Federation Pursues Multi-Faceted Programs

stitutions and organizations is grappling with a wide variety of ways to enhance existing activities and programs as well as to create new ones.

Social Services is a classic success story. A waiting list of clients for vocational, geriatric, and family counseling has resulted in the hiring of Dr. Marvin Weber, a second professional counselor, who will work half time in support of the work done by the Social Services Director, Mrs. Adrienne Rosenberg. Almost 500 different addresses (that's a way of saying families or single individuals) have been served out of a total list of 1600 addresses

Women's Division is moving strongly in the area of a Business and Professional Group designed to meet the special interests of this emerging large contingent of community members without competing with the existing women's groups.

Community Leadership Development is another area in process both for potential leadership in any aspect of the community and for support for current leadership. This summer, Federation will assist teens wanting to attend special programs and institutes in Israel to do so through the distribution of $2000 in scholarship funds.

And the list goes on...the recent concert of the Amranim, Israeli singers, cosponsored by the Federation, JCC and the Israeli Tourist Bureau; the third Annual Community

Afikomen Hunt cosponsored with the JCC; Social Services' recent series on "Coping with Aging Parents" also cospon-sored with the JCC.

In the fall will come the 1986 Campaign with its whirlwind of activities, speakers, special events, socials, Super Sunday and Superior Sunday, all utilizing the combined efforts of more than 150 dedicated volunteers. The funds raised and allocated from the Campaign make possible the programs and services of such institutions and organizations as the Blumenthal Home, BBYO, Hillel, Lubavitch, the JCC, the Academy, as well as additional here in Charlotte, around the nation, in Israel and around the world.

So much more than a knock on your door! The Federation and all its activities call out to you, reach out to you, every day. Answer that call and become a strong Jew, a stronger person and help strengthen our community.
