THE GOOD-BYE

"George—George!"

"Well, what's wanting now?"

The young husband opened back the door knob, and there was impatience in his tone and annoyance on his brow as he answered his wife's call.

"Nothing, papa, only baby and I just want to kiss you good-bye," and she came towards him, the little, graceful, sweet-voiced woman, with her baby in her arms, and held up the small, soft face to his cheek, and the little one crowed, and thrust up its dimpled hands and grasped the short, thick locks triumphantly.

"Oh, baby, you rogue, you'd like to pull out a handful of papa's hair, wouldn't you, now?" laughed the merchant, in a tone so unlike his former one that you would not have recognized it, and he leaned down and kissed the small fragrant lips over and over.

Now it's my turn, papa," and Mrs. Williams smoothed away the rumpled hair, and kissed her husband's forehead; and as he went out of the house that morning a new softness and peace had erased the troubled look from the man's face.

And that day it was appointed to George Williams to pass through a sharp and fearful temptation.

He was in the midst of a commercial crisis, and several of his heaviest debtors had failed that week, and now a payment of ten thousand dollars was due, and there was no way to pay or raise the sum ——

He held the pen irresolutely in his sinking hand. The veins were swollen into great blue cords on his forehead, and the breath came thick and fast between his hot lips; a few strokes of that pen, a solitary name at the bottom, and the young merchant could secure the ten thousand dollars, and his business credit would be safe.—There was no sort of doubt, too, but he could raise the money within a few days, and thus secure himself from all discovery, and the pressing circumstances of the case certainly allowed some limits to huckstering.

So whispered the tempter, as he walked up and down the soul of George Williams, always softening down the word forgery into some false name, which totally changed to his perceptions the moral complexion of the deed he was about to commit.

The young merchant's eyes glared all around the office, but there was none to see him then; he dipped his pen with a kind of desperate eagerness into the tall precious inkstand, and drew it along the paper, when suddenly his hand paused, struck by a sudden thought—the memory of his wife's kiss that morning.

He saw her as he saw her last, standing in the door, the baby in her arms, her sweet face full of motherly tenderness and wifely trust as she lifted it to him in parting.—The voice of the tempter passed away before that rush of better emotions which blurred the young man's eyes. He dashed down the pen—"Mary! Mary! you have saved your husband, alas or shame. I will not do this deed; I should blush for shame to meet your eyes and our baby's to-night, if I carried the burning consciousness in my own soul, though another man ever did or would know it. Mary, my little wife, you won't know it, but that good bye kiss of yours this morning has saved your husband from this great sin."

George Williams did not sink. It was a hard struggle, but the storm passed by without falling on him, and he did so many others, and Mary, his wife, never knew that she had saved her husband from a sin which, in her eyes, would have been worse than death.

The good which we have done we shall know, not here, but hereafter, and the loyal and truest lives are those which strew all the years with the sweet aromas of loving and self-sacrificing deeds.

As the water lilies take root and grow silently amid the slime and mud in the low waters, until in the midsummer they open their evening cups to the soft pre-dawn of the sunshine, and lie in honey fullness on the bosom of the stream, the glory and consolation of all flowers, so amid the confusions of life, among its shadows and mists, have we also to sow day by day our small seeds of gentle and generous deeds, not knowing when they take root, or expecting to behold their unfolding into blossom on the river of time.

Ah, ye who sight to set your lives within the arabesques of great and noble deeds, who pant for broader horizons and higher opportunities, God has appointed you a work where you are.

Every day lifts its white chalice out of the night, and it is laid down to you through all its hours, silent-footed hours, for those small labors of love, whose true significance and relations we shall only understand in eternity.

And in this small, daily labor lies much of woman's work, and her sweet home influences fall like sunshine and the evening dew upon the characters around her.

She may little comprehend what a silent force of healing, restraining, strengthening influence she is exerting, and periods of unrest and despondency may fill many hours with shadows, which would be illuminated with joy and thanksgiving, if she could only "know as she is known."

But the pictures of all lives are locked up in the eternal gallery, and the angels hold the keys, and when God's voice speaks the word, the doors shall be opened, and when we go in we shall all "behold" and understand.

THE CREDIT SYSTEM.—A beautiful girl stepped into a shop to buy a pair of mitts.

"How much are they?"

"Why," said the gallant but imprudent clerk, lost in gazing upon her sparkling eyes and ruby lips, "you shall have them for a kiss."

"Agreed," said the young lady, pocketing the mitts, and her eyes sparkling daggers, "and as I see you give credit here, charge it on your books, and collect it in the best manner you can." So saying, she hastily tripped out at the door.

☞ Some forty years ago a respectable Irish company of Volunteers was named the "Erin Musketeers." During its brief existence they met to spend a social evening. After the supper was disposed of, a prominent member was called upon to speak, and responded as follows: "Mr. President, I am no speech maker, but will give you a sentiment. "The Erin Musketeers, equal to none; the first on the field, and the first to leave it!" It is needless to add that he intended to say that the company was equalled by none; the first on the field, and the last to leave it.

