HOME PENCILINGS.

The churches were unusually well filled Sunday.

The last of the legislative proceedings appear this morning.

The mayor's court adjudicated only one case, of trifling importance, yesterday morning.

Mr. Thos. H. Gaither is conducting a cigar factory on College street in the building over his store room.

The March number of Blackwoods Edinburgh Magazine has been received from the Leonard Scott publishing company, 41 Barclay street, New York.

Who will take the preliminary steps this year in the 20th of May celebration? The orator ought surely to be elected a month or six weeks beforehand.

The full proceedings of the Northern men's convention in this city will be issued in pamphlet form in about a week. N. Dumont will send copies to any address on receipt of postage.

Removal of George Pethel.

When it was found that it would be impossible to try George Pethel at the late term of Mecklenburg court, Judge Kerr ordered the sheriff to return the prisoner to the jail of Rowan, in which county the killing occurred. Sheriff Waggoner, of Rowan, came over yesterday and got the prisoner, taking him over on the evening train. It is not likely that he will be tried before August, as it is not probable there will be an extra term of the court.

The Linkhaw Murder Trial.

The trial of Miss Linkhaw for the murder of Ed. Hartman in Lumberton, will be begun in Robeson Superior Court this week. Judge McKoy will hear the case. The defendant has employed Col. Foster French, of Lumberton and Col. Duncan K. McRae, of Wilmington, as her counsel. It is understood that the defence will endeavor to prove emotional insanity. The trial will excite a great deal of interest in this section of the State.

Personal.

Judge Kerr is still confined to his room and is really very weak. He will be unable to hold Cabarrus court. The physicians are putting him through a course of treatment the results from which they hope will appear in a few days. His wife is expected to arrive today.

Mr. S. Frankford was aroused at breakfast time, Sunday morning, and was found to be unwell. He continued in a heavy stupor, and his condition is not at all satisfactory to his physician or his friends.

Mr. John Wolfe, whose venerable form has been missing from our streets for some time past, has been very dangerously ill, but yesterday was slightly improved.

Railroad Notes.

The contest between engineers as to who shall have the honor of having pulled the largest number of cars is still going on. George Garrison of the Carolina Central is now ahead. He went into Wilmington Sunday morning with forty-five freight cars, drawn by the engine "Cape Fear."

As an evidence of the abundance of the water supply on the Western North Carolina Railroad, it is stated that there is not a single water tank west of Statesville supplied by a well. The water tank pumper is a character unknown up there.

As engineer Baskerville, of the Carolina Central, was coming up, yesterday morning, he was presented, on the line, with a bill for $12.50 for a yearling bull which he had killed on the last trip down. Mr. Baskerville, however, was "not buying any beef to-day." The bill to make engineers and conductors on this road pay for cattle killed by their trains, failed in the House.

The enormous sale of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has had the effect of bringing out numerous similar remedies; but the people are not so easily induced to make a trial of the new article, when they value the old and reliable one—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

CITY FATHERS.

The Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

The board met in regular session yesterday afternoon at the mayor's office. Present, Mayor Smith, Aldermen Miller, Tatem, Moore, Sanders, Nisbet, Wilson, Butler, Weddington, Dowd and Scott.

Alderman Miller, of the finance committee, reported that he had purchased two copies of Emerson's city directory for the use of the city clerk and marshal, the matter of the purchase having been left to the committee.

The question of the taxation of Chess, Carley & Co's oil tank came up for discussion.

Alderman Moore explained his position in reference to the subject under discussion, and moved that the report of the committee at the last meeting, making the tax $25 for the current year, be adopted.

The motion was put and carried.

C. F. Harrison, representing the fire department, appeared before the board with a bill for five hundred feet of hose for the Neptune fire company, for approval, stating that the hose was guaranteed to last for three years, if properly taken care of, and to stand four hundred pounds of pressure.

It was understood that the city treasurer would pay the bill ($475) if the committee to whom the purchase was entrusted would approve it, after the test had been applied.

Alderman Dowd presented a petition from the Pioneer fire company, asking that the city place them on an equal footing with the Hornet fire company, in reference to the feeding of the horses which they propose to purchase at an early day. The company had on hands funds for the purchase of the horses and for preparing stables, &c., which funds had been collected by contributions.

The petition was granted.

Mr. C. F. Harrison, representing the fire department, also, in behalf of the Pioneer and Hornet companies, stated that the companies were sadly in need of hose; that what they had on hand was not sufficient for ordinary uses, and was liable at any time to burst. He therefore asked that six hundred feet be purchased for each company.

Alderman Scott moved that the request be granted and that the hose be purchased in the same manner as that for the use of the Neptune company, and the motion was carried.

It was understood that the old hose and fixtures could be sold for a small sum and that the receipts therefrom would be devoted to defraying the expenses of this purchase.

A petition was read from the cotton buyers of the city, requesting the board to continue the cotton inspector in office for two or three months, if not for the entire year, on the ground that nearly all the cotton brought to the city by wagon was taken to the platform between the hours of 10 a. m. and 1 p. m., and that the weigher would not be able to inspect and weigh the cotton without great inconvenience to farmers by the delay which would necessarily result.

