6 o'clock in the morning; a large berg, and created some sensation among the uninitiated on shipboard.

June 17.—Passed through a great deal of small berg ice.

June 18.—A few minutes after midnight ran into a floe ice, the Arctic in tow; by the sudden stopping of our ship, the Arctic ran into us, tearing away our stern ornaments, but doing no dangerous injury; got clear of the Arctic and bored through the field and got into clear water; at 4½ o'clock A. M. ran into another field of ice and sprung the bowsprit and carried away the bobstays; got through this very well. The fact of so much ice in this latitude, 51 degrees, and longitude 51, it was considered an indication of a severe season, which was found to be correct. The ice here made it necessary to unship the wheel and use the tiller. During the struggle through the ice, cast off the Arctic after being run into, and she was bored through in another direction. Vessels joining again.

June 19, at noon.—Spoke the Arctic, but found the ice had not injured her in the least. This day, also, passed through much ice. Latitude 53.21, longitude 51.2, dropped the Artic, and hoisting all sail, stood to the northward. Nothing of note till

June 22.—When there was no occasion for light in binnacle or cabin, it being daylight for twenty-three hours. This was in latitude 59.1 longitude 50.56, the same place in which the Rescue and Advance, the vessels attached to the expedition under Lieut. de Haven, foundered before.

June 23.—Very little ice; only one berg; at 12 o'lock at night about as dark as twilight; on this day discovered land; it was found to be the high land above Desolation Land—an awful place.

June 24.—This day discovered the coast of Greenland—a bleak, dreary coast; was now two hundred miles above Cape Farewell; the old Arctic crusers observed that there was more snow here than ever observed before, which indicated a most severe season; here discovered various beautiful bergs, in all shapes and sizes; among others, saw what was named Grace Churchberg, being so called from its resemblance to the celebrated Broadway edifice; all the officers called up to see it; the ice in all kinds of figures, and beautifully brilliant.

From the 24th of June to the 4th of July, saw a great number of whales, also saw all kinds of Northern fowl; these Greenland ducks rise in clouds; two of the officers, on a gunning expedition of six hours secured twelve hundred pounds, which was the amount brought on board, but only about one-third of the amount killed.

July 2.—This day the sun descended to within its disc of the horizon and then rose again.

July 5.—Made Kroupins Island; Disco Island in sight; crew all well and in good spirits; no sickness yet nor discouragement; anchored in Leavely harbor, Disco Island; the Royal Dalish Inspector, Mr. Olap, came on board and offered the hospitality of old North Greenland to all on board: Leavely is a town of about 150 inhabitants, composed of about one dozen Danes, and the rest half breed Esquimaux; stayed here five days and had a ball every night, Sunday included; all enjoyed themselves; the girls very pretty; the inhabitants an industrious, honest people, and very hospitable; two of the daughters of the august house of Broberg, Misses Sophia and Maria, visited the ship one evening, and were entertained with a supper and dancing and other amusements; as strange as it may appear, these girls dance within a skill and grace that a Broadway belle might envy; imagine the novel sight of a lot of belles dressed in seal skin breeches; the young men are good performers upon the violin, and dancing and balls are the main amusements; everything was novel to the uninitiated.

July 10.—Left this port, both vessels standing out to sea, the Arctic towing the Release. Stood out of the harbor for Waygat Straits for a new supply of coal; very foggy; saw a white whale lying dead upon the beach; was grounded here, and not being able to get off died at this spot; going through Waygat Sound kept firing guns for each vessel's instructions as to the whereabouts of the other.

About the 14th, made Harrow Island; on this day observed a boat coming towards us, which we supposed to be Dr. Kane's party; in great delight we hauled our wind and stood for them; found the party to be the venerable Dane, Mr. Peterson, one of the Governor's of these Northern regions; of course this was something of an event, the meeting of any one being worthy of note in such a latitude; Governor Peterson took us to Harrow Island, where we took in our supply of coal; coal here is found in great quantities; this coal is excellent to burn; Capt. Hartstein himself went into the mines with a pickaxe and worked like a man; stayed here a day and a half; wind blew a hurricane.

