HAM SMELLING A BUSINESS,

Peculiar Occupation For Which Only Few Are Qualified.

The ham smeller's only tool are a long steel trier and his nose. He stands in a barrell to keep his clothes from being soiled by the dripping brine, and the hams are brought to him, and he pluuges his sharp pointed trier into them, withdraws it and passes it swiftly beneath his nose. The trier always goes down to the knuckle joint.

In testing meat in that manner the man with the trier judges by the sligest shade of difference between the smell of one piece of meat and another. The smell of the meat is almost universally sweet, and that is what he smells. The slightest taint or deviation from the sweet smell is therefore appreciable. It is not the degree of taint that he expects to find, but the slightest odor that is not sweet.

When he detects an odor, he throws the meet aside, and if it is not unwholesome it is sold as "rejected" meat, but if it is tainted it goes to the rendering tank. The ham tester smells meat from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock at night, and his sense must never become jaded or inexact or his usefulness would be at and end.

Ham testing is not a pursuit dangerous to the health' as tea testing is supposed to be, but the ham smeller with a cold in his head is like a piano player who loses his arm in a railroad wreck.

—Kansas City Star.

His Prestige Unbroken.

The eloquent Georgia orator, John Temples Graves, pays Mr. Bryan the following tribute:

"For Bryan and his great battle there is increasing love and admiration. No cause in the republic has had an abler or nobler leader than the cause and the men just fallen by the ballot. Time will vindicate the cause and the man who fought its battles.

'Somewhere, somehow, at some time. he will rise again.

"To me his worth is undimi.ished, his prestige all unbroken.

He is the last tribune of common people, and he is grander and dearer in defeat han he would have been in victory."

You may as well expect to run a steam engine without water as to find an active energetic man with a torpid liver and you may know his liver is torpid when he does not relish his food, or feels dull and languid after eating, often has headache and sometimes dizziness. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will restore his liver to its normal functions, nenew his vitality, improve his digestion and make one feel like a new man. Price, 25 ceuts. Samples free at J. J. Mardre & Bros store.

A Helpful Cry.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Now that election is over the newsboys are a little at a loss for "cries" calculated to help the sales of their wares.

But a youngster on a wade Park car exercised his ingenuity to good effect last Monday evening.

"All about Mark Hanna overcome by th' heat!" he shouted as he darted up the aisle; "all about Hark Hanna overcome by th' heat!"

And most of her passengers, "overcome" by the scamp's inventive genius, helped to reduce his stock.

WOMAN ON BULL'S BACK.

Rode the Animal in Payment of an Election Bet.

Chester, Pa., November 14.—Miss Emma Werntz, the pretty daughter of Dr. Werntz, a prominent resident of Ridley township, has paid an unique election bet and one that required great courage. Miss Werntz, who is employed by Mulford & Co., Glenolden, was an ardent Bryan supporter, and was so confident of his election that she agreed to ride on the back of a young bull, then grazing in the adjoining meadow, if McKinley won, and the wager was accepted The timid employes of the company appealed to Miss Werntz not to undertake carrying out the bet, Miss Werntz herself glanced askance at the bull, but the trip was fixed and the plucky young lady would not go back on her pledged word.

Last evening when the works shut down the employes gathered in the meadow; the bull was caught and gravely led out to Chester pike. The fierce looking animal was held with a rope and guided by a young man. Miss Werntz smiled bravely as her girl friends nervously clasped their hands. She was hoisted to the back of the bull. "Get up," shouted Miss Werntz had the calvacade moved down the pike, the fair rider carrying a banner bearing the inscription: "I lost on Bryan."

The bull gathered speed and ran to Ashland avenue, where the young man, assisted by others managed to turn him and he galloped back to the field. Miss Werntz was elated, although badly shaken up, and her girl friends cheered. "She's a 'ummer remarked a Yorkshire man. "Bring on yer bronchos," shouted a tramp who had viewed with open mouth the performance from the railroad.

The fashionable Parisian woman is now wearing a ring on the first finger, the marquise shape being in great request.

The woman who speaks to amuse us by speaking slightly of others is quite likely to use us for a theme on another occasion.

"Some old maids," says a witty modern writer, remind one rose leaves and lavender; others of bread and butter that has been cut too long.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: overwork and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

WHAT ONE WOMAN THINKS.

Somebody ought to invent a laughing cure.

It is a well bred man that is courteous to his wife as to strangers.

Why is it we can never see our own duty quite so plainly as that of others!

When a woman buys a new dress she is never satisfied until she gets a new hat too.

A man rarely asks a woman to forgive him; his repentance usually expresses itself in deeds not words.

Much of a success of a dress depends on the way it is worn.

They say every man has his price, but they all object to being sold.

The most curious thing in the world is a small boy who is not curious.

Red is the good luck color of the Chinese; they dressed a new born baby in bright red.

Pearls may mean tears, but there are few women who would refuse to wear them on that account.

It is a wise woman who does not insist on telling her husband that she knows she told him something he has forgotten.

The evrege men can never understand the pleasure a woman gets from trading a pair of trousers for a tin dish pan.

It is said that the difference between a man and a woman is this: That he keeps another's secrets, but tells his own, while she guards her own, but betrays another's.

A quant old English poem which gives a list of the various bad spirits which brings evil to the world concludes with the statement that a weeping woman with two black eyes is the wicked devil of them all."

Tears are one of woman's best weapons of defence.

In injury forgiven is better than an injury avenged.

A man is like the moon when he has reached his last quarter.

Most every young mother thinks her babe just a little smarter than any other woman's.

Many a woman dresses shabbily in the morning because no one but her husband is around to see her.

A New Book For Men

Special Arrangements whereby a Free Copy Can Be Obtained by Every Reader of This Paper.

For weeks the presses have been busy turning out the enormous edition of the book of Dr. J. Newton Hathaway's new book—"Manliness, Vigor, Health"—necessary to satisfy the public demand. Dr. Hathaway has reserved a limited number of these books, and therefore temporarily arranged to send free by mail to all readers of this paper who send their names and full address to him.

For 40 years Dr. Hathaway has confined his practice almost exclusively to diseases of men, and during that time he has restored more men to health, vigor, manhood and happiness than any ten other doctors in the country combined.

Dr. Hathaway treats and cures by a method entirely his own, discovered and perfected by himself and used exclusively by him, for Lost Vitality, Varicocele, Stricture, Blood Poisoning in its different stages, Rheumatism, Weak Back, all manner of urinary complaints, Ulcers, Rupture and Skin Diseases, Bright's Disease and all forms of Kidney Troubles. His treatment for underfed and restores lost vitality and makes the patient a strong, well, vigorous man.

Dr. Hathaway's success in the treatment of Varicocele and Stricture without the aid of knife or cautery is phenomenal. The patient is treated by this method at his own home without pain or loss of time from business. This is positively the only treatment which cures without an operation. Dr. Hathaway calls the particular attention of men to the treatment for Rupture, as introduced 27, 28, 29, and 31 of his new book.

Every case taken by Dr. Hathaway is specially treated according to the method, and under the great personal supervision and all medicines used by him are prepared by himself in his own laboratories under his personal oversight.

Dr. Hathaway makes no charge for consultation or advice, either at his office or by mail, and when a case is taken, the man low the money all cost of medicines and treatment.

Dr. Hathaway always prefers, when it is possible, to have his patients call on him for a heart and interview, but this is not essential, as he has cured cases of thousands of patients in all parts of the world who have never been near him. His System of Home Treatment is so perfected that he can treat absolutely cure as surely and thoroughly as though the patients dwelt thirty of the street.
