection of flowers and plants set on a high stand in the middle. They came from the hot-house of that careful horticulturist, Mr. J. Bulooke.

We have not undertaken to notice all the articles on exhibition in Floral Hall, and in the art gallery, but have only referred to a few of the leading articles. We pass now to the poultry department.

Notable among the things here, are half dozen of wild geese, not wild geese proper, either, for all save one, which is a full blood, are half breeds. They are pretty, and a raught. Mr. J. B. Sachs also exhibits these, exhibits also a case of beautiful Albinoes, which are said to furnish the finest meats, almost, that is known. Dr. Columbus Mills exhibited half a dozen Pole and turkeys; they are pure white, rare and pretty objects. The wood-chuck duck is another pretty thing, as is also the Ruffpigeon; all of these are very rare, and should be seen. The collection of geese, turkeys, chickens, and other fowls, though small, is good.

Just along here, is a cage containing a female deer, which excited a good deal of notice yesterday. It was entered by Miss Kate Moore, of Gaston county.

The exhibition of stock is much better than it was last year. There are some very fine specimens of the brute creation, in the stalls on the grounds, but we are forced from a lack of space, to defer a notice of this department, until to-morrow, when it will receive full justice. Similar treatment will have to be put on the mechanical department. There are many things in these as in the other departments over which we have skimmed, which have to go unnoticed for the reason that we look space to tell of what is to be seen on the grounds.

The entire interest of the day centered in the race. This began at 2 P. M. It was a half mile running heat, two best in three, and the premium was $100—$75 for the first and $25 for the second. The entries were: Ned Buntling, Mollie Darling, Notre Dame, Ned Brace and Dew Drop. In the contest for positions, Ned Brace got the pole; Mollie Darling second, Ned Buntling third, Notre Dame fourth, and Dew Drop fifth. Buntling took the lead from the start and kept it through the heat; Mollie gained rapidly as they turned upon the home stretch, and her friends thought she would reach the pole first; but Buntling held his own and came out ahead time 52½.

In the second heat the horses took their positions as they had come in, to-wit: Buntling on the inside, &c. After two false starts the horses got a splendid start. Mollie Darling took the lead soon after the start, and maintained it to the end, coming in about a length ahead of Buntling, time 52½. Dew Drop came in second, Ned Brace third, Notre Dame fourth and Ned Buntling fifth.

The contest then lay between Ned Buntling, the winner of the first race, and Mollie Darling the winner of the second; the others quit the track. In the third heat Mollie went to the pole; she took the lead and held it, beating the horse easily a distance of not less than 2 dozen lengths, time 55. The Darling was thereupon declared by the judges the winner of the race, and Ned Buntling as the second best.

At the conclusion of the race, which was at times very exciting, the crowd dispersed, to await the proceedings to-day. Betting was pretty high on the race, and a good deal of money changed hands on the result. The track committee's programme indicates that two spirited races will take place this afternoon.

The programme for the proceedings to-day, will be found in another place. A larger crowd will be present, the number of articles on display will be greater, and, in short the Fair will be quite superior to what it was yesterday.

Big Guess.

We were shown yesterday several stalks of the Mexan grass which grew on the lot of Capt Tresselar, D. A. Jenkins, on Trade street, which stood seven feet high in its stocking feet, and the stalks which we saw are but a fair index to the whole lot. We also saw a specimen of wire grass which was pulled out of the ground in a lot in the city, measuring twelve feet in length.

Pool Selling.

The pool selling for the races to be run this afternoon, took place last night at Cochrane's Saloon. For the first race Flower Girl sold for $30, and Mollie Darling for $10—first chance $5; this is a running race, mile dash. The second race, mile dash, entries, Jim Hinton, Letitia Height, and Notre Dame. Hinton sold for $25; Letitia for $15, and the Dame for $7. On this race 30 pools were sold; quite a number were sold on the first.
