Dr. Charles E. Johnson, } Medical Board of
Dr. Wm. H. McKee, } Consultation.
Dr. R. B. Haywood, }
J. Herriman, Gen'l Agent.
This Company has received a charter giving advantages to the insured over any other Company. The 5th Section gives the Husband the privilege to insure his own life for the sole use of his Wife and Children, free from any claims of the representatives of the husband or any of his creditors.
Organized on purely mutual principles, the life members participate in the whole of the profits which are declared annually. Besides, the applicant for life, when the annual premium is over $30 may pay one half in a Note.
All claims for insurance against the Company will be paid within ninety days after proof of the death of the party is furnished.
Slaves are insured for one or five years, at rates which will enable all Slaveholders to secure this class of property against the uncertainty of life.
Slave insurance presents a new and interesting feature in the history of North Carolina, which will prove very important to the Southern States.
The last four months operation of this Company shows a very large amount of business—more than the Directors expected to do the first year—having already issued more than 200 Policies.
All Communications on business of the Company should be addressed to JAS. F. JORDAN, Secretary.

VALUABLE TURPENTINE LAND
FOR SALE.
SIX thousand acre of well Timbered pine Lands, situated, near the Salts, in McIntosh County, Georgia, fifteen miles from Darien, and forty-five miles from Savannah, on the Stage Road.
There are fifteen tasks of boxes cut on the tract, five of which have been worked but one year, the other ten tasks have been worked from three to four years.
The extreme distance to haul is about four miles on the tract. A distance of two miles from a good landing on the Sapelo River, (at which Vessels of 100 tons can load) is a good Turpentine Still, with all necessary wagons, teams, tools, fixtures and appurtenances.
A portion of this land is well adapted to the culture of Cotton, Corn, Cane and Rice.
On the property is a comfortable Dwelling House recently erected, and contiguous are Negro Houses, Stables, &c.
The settlement is one of the most healthy locations in the low country.
As a large portion of the tract remains unboxed, it constitutes a valuable reserve of pitch pine Timber which could be cut for exportation, rafted at the landing, and loaded twelve miles down the River in Vessels of 2 to 300 tons burthen, there being full sixteen feet water at ordinary tides on Sapelo Bar. If desired, a good Mill-site could be obtained on reasonable terms at a convenient point on the River.
For further particulars apply to Messrs. DeRosset & Brown Wilmington or Andrew Low & Company, Savannah.

LETTERS FROM THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Babcock has communicated to the press the following letters from Millard Fillmore. It will be seen that the President left himself very fully in the hands of his friends with respect to his nomination by the Baltimore convention. The letter declining the further support of his friends whenever they might deem that course to be prudent, is highly indicative of Mr. Fillmore's unambitious disposition, and is eminently patriotic.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 12th, 1852.

HON. GEORGE R. BABCOCK,
Delegate to the National Whig Convention, from the Buffalo District, N. Y.

MY DEAR SIR:

To you, as a personal and political friend, representing my old Congressional district, which has never deserted or betrayed me, I desire now to make a last request, and that is, that you present to the presiding officer of the convention for nominating candidates for President and Vice-President, whenever you may deem it proper, the enclosed letter, withdrawing my name from the consideration of that convention.

In determining what is a proper time to comply with this request, you will consider only the cause in which we are engaged, and the reasonable claim which my friends may have to the use of my name for its advancement. While I am willing to submit to any sacrifices for them or for the cause, I wish it distinctly understood that I ask nothing for myself, and you will, therefore, decide this question wholly regardless of any real or supposed wish of mine.

That my friends, to whose solicitations I have yielded in this matter, may not be prejudiced by my withdrawal, I have not thought it proper to disclose this intended act to any person but yourself, lest it might be said that in so doing I had not acted in good faith to those who have thought my name essential to the success of the Whig cause. You will therefore perceive that the responsibility is with you, and with you alone, to keep the whole a profound secret until the proper time shall arrive to present my letter to the convention; and of this, with full confidence in your prudence and wisdom, I constitute you the sole judge.

On the one hand, you will be careful to guard against any premature act or disclosure, which might embarrass my friends and give them just cause of complaint, while on the other you will not suffer my name to be dragged into a contest for a nomination which I have never sought, do not now seek, and would not take if tendered, but in discharge of an implied obligation, which every man assumes upon uniting with a political party, which is, to yield to the will of a majority of those with whom he acts.

I have the honor to be
Your friend and ob't serv't.
MILLARD FILLMORE.

WASHINGTON, June 10th, 1852.

To the President of the National Whig Convention:

SIR—This communication will be presented to you and through you, to the delegated wisdom of the Whig party over which you preside, by the Hon. George R. Babcock, who represents in your body the Congressional district in which I reside.

I trust that I shall be pardoned by the convention for adverting briefly to the course which I have pursued and the causes which have induced it, as a means of explaining why I have selected this time and mode of making this announcation.

All must recollect that when I was so suddenly and unexpectedly called to the exalted station which I now occupy, by the death of my lamented and illustrious predecessor, there was a crisis in our public affairs full of difficulty and danger. The country was agitated by political and sectional passions and dissensions, growing out of the slavery and territorial questions then pending, and for which Congress had as yet been able to agree upon no measure of Compromise and adjustment.

The Union itself was threatened with dissolution, and patriots and statesmen looked with apprehension to the future. In that feeling I participated most profoundly. The difficulties and dangers which surrounded us were calmly but anxiously surveyed. I was oppressed by a sense of the great responsibilities that rested upon me, and sincerely distrusted my ability to sustain them in a manner satisfactory and useful to the country.—But I was bound to make the attempt, and to do it with any hope of success, I felt it necessary to discard every personal consideration, and devote myself to the difficult task before me with entire singleness of heart.

To prepare and strengthen myself for this task I endeavored to lay aside, as far as practicable, every merely selfish consideration—to banish from my mind every local or sectional prejudice,—and to remember only that I was an American citizen, and the magistrate of the American Republic, bound to regard every portion and section of it with equal justice and impartiality. That I might do this the more effectually, I resolved within myself not to seek a re-election.

Thus prepared, I entered upon the discharge of my official duties, with a determination to do everything in my power to aid in the settlement of those dangerous controversies. Fortunately for our favored country a majority in both Houses of Congress, rising above mere party and personal considerations, nobly and patriotically devoted themselves to the great work of pacification.

The constitutional advisers whom I had called to my aid, and to whose fidelity, talents and patriotism, the country is chiefly indebted for any benefit it may have received from my administration, with a unanimity and zeal worthy of every commendation, cordially gave their countenance and influence to the legislative department, in perfecting
