Adam Cohen, son of Ruth Cohen and Melville Cohen, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the Women in Communications group.

Marc Huberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Huberman, a sophomore at Charlotte Country Day School, has been chosen as its 1985 representative to Leadership School-Hugh O'Brien Foundation.

Jeff Estroff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Estroff, has made the spring semester Dean's list at NCSU.

At the April 18 Math Contest held at N.C. A&T State University, Dalya Massachi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Massachi, placed third in the Algebra II division. She is a sophomore at East Mecklenburg High School.

Stacey Schefflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marty Schefflin, is a student at Memphis' Lausanne Collegiate School, where she's a junior in high school by morning, and one of the South's top junior tennis players by afternoon. She just completed a stint in the 16-under division where she was the top-ranked player in the South. Now in the 18-under division, she represented North Carolina in San Diego at the Seventeen Magazine Tournament of Champions. During the summer she will be preparing to play in such regional and national tournaments as the N.C. state qualifying tournament in Winston-Salem, the Southern championships in Nashville and the nationals in Memphis. We're "rooting" for you Stacey!

In the State High School Debate Tournament, recently held at Independence High School in Charlotte, Myers Park sophomores, Danny Shmikler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mitschele, and Daniel Brenner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Saul Brenner, ranked high in novice debate.

Danny and his partner won the state championship. Danny was also the fourth best individual speaker. Daniel's team was in the final four and he was rated second best individual speaker.

Operation Moses Story On WTVI and Cablevision

Sunday, June 9 at 4:30 p.m., WTVI, Channel 42 (Cable Channel 5), will show the half-hour film, "Operation Moses." This story of Ethiopian Jewry and its rescue by Israel, was filmed and produced by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

It takes the viewer on a trip through time to trace the origins of this 3000-year-old Jewish community. Then it takes viewers on a trip from persecution and starvation to freedom and the start of a new life in Israel.

Along the way you will be amazed to learn of Jewish kings and queens who built empires in the heart of Africa. You will see and come to understand this proud, handsome people with whom we share a common heritage.

Operation Moses will be shown on Cable Channel 3 on June 13, 7:30 p.m.; June 17, 6:30 p.m.; June 27, 8:30 p.m.; July 2, 9 p.m.; July 6, 3:30 p.m.; July 17 & July 25, 7 p.m.

A video cassette of "Operation Moses" is available for loan from the Federation office. Call 366-5007, M-F, 9-5.

Joint Adult Institute: Successful Experiment In Enrichment

The second six-week-session of the Joint Adult Institute in Jewish education has come to a successful conclusion. In the words of one student, "Going to JAI classes has become an enriching experience in my life. It has increased my attachment to Judaism and has given me an expanded awareness of Judaism which I can instill in my children."

"That was the exact goal and purpose of the JAI," said Ruth Goldberg, chair of the Federation Outreach Committee which coordinated the establishment of the JAI. "We know from the over 100 evaluation forms we have received back from the students, that this student's sentiments are shared by all her fellow learners."

"We have tapped into two wellsprings. The first is a yearning on the part of so many in our community to fill in the missing pieces of their Jewishness and Jewish knowledge. The second is the well-spring of skilled, talented Jewish educators we have in the form of our Rabbis, direcbeekeepers, busy carpenters, electricians, plumbers and skilled craftspeople from dozens of trades and occupations. Like a beehive, their work will be hidden, but we will benefit from the sweet results.

During those months of hidden work, Bob will have to focus his attention on the landscaping and finishing touches going on on the total site. He will be able to sit and watch the waving fields of grass on the playing surfaces and the sun glinting off the hard surfaces of the tennis courts, the outdoor pool, the roads and the extensive parking lots.

So to Bob, and all the other weekend and weekday "sidewalk supervisors" who have come to look in pride and wonderment, we apologize in advance for going into "construction seclusion," but we know they will understand and, along with the entire Charlotte community, wait in anticipation of the day when the last stone is set in place and both the outside AND the inside of the Project are opened for use.

tors, educators and knowledgeable community members willing to share their knowledge."

Formal evaluation and planning sessions are now being held in expectation of the 1985-86 JAI sessions. Involved in the planning will be representatives of the sponsoring institutions: the three temples, Lubavitch, JCC, Academy and Federation.

"We expect to offer our first semester in the fall, right after the Holidays," said Goldberg. "That is a time when Jewish motivation runs the highest. When we offered our first JAI semester this year in February we attracted over 80 students. When we open in the fall our goal is to double that figure. Based on word of mouth alone from this year's students, our goal can be reached and even surpassed."
