Good Reading.

The reader will find upon the first page of this number of our paper, a beautiful piece of poetry, from Blackwood, entitled "Cass Wappy;" a nice little story, from Harper, "Bertha Holmes;" a "Curtain Lecture," (hope none of our readers need anything of this kind,) and a number of other interesting and entertaining articles. We commend "Cass Wappy," especially, to the readers attention.

Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad.

The work on this road is now progressing rapidly. Quite a number of hands are at present engaged in laying down a portion of the rails. The track, as far as it has been laid, looks exceedingly well, and the road when completed, will compare favorably with the best roads in the country. "Push along, keep moving."

Mountain Eagle.

We have received the first and second numbers of the "Mountain Eagle," a handsome and well printed paper just started in Shelby, Cleaveland County, N. C., and edited by Messrs. Thomas J. Eccles and Sam S. Ross. We wish them all the success imaginable, and hope that they may not find "Jordan a hard road to travel."

A Chance to Invest.

The proprietor of the "High Point Reporter" offers for sale his press, type, fixtures and good will, if application be made soon. The "Reporter" is said to enjoy a good circulation, a fair advertising patronage, and the usual amount of job work. The proprietor wishes to engage in another business.

Gardening.

The citizens are busy (such as have begun) putting their gardens in order. We wish them all good luck. Already, visions of "corn and peas," and "such like," are dancing before us.

☞ The reader is referred to the table under editorial column for the latest election news. It may not be strictly correct, but it is really as near as we could make it under the circumstances.

SUN STRUCK.—An editor down South writes himself sun-struck, and says he is improving, though the blow was a heavy one—an eleven pounder.

☞ A new Post-office has been established in Alamance county, called "Union Ridge."

☞ Everything passed off quietly in Raleigh on election day.

☞ The Hornet's Nest Riflemen were out on drill on Saturday last.

LITTLE OR NOTHING.—Especially, neither—Abe Lincoln.

LATE NEWS!

Southern Congress.

MONTGOMERY, March 2.—Congress admitted the Texas delegates with full privileges as members, to-day. There was a long session this morning, about a reduction of tariff. Congress was in secret session several hours, and be again in secret session to-night.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Large numbers of the late Government employees, Southern Senators and Representatives are preparing to go South.

Mr. Dudley A. Mann leaves for Montgomery and New Orleans this morning.

The Secretary of War issued a general order this morning, dropping General Twiggs from the rolls of the army for disloyalty.

Over a thousand Northerners and Westerners are pouring in every day, and the city is already full.

Highly Important from Texas.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Despatches received in this city from Texas, state that Sam Hill has refused the demand of the Texas Commissioners to surrender Fort Brown or any of the public property. He went to Ringgold Barracks for reinforcements to protect the public property on Brown Island. A collision is imminent. The Counties heard from are almost unanimous for secession.

BY THE MAILS.

Important from Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, February 26.—The bill appropriating one hundred thousand dollars for placing upon a complete war footing Forts St. Philip and Jackson, on the Mississippi River, passed the House to-day, unanimously. In the debate, war was boldly said to be inevitable.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The fight of the Abolitionists over the spoils is becoming desperate. It is understood to-night that Chase and Cameron are for peace, and will go into the Cabinet.

Lincoln spoke last night at a serenade. He was very prodigal in his blessings, promising peace, happiness and equality.

The leading Abolitionists are beginning to talk of the Southern Confederacy, as if they view it as a great reality. Never mind, a large majority of them are for war.

Lincoln is evidently backing down since his arrival here.

Ex-Secretary Thompson's expose of Buchanan and Holt is the theme of general conversation around the hotels to-night. The Treasury is suffering to-day under the game. It will be empty to-morrow.

There is an immense swarm of Yankee office seekers now in the city. How Lincoln means to satisfy them all is a problem.

REPUBLICANS IN THE HOUSE LETTING DOWN—NO WAR.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.

SENATE.—Crittenden, from the select Committee, reported back the Peace Congress propositions, with a recommendation that they be submitted to the State Legislatures. Seward, from the same Committee, dissented, and introduced a resolution to prohibit a National Convention. Crittenden's report is the special order for to-morrow.

HOUSE.—The House reconsidered the vote yesterday on Corwin's proposition for a resolution that the State Legislatures amend the Constitution to the effect that Congress shall have no power to interfere with slavery in the States. Stanton, author of the Force Bill, moved a reconsideration. He said he would recognize the independence of the Confederate States sooner than go to war with them. His object was to keep the border States in the Union. The Republican party ought to make sacrifices for them. Corwin's resolution was then voted for and carried by over two-thirds, amid prolonged and rapturous applause from floor and galleries.

ILLUMINATE YOUR ALBUMS.—Nearly every young lady has an album, and if the young who reads this has not one, we would most sincerely advise her to get one.

We give a very interesting method by which an album may be handsomely illustrated and we trust our readers will try the experiment, as we have been to considerable trouble to procure the following directions.

Take a sheet of paper, and rub over it the thinnest possible film of oil; then hang it up in the air to partially dry the film.—Next cover the paper with lamp-black soot, or soot from a large tallow candle, by holding it extended over a smoky flame, and pressing it gently, but with care, into the flame, in order to cover the paper with smoke, but, of course, so as not to set it on fire. Having done this, put it into a damp place to take the curl out, and when cold and flat, lay on the smoky side the leaf intended to be impressed or printed; then press with a soft wad every part of it, so as to take up a portion of the black; this finished, place the leaf gently on a leaf of drawing paper, and put a piece of paper and a weight of books, or pressure upon it.—When the whole is removed, there will appear a very beautiful black impression, resembling a lithograph, of the leaf so treated, showing its outline, its veins, and fibre, quite distinct and true to nature. Fleshy leaves of animals, and similar plants, are better to copy than evergreens.

300,000 Select Fruit Trees
FOR SALE.

ARE the citizens of the Southern States aware that the people of the Northern and Northwestern States are making fruit one of their leading articles of trade, and that in a decade and still to a great extent very inappropriate for fruit culture? Then why should not the citizens of the Southern States make Fruit, dried and green, one of the leading objects. Fruits grown under our South in sun are noted for their size, fine flavor, and brilliant color.

The above statements are fully sustained by premiums taken over Northern Fruits, and the great amount of green and dried fruit sent North and Northwest by the Southern States during the last few years. Those of the above statements are fully sustained, and it is no sin, according to the Bible, to make money by raising Fruit, then send forward your orders and cash to Westbrook and Mendenhall and they will furnish you with good marketing stock.
