A PRETTY PAIR OF FEET.

TO MISS ——? WHO HAS A PAIR.

The eye aglow with splendor;
The brow as marble fair,
Caressed by silken tresses
Of softest raven hair;
The nose, of Grecian beauty,
With ruby lips beneath,
Through whose half-opened portals
Gleam gems of pearly teeth;
The face may render perfect
With loveliness replete—
Yet it must hide
Its charms beside
A pair of pretty feet!

The lips may lose their freshness;
The eye be deemed with tears;
The marble brow be furrowed
By sorrow, or by years;
The face of angel-beauty
Grow wan with grief or care;
The snow of Age may silver
The wealth of raven hair;
The features Time may wither
With desolating breath;
All else may fleet,
But pretty feet
Are pretty to the death!

STATE NEWS.

A doll at the Weldon fair brought $26 for the Oxford orphans.

Mr L W Kornegay, an excellent citizen of Duplin county, is dead.

On last Saturday James Stilley, near Germanton, Forsythe county, had his right hand shattered by the accidental discharge of a gun.

A pony ran away in Newbern on Wednesday, and as he turned the corner one of the wheels of the dray grazed the shoulder of Mr Jacob Gooding, Sr., knocking him down and shocking him considerably.

In his proclamation setting apart Thursday, Nov. 25, as a day of thanksgiving, Governor Brogden requests that collections be taken up in all churches that hold services on that day, for the benefit of the orphan asylum at Oxford and Mars Hill.

The Winston Sentinel says that on last Saturday night a row took place at some whiskey wagons which were camped on the outskirts of that town, which resulted in the boss of one of the wagons getting a lick on his head with a billet of wood that laid him insensible for nearly twenty-four hours.

Winston Sentinel: A young gent of our town on last Sunday sent a note to a young lady asking the pleasure of escorting her to church, and was much surprised to receive in reply a message from the young lady's mother, saying that her nurse had just undressed her and put her to bed. Not being well acquainted with the names he had addressed his note to a little four-year old sister.

The Newbern Journal of Commerce of Thursday says: A horrible accident happened at Goldsboro yesterday, as we learn by passengers on the down train last night. Mr Charles Nelson, the engineer in charge of the shifting engine of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad at that point, was crossing the track as the freight train on the North Carolina Railroad was backing down. The train was only a short distance off when Mr Nelson's foot slipped and he fell. Before he could recover his equilibrium, the car struck him and the wheels passed over him. His body was terribly mangled, and when it was taken from the track, life was extinct.

Wadesboro Herald: On the night of Saturday the 9th ult., while Cole's circus was at this place, some peddlers got into a 'fracas' with some of the crowd connected with the circus. Nothing was thought of it until recently a young boy who hauls freight from the depot, found under a pile of rails or brush a bundle, which is thought to have belonged to one of the peddlers. We also learn that there was a quantity of blood found where the row occurred. The peddler that the pack was thought to belong to has never been seen or heard of since. It is thought by some that the show men killed the peddler and concealed him in some way. There is certainly a mystery connected with it.

The Salisbury Watchman says: Sam Johnson the youthful slayer was before the Court on Monday last, and after hearing the testimony of the coroner, his little brother and sister, and one or two others, it was agreed between the Solicitor and counsel for prisoner, that a verdict for man-slaughter should be taken, and the punishment fixed by the court at four months imprisonment in the county jail. It appears to have been a case of unintentional and perhaps justifiable homicide. A difficulty was causelessly provoked by the brother who was killed, when one held Sam, while another beat him over the head with a heavy bed slat—which the judge pronounced a deadly weapon—and when he tore loose from them he "jobbed his knife into Fred," to use his own expression, producing the wound from which he died.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Dr. Richard E. Wylie, of Lancaster, was stricken with paralysis in the left side on the morning of the 2d instant. But little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The contract has been completed with the Roane Iron Company, of Chattanoga, Tenn., for enough iron to lay the track of the Chester and Lenoir narrow guage railroad from Greenville to Dallas.

An old well in a yard in Columbia, caved in on Wednesday night, carrying with it a patch of cabbages, to the great consternation of the owner, who looked forward with pleasure to the time when they would be ready for eating.

According to the News a meeting of the citizens of Winnsboro was to have been held on Tursday night, "to protest against the extortion, practiced by the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad against the interest of Winnsboro, Chester, Rock Hill and all shipping points on said Road."

A tramp answering to the name of John Dwire was picked up on the street of Winnsboro a few days ago. The next day, he was brought before the Mayor, cut in a state of great intoxication, and was sent back for 24 hours. The next day be was reprimanded and ordered to leave town. According to the News, Dwire says he was with Sherman when he passed through that section.

Chester Reportor: We are informed that a negro named Kinard, a teacher of a negro school near Carmel Hel., left town on Tuesday evening very drunk--too drunk almost to find room for himself in a four horse wagon, and nobody else in it. Now, what sort of a person is he to "teach the young idea how to shoot;" or, as Judge Mackey expresses it, to "spread the table of knowledge for the poor children of the country."

OF PHILADEPHIA,

THIS Company is purely mutual. No stockholders to absorb profits. Every policy holder is a member of the Company, entitled to all its advantages and privileges, having a vote at the annual election for Trustees. It is the safest company to work, because it gives satisfaction to its patrons for the reason that it has declared more Dividends in number and of a larger average percentage than any Company in the United States. Official reports show this. For example: Policy 16, for $5.000, has been paid to the widow of a Philadelphia merchant upon which twenty-three dividends had been declared, averaging (57) fifty-seven per cent. This Policy, at the end of 23 years, had the dividends been used to purchase additional insurance, would have been worth $11,046. Any reliable agent who wants to work for this company will address
