COTTON SAW GINS.

Straight RIBS vs. Crooked.

Uniformity of Roll, &c.

ALTHOUGH the advantage of the straight rib in the COTTON GIN has been discovered for more than twenty years yet it has not been sufficiently known or appreciated by the planter. The advantage consists simply in this: that the ribs when worn, can be moved down to where they are not worn, which answers the purpose of a new set of ribs. Three moves can be made, which gives four wearings, which is equal to four sets of ribs. So that a purchaser having in view prospective expense, would lose the price of three sets of ribs if the ribs of his gin were not moveable. Any planter with common intelligence can move the straight ribs himself, and thus obtain all the benefit of a new set of ribs.

The greatest uniformity can be obtained in the roll by giving the ribs the proper angle, the effect of which is, to throw the weight of the roll more upon the rows than upon the seed board, and by adjusting the seed-board so as to prevent the seed, which once detached, from re-uniting with the roll; this improvement has been made by the subscriber within a few months.

With regard to fast picking gins, the greatest amount of lint is obtained in two ways. First, by having long teeth lying as nearly parallel to the surface of the saw as possible, so that the teeth entering the ribs so much point foremost they are obliged to carry all the cotton through that they get hold of. A fifty saw gin with these sort of teeth on a nine inch saw has ginned eight bales per day. The second plan is, to form the breast so that the teeth meets the ribs nearly at right angles, and thus packs the cotton into the teeth of the saws. This plan is very straining on the saws, and causes a much heavier draught. Whether the cotton is injured by an overstraught speed, the planters must judge for themselves. The subscriber will furnish to the planters of this and adjoining Districts, Cotton Gins equal in durable value to any in the country. Delivered at Chester, York, or Charlotte, or any landing on the road for $2 per saw. Tooth brushes of my gins are covered with tin; which adds much to their strength and durability.

All orders promptly attended to ☞ Admission Fifty Cents; children and servants 25 cents. Doors open at 1 and 6. Performance to commence at 2 and 7.

JIMMEY REYNOLDS.

The ORATOR of the Ring on the Lead.

Immense Feats of Equestrianism, Strength and Elegance! Only one star in the Firmament shine more brightly, appearing more Beautiful than Venus rising from the Sea."

M'LLE. FRANCK VIC,

The Fairest Equestrienne, who introduces her unique of Effin Ponies—so small as to be wonders of nature, so graceful as to claim universal admiration, so novel in performance as to surprise all beholders!

Madame Showles, The English Lady delineator of the Scenes of the Tournament and Chivalry, will represent the Queen of "Love and Beauty," in the days of Ivanhoe, and Ashby de la Zouche.

Mlle. Franck Vic, changing from her gentle introduction of the Miniature Steeds, so elegantly graceful, will excite the astonishment and even fear of the audience, by performing the wild unruly and fierce Mexican Pet Horse

EUREKA.

And show that careful training can cause the fiery Steed of the desert to become submissive and obedient to a beautiful and innocent girl.

GREAT EQUESTRIAN.

Who has not heard of the accomplished, Mr. O. Dale, the renowned graceful Rider and One Hundred Somersett Man! His great achievements make him the favorite of the Ring.

MR. W. J. SMITH,

A Six Horse Rider of such renown that comparison or description are equally futile to do justice to the great scene of horsemanship and acrobatic power he daily enacts—he is styled the De-Hunter of the Mountains.

MR. J. SHOWLES.

The Hercules of the Arena—the wonder of the age—the strong man of the mountain cave—in horsemanship, will induce many a cheer, and create many an anxious surprise in his several distinctive acts.

MASTER CHARLES SHAY,

The Nicaragua Juggler—in a host of delusions, novel and wonderful, an adept in the great art of various deceptive Feats—will amuse, interest and instruct the old as well as the juveniles.

THE VENDEAN BROTHERS.

An immense act of Suspensions, Clingings, Posturings, by the two Herculean Artists. The greatest feat ever invented, will be performed by the renowned inventors Mr. Chas. Morrison, and John Foster, on a pole thirty feet high. Mr. Morrison will perform some of the most extraordinary feats ever beheld in this country, which has won for him the appellation of the Aerial Contortionist.

JIMMEY REYNOLDS.

The Clown of the North, the South, the East and the West—the "first offending" or fun, the merriest merry-makers in the world for a hearty Laugh—the Prince of Good Fellows, and companion of the laughing spirits of the age—announces distinctly that at each performance he will cause the audience to shake hands with the Comic, Educational Trick, Kicking, Fast Going, High getting up, Slow getting down, Rolling over, Standing upon a Mule.

Horton Colon Polly takes a gives, whose performances show that the much abused Male tribe have more sense than many that run them down.

MR. W. WALKER

Will direct and introduce the many favorite Dances and Forces, which will close with all spirit, each entertainment.

GREAT ATTRACTION OF THE SEASON.—Mlle. Franck Vic, among the splendid acts, she will introduce, will dance in conjunction with the favorite Clown, Mr. Reynolds, a superb divertisement entitled the Fairtation Polka.

☞ The New Orleans Double Brass and String Band, will execute many splendid and popular airs from the best and most approved masters.

Money Lost—Look Out!

ON the 21st day of May last, I inclosed sixty five dollars in a letter which I addressed to Jacob Seagle, Esq., at Morganton, N. C., and had the same registered in the Post Office at this place. Said letter did not reach its destination and I have not since heard of it. There were three bills of money in it, one fifty dollar bill on the bank of Wadesboro, No 300 and dated July the 1st, 1854, one ten dollar bill on the bank of Cape Fear, and one five dollar bill on the bank of Fayetteville. I will give a handsome reward for the recovery of said bills or for any one of them or for evidence which may lead to the detection and conviction of any one who may have purloined them from the mails.