The board, on motion, resolved to continue the inspector for one month longer.

Alderman Scott introduced the following ordinance and asked its adoption:

ORDINANCE IN RELATION TO COCK-FIGHTING.

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Charlotte: That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, within the limits of this city, to engage in the practice of cock-fighting with gaffs, whether such fighting be accompanied with betting or not; and every person who may hereafter engage in such practice within this city, shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a penalty of $25 for each and every offense, to be recovered as other fines and penalties for violation of the ordinances of this city.

Be it further ordained, That any person who shall suffer or permit any other person or persons to engage in such fighting of cocks on his, her or their premises, or at any place occupied by them or under their control, shall be subject to a like penalty for each offense. And any fighting of cocks as aforesaid within said city, being proved shall be accepted as prima facie evidence against the owner or occupant of the premises wherever such fighting takes place.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the 1st day of April, 1879.

The ayes and noes were called, the rules were suspended, the ordinance put upon its three readings and passed, Alderman Tatem casting the only vote against it.

The Alderman Scott also introduced the following ordinance, which passed its three readings under the suspension of the rules, and was ordered to be recorded:

AN ORDINANCE IN RELATION TO TRAMPS.

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Charlotte: That hereafter any person coming into this city, whether with the intention of remaining, or merely as a "tramp" or temporary sojourner, and who, being without visible means of support, shall attempt to beg his way, or shall be found skulking about the premises of any citizen, or shall be shown to have stolen his transportation to this city by secreting himself about the cars or trains of any railroad leading to the city, or who shall be proven to be acting as a vagrant or tramp, and does not show in a satisfactory manner his honesty of purpose, or otherwise disprove presumption that he is a vagrant or tramp, as aforesaid, shall be taken to be one of the army of tramps, and shall be subject to a fine not to exceed $30 and imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, at the discretion of the mayor; and that he be placed at work on the public streets of the city under supervision of the superintendent of streets.

The ordinance, which prohibits any person from depositing the carcass of any animal on the streets was modified so as to give one-half of the fine for such offense to the informer. The board also instructed the marshal to consider dead fowls as falling under this head.

In this connection, Alderman Moore, chairman of the sanitary committee, called the attention of the mayor to the fact that this was the time to begin to enforce the sanitary regulations in relation to cleaning up premises, opening out ditches, etc. He said that already disagreeable odors had been noticed, and that unless the proper steps were taken now, citizens would suffer from the effects of a malarial atmosphere.

On the recommendation of the marshal, the ordinance in relation to the discharge of fire-arms and fire-crackers within the city limits, was modified so as to make the penalty $10 instead of $25, and to give one-half of the fine collected to the informer.

The mayor called attention to the fact that the term for which the extra police had been employed expired the first of the present month, and that on his recommendation they had been continued in service until the board should meet. He suggested that they be retained.

It was decided, on motion of Alderman Moore, to retain them until the first of May.

Adjourned.

DIED.

Kyle Summey, infant son of J. W. and Rose W. Stevens, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Funeral services at residence corner 10th and Cemetery Avenue, this morning at 9 o'clock.

A Frightful Death.

Death yesterday overtook Mr. Thos. Neal, a young man of Sharon township, under shocking circumstances. The youth, aged about seventeen years, a son of the late Wm. Neal, had been plowing during the morning, and after dinner started to the field to resume his work, riding a spirited horse which had on him only the plow gears. About a hundred yards from the house, up the public road, the horse took fright, turned around and went running back down the road. The young man was thrown, his feet catching in the gears, and a moment later, his sister, standing on the piazza, saw the animal shoot past the house at fearful speed, and heard with horror the frantic shrieks of her unfortunate brother as he was dragged along the highway and tossed from side to side.

From the residence of Mr. Edgar H. Walker, toward which the horse was going, the road is perfectly straight for some distance in the direction of Mrs. Neal's, and Mr. Walker, standing in front of his lot, saw the riderless horse charging toward him and soon discerned the form dangling by his side. Calling a colored man to his assistance, the two placed themselves across the road, and springing at the affrighted horse as he reached them, they threw him upon the fence on the side of the road and held him fast. The foot of young Neal was disengaged from the chain which had held it, but his release came all too late. He gasped thrice and died.

The horse had run with him half a mile, and the face and body were shockingly bruised and mutilated. The skull was broken above the left eye and again behind the left ear; the nose had been split in twain; the clothes had been torn from the upper portion of the body, and from the waist to the neck there remained hardly a square inch of skin. What agony he must have endured during the few brief moments while dashing helplessly along by the horse's side, can never be known nor imagined.

The tragic affair created intense commotion in the neighborhood, as the news of it spread from house to house, and the grief of the mother and sisters of the young man is perfectly uncontrollable. In their great and sudden affliction—an affliction rendered doubly severe by its suddenness and its shocking character—the family have the profoundest sympathy of the entire community.
