Road Builders Convention.

RALEIGH, June 18.—A call for a convention of road builders is issued by F H Hanes, President of the N. C. Good Roads Association, S L Patterson Chairman of the N. C. Road Commission, and W C Riddick, Professor of Engineering and Road Construction in the A & M College.

The purpose is to effect a permanent association of Road Engineers in North Carolina and thus promote the cause of road building as well as the professional and personal interests of road builders. The Convention will be held July 21st at the A & M College, Raleigh, during the Summer School. There is a course of instruction in road building in the Summer School, which the delegates to the convention will have an opportunity to observe.

Tickets for one fare may be bought July 20th good to return till August 1st. It is hoped to have a large attendance of road supervisors. A very attractive and instructive program will be offered.

City Court, June 18th.

Will Fisher, a colored man abused an officer and was fined twenty dollars, and three fifteen costs.

Alex Wetherington was drunk, but as he was orderly judgment was suspended.

Two other cases, one drunk, and one for fast driving was called. Being the first offense in each case the parties were let off by paying costs.

Potatoes Will be High.

The Fruit and Produce News of New York thinks potatoes will be high all season. The great floods of the west have destroyed the crops of the Kaw valley and American bottoms around St. Louis. The crop in that section was cut short by the frost even before the floods came. This is the time for shipment of this crop, but it will not come now before July.

The News thinks users of potatoes from the west must come east for their supplies.

Kentucky is said to have the finest crop in its history.

Thus far all of the early potatoes have brought good prices, and the News expects prices to remain good.

It is now planting season in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and they are expected to plant heavily, owing to high prices, but this crop is late marketing.

Britain's Postal Banks.

The fact is odd that the post office savings banks of Great Britain are technically insolvent. Their deposits at the end of the year were $700,000,000, their assets only about $670,000,000.

Nobody worries about a little thing like that; the government is responsible. Of course the discrepancy rose from the high prices the department was forced to pay for national bonds before the Boer war. The lowering of the rate of interest allowed is an obvious cure.

The postal banks were authorized in 1861, and nearly ten millions were deposited the first year. Some later developments are curious. By the "slip" system a sum so small as 2 cents can be deposited. Deposits can be withdrawn by telegraph. School savings banks are recognized, but are not very successful owing to the superior attractions of sweets as a medium of investment.

A feature of the postal banks is that through their agency depositors can buy small fractional portions of government bonds.

First Indian Jackie.

The first full blooded Indian to serve at League Island navy yard is now doing duty on the Minneapolis. He is known in the Crow tribe, of which he is a member, as Great Whitebear and is descended from the Indian chief of that name. Whitebear, as he is called, at the navy yard, enlisted as a landsman. He was educated at the Carlisle Indian school.

"I have been here two days, and the officer had placed me in charge of a squad," said the Indian Jackie, with great pride, when asked how he liked his experience so far. "I felt when I left Carlisle that I would like to do something for my country, and the life of a sailor appealed to me, so I enlisted. They make a good American of you at Carlisle. I believe the discipline and training of the navy will be a good thing for Carlisle graduates, and I hope other Indians will follow my example."

Castle Cheerios.

One of Miss. Humbert's creditors, a green grocer, recently put in a claim for the sum of $100 for goods supplied during the period of three months. One item in the account has attracted special attention at the Palais de Justice. It is a charge of $100 for a cheery line uttered by Miss. Humbert in the month of January and which cemented, it appears, the little promotion, as it was brought into her dining room covered with flowers on the occasion of one of her celebrated dinner parties.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Jumps From Second Story Park Hotel. Was Drunk.

RALEIGH, June 19.—Somewhere about three o'clock this morning, Martin J. Nordstrom, a Dane, attempted suicide by jumping from the window of his room on the second floor of the Park Hotel here. He came in about mid-night drunk, and went into an opposite room where he talked to some companions.

He returned to his own room and his friends think made the jump to the sidewalk somewhere about three o'clock. He was found on the sidewalk by the police officers who took him to the station house, found who he was, and telephoned for his employer, who has charge of the decoration of the Capital Club here. He was then taken to a hospital where it was found that his skull was fractured, leg and arm broken, and that there were internal injuries.

Nordstrom was a decorator and had been here nine weeks. His injuries are considered fatal. He left a note to his employer showing he intended to commit suicide. His home is in New York.

BLADES.

June 17.— Miss Nellie Barker of Stella, and Miss Davis of New Bern who have been visiting Mrs. C D Morton at Neuse River mill, have returned to their homes.

Mrs I N Howard who has been spending some time with her parents at Newport, has returned to her home. Her little son, master Harry, is still in Newport with his grand parents.

Quite a number from this place attended the M E Quarterly meeting at Oak Grove, last Sunday. They report a very pleasant time.

Misses Laura and Sadie Conner, who spent last week visiting relatives in this section have returned to their home at Riverdale.

Mrs Annie B Edwards and daughters who spent last week visiting at Mr G A Conner's have gone to New Bern. They will go from there to their home at Edward N C.

Mrs Caroline Taylor and daughter, Miss Ella of Neuse River Mill spent last evening at this place.

Favor.

A Mean Scoop.

That's a most astonishing story coming from Durham that a robber visited the office of the Morning Herald in that place and scooped in $30 in cold cash. The Herald boys will soon be classed with the plutocrats.—Ex.

As the above "scoop" took place a few days previous to Editor Rollins, of the Herald, marriage, the large amount of cash in the office safe is accounted for.

Scholarships at A. & M. College.

Examinations for admission to the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh will be held July 9th, 10 a. m., in every county Court House in the State by the County Superintendent of Schools. The result of these examinations will be considered in awarding scholarships at the college. Each county is entitled to as many scholarships as it has members of the House of Representatives.

Rockefeller Can't Lose.

Pierre, S. D, June 18.—The Standard Oil Company has raised the price of oil in South Dakota one cent a gallon in order to counteract the effect of the law passed by the South Dakota Legislature securing a test for kerosene.

St. John's Day Celebration at Oxford.

St John's Day, Wednesday, June 24th, will be celebrated on the grounds of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. The Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina will meet at Oxford on that day.

An address will be delivered by Hon. W W Kitchen, of Roxboro.

The children of the Oxford Orphan Asylum will add to the pleasure of the occasion by their sweet singing.

Many will bring baskets and enjoy an old fashioned basket picnic dinner in one of the most beautiful, oak groves in North Carolina.

Barbecue dinner will be sold on the grounds.

A favorable opportunity is offered by these annual celebrations for Masons and all of our people to visit this institution, which has, since its establishment thirty years ago, contributed its benefits upon more than 3,000 destitute, homeless, orphan children and which today is caring for over 300 boys and girls.

Special rates will be given.