YES YOU MAY

USE OR RECOMMEND

Heimstreet's Inimitable

HAIR COLORING!

AND FIND IT TO BE

promoting the strength and growth of the Hair, and giving it all the beauty of youth. Do you doubt it?

Read! Read! Read!

SCHOOL LANE, ESSEX CO., N. Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir:

Having used your Hair Coloring or Restorative, now being more pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness, which about 18 years of age, my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very much my chagrin. Last Summer I had occasion to visit Troy, thinking, when I was in the city, I would purchase the bottle of Heimstreet's Hair Restorative prepared by you. I took moments using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to see that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color.

MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co., ss.—Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this the day of February, 1858.

JOEL F. POTTER, Justice of the Peace.

FITZROYO, VL., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify, that my hair having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Restorative, (prepared by W. E. HAGAN, of Troy, N. Y.) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims.

WM. KINGSLEY,

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

Mr. W. E. HAGAN: I have used Heimstreet's Hair Restorative for three years, and have found it to be a most excellent article. It not only restored the color of my hair, giving it new life and strength, but it cured myself and wife of a most obstinate eruption on the scalp, which nothing else seemed to benefit. I fully believe it to be the best article in use. Yours Respectfully,

KNOWLTON HOWLAND.

The above are but a few of the many letters of recommendation which have been addressed to the proprietors of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring or Restorative. It has been used by thousands of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of the hair. This singular effect is not produced as other dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter of the roots, and thus effects the change. The color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin.

Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

CHARLOTTE HOTEL,

BY

J. B. KERR,

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

THE Proprietor of this Hotel is still at his post ready to furnish visitors of "mine host" to the travelling public and others who may call on him, and he flatters himself that as comfortable quarters can be found with him as any where in this vicinity. Being situated nearly in the centre of Charlotte, Business Men will find this Hotel a most convenient and desirable location. He has been engaged in the business at this stand nearly eighteen years, and in that time he has made several additions to his former house, and it has been greatly enlarged and improved, presenting in front a two story VERANDA 100 feet in length by 12 feet in width, handsomely shaded by trees on the side walk, affording a pleasant promenade at all hours of the day.

The House has been thoroughly furnished throughout, and in every part of it creature comforts are abundant and tingible, especially in the DINING ROOM, where the "inner man" is "renewed" day by day.

Connected with this Hotel are Stables affording room for 100 horses, abundantly furnished with grain and provender, attended by faithful and obliging hostlers.

The Proprietor feels confident that with his long experience and many new advantages added to his desire to please, he is prepared to offer his friends and the "rest of mankind," as many comforts and as much good cheer as will be found anywhere, perhaps a little more so.

☞ Always call on the Charlotte Hotel.

MOTHERS

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of

It contains

As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics, of which all other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, bear in mind that DR. ## Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound formula, to which we have added a portion of the most efficacious alteratives that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances as will greatly enhance its curative powers. It is offered as an alterative, for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is required by those who suffer from the complaints for which it is recommended, and that those who have tried the common Sarsaparillas, and find no benefit from them, will be induced to try this, from the confidence they have in the curative powers of the ingredients of which it is composed. How completely this compound will fulfil what has been promised by experience in many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

SCROFULOUS AND SYPHILITIC COMPLAINTS, RHEUMATISM AND GOUT, SKIN DISEASES, ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TETTERS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOLOREUX, DYSPEPSIA, DIZZINESS AND DEPRESSION, BILIOUSNESS, BOILS OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from DEBILITY OR THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at this season of the year. By the thousands of them many troubling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the continuance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to get rid of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disease is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with the pulsations of life diseased, there can be no lasting health. Some of life's enjoyments are marred, and the great machinery of life is deranged or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has long been much the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the thing which has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, purporting to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During the years the public have been supplied by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar, most of these have been found upon the shelves, for they had only contained bottles, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. It was, before and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly suspected, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. We call this compound Sarsaparilla, and believe it to supply such a remedy as shall remove the cause from the blood of scrofulous humors upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has various which are unknown to the ordinary run of the disease it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

EXPEL THE DOUBTS OF ALL.

For Statesmen, Jurors, Lawyers, Physicians, the oldest citizens as well as the youngest of both sexes, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and skin, but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being grey, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—

OAK GROVE, S. C. June 24th, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have not occasion to lay it aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddle against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a terrible blow; causing a great deal of suffering which commenced to the brain and extended across the head, from the effects of which my hair was nearly white as you see the white extends of the head. From the time I first commenced stopping, however, up to the time of its old appearance, I employed everything I could hear of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was totally unable to give any permanent relief.

Some and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produces a healthy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as ever saw, for which I cordially give you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers, wherever, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,

M. J. WRIGHT, S. D.
