Yiddish: Charlotte Reaches Out

By Bobbie Pollard

The Charlotte Yiddish Institute, revivers of interest in Yiddish in Charlotte, does more than run a successful yearly Yiddish Institute at Wildacres and a Vinkle here, it reaches out to help the regrowth of the Yiddish language throughout the world. From the start, this group has raised funds to strengthen Yivo Institute for Jewish research; The League for Yiddish; The Forward and other publications; Yungntruf; National Yiddish Book Center; World Council for Yiddish and Yiddish Culture (scholarships for Yiddish teachers) and scholarships for students and young couples to attend the Institute at Wildacres.

Now a new and exciting cause has been added to the list, a Chair in Yiddish Studies at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

The Charlotte Yiddish Institute invites you to become a Tyereh Mensch (a dear person) by sending your donations to support these causes. All gifts will be acknowledged with a beautiful new philanthropy card, specially designed by Abraham Luski, and it will be sent to anyone you wish to honor or the family of someone you wish to memorialize.

Checks should be made out to Charlotte Yiddish Institute/Jewish Community Center, and mailed to P.O. Box 13369, Charlotte, N.C. 28211-0080.

Hebrew Academy Offers Home Start Program

By Arny Pickholtz

Beginning this fall, the Hebrew Academy will be offering a unique educational enrichment program geared to all pre-school age children in the Piedmont. The Home Start program was conceived by Rabbi Hyman Chanover and consists of easy to read, beautifully illustrated, full color booklets created for each of the major Jewish holidays and the Sabbath. Included in the kits are corresponding play and learn magazines, parent handbook and cassette of Jewish songs and stories.

The program is being introduced to the Charlotte community by Roz Segal, vice president of education at the Hebrew Academy. She says, "This is the best Jewish program of its kind in the country. I believe that every Jewish parent should take the opportunity to look at this unique educational tool. A parent and pre-school child can, together, discover the beauty of Jewish ritual and prayers."

The total cost of the Home Start program is $12.95 and includes participation in special Hebrew Academy Holiday Centers, set up when the holiday packets are picked up. Roz also says, "The Holiday Centers will provide an opportunity for the children to participate in arts and crafts, cooking and stories which are related to these materials. They will be available on specific afternoons in September, November, January, February, March and May."

The idea of bringing the Home Start program to Charlotte was born when board members began looking for ways to develop an education program which could be offered to the community at large. Eleanor Weinglass, Director of the Hebrew Academy says, "We want to involve all young children in the excitement and celebration of our Jewish holidays." For information about the Home Start program, call the Academy, 366-6390 or Roslyn North Carolina Hebrew Segal, 365-4581.
