

Have You Met Our Federation-Foundation Staff?

By Doris Edelstein

Regina Herzog

The newest member of the staff is Regina Herzog, the comptroller for both Federation and Foundation. She came to Charlotte last year from Miami where she was Assistant to the Dean of the School of Nursing at the University of Miami. Born in Poland, Regina was raised in Brooklyn, N.Y. where she attended Adelphi Business School.

Asked if she missed living in New York, her response was, "Not at all. I think that Charlotte is a really good place in which to live. I'm happy to be here."

Her husband, Richard, is District Sales Manager for Ben Shaftall Health and Beauty Aids of Savannah. She has two children, Bari, 15, and Kenny, 13. Her love for animals is very apparent, as residing with the Herzog family are three cats and a Labrador Retriever who has taken to mothering the cats.

When you visit the Armstrong House, why don't you stop in and introduce yourself to Regina...she's the one you can usually find busy at the computer.

Gloria Hunter

When you call the Federation/Foundation offices, you are usually greeted with a cheery message from Gloria Hunter. Gloria says that she loves her job as secretary for Federation/Foundation because, although it does become hectic at times, the people...staff, volunteers, committee workers...are so interesting to be with.

A native Charlottean, she took night classes at Kings College, then worked for an insurance underwriting firm before coming to Federation two and one-half years ago.

Listening to music is a great joy for Gloria, and, she says, "I'm into weight lifting, doing the exercises I find in my son's fitness magazines." Her son, Foster Cameron Hunter, 14, is a student at Cochran Jr. High School. An artist, Foster's painting of Martin Luther King Jr., done in honor of Dr. King's birthday, is the only one of him on display at Little Rock AME Zion Church during Black History Month. Of course she glows with pride when she speaks about his achievements, as she does also about her daughter Courtney, 4, who goes to Young World. Being a working mother, she finds that Courtney is under excellent supervision, with the care being gentle but firm. They spend as much time together in the evenings and on weekends as possible.

TO LIFE: "Taking Charge of Your Health"

This year's annual Spring Conference will be held on March 14-17 at the Marriott Hotel-Tyvola. TO LIFE will bring together some of this country's outstanding speakers on the subject of living life fully. Keynote speaker will be Dr. Gerald Jampolsky, author of the international best-seller "Love Is Letting Go Of Fear." Dr. Joel Goodman, editor of "Laughing Matters," will look at the application of "Humor In The Work Place"; Dr. Lawrence Leshan, noted researcher, will explore "Taking Charge Of Your Health."

TO LIFE is one of the many organizations which receives funding from The Charlotte Jewish Federation.