July 15.—Cleared Waygat Sound; spoke two whalers, who said they had vainly tried to get through Melville Bay; they considered the prospects for the expedition very bad.

July 16.—Arrived at Upernavik; went ashore to purchase winter clothing and get different kinds of skins; the officers ascended the heights near Upernavik, and as far as the eye could reach could see nothing but ice; this argued bad for the expedition; Gov. Peterson was here our interpreter; the people here supposed our expedition was Kane's party, and were greatly delighted with the idea of his safety; their hopes for Kane were crushed when they ascertained who we were. Same day got into the ice again, and within sight counted two hundred and fifty of the largest kind of bergs, perfect mountains of ice. The scene here exceeds all belief; Governor Peterson's family lived here, and the husband and father being away with Dr. Kane, they were very anxious about him; they had heard by whalers that he had gone to England and got married again. We were now compelled to bore through the ice, which we were engaged at for several days; we were still on our voyage for Melville bay; still kept a vigilant search for the lost navigators; observed no traces of them along our journey so far; the night was in the greatest degree sublime; at this time continued our journey northward 78.30 north latitude, to Smith's Sound; this was farther northward than any vessel had been before; here we found traces of Kane's party, such as tents, sails, &c.; the natives knew their names and said they had been there, but had two months before gone southward in boats; we tried to make Beach Island to put up the tombstone that Lady Franklin had entrusted the party with; found it impossible to get to Beach Island on account of the ice; we then gave up the idea of reaching Beach Island, and now for the first time turned southward to Pond's Bay, in search of Kane; cruised here for a month and a half and then started for Upernavik; found it impossible to reach there; we then continued on our course southward again to Leaveley where we arrived on September 13th.—Here, as soon as we came into port, we saw a boat coming off to us, which proved to be Dr. Kane. He had arrived at Leavely a few days before us. For months, or since leaving Pond's Bay, we had seen traces of him and knew that his party was ahead of us. It finally appeared that Dr. Kane, on his way south, had passed the expedition. The meeting can be more easily imagined than described. We remained at Leavely a few days before we started for home, where we went [illegible] balls and dances at [illegible] we had p[illegible] amused ourselves on our way northward.

September 18th.—We all [illegible] at the success of our expedition, and set sail for home.—Our journey homeward does not vary in incident from our journey northward.

A man by the name of Bradley was murdered with an axe by a Mr. Williams, a few evenings since, near chester, S. C. It appears that the parties were wagoners from this State, traveling together; that Williams had been drinking for several days; that on the evening of the occurrence he and deceased, with a son of the and two of deceased's were encamped together; that Williams rose in the night, and, while Bradley was sleeping, clove his head asunder in two places: and that he then fled and made his escape. It is supposed that he was in a fit of délirium tremens. Mr. Bradley is said to be a man of much respectability, of McDowell county, where he has a large family.—Wil. Herald.

THE FAYETTEVILLE FEMALE HIGH SCHOOL.

This Institution was opened last Monday with every assurance of success. Over 60 scholars were present at the opening. A first-rate beginning. The school deserves success, and it will receive it. See advertisement in another place.

We have frequently heard the celebrated German Bitters, sold by Dr. C. M. Jackson, 120 Arch Street, Philadelphia, spoken of in terms of the highest commendation, and we honestly believe that it is one of the best medicines advertised for the complaints for which it is recommended. They are pleasant to the taste, and can be taken under any circumstances by the most delicate stomach. The press far and wide, have united in commending this invaluable remedy for dyspepsia, debility, etc.; and such are the healing effects of this panacea, that we hope it may be introduced to every family where dyspepsia has or is likely to have a victim. See advertisement.

☞ INVALIDS suffering from the effects of Fever, Bilious Disease, or any complaint of a Dyspeptic nature, of any kind, will find Carter's Spanish Mixture the only remedy which will revive their drooping constitutions, expel all bad humors from the blood, excite the liver to prompt and healthy action, and by the tonic properties, restore the patient to life and vigor.

We can only say by it. A single bottle is worth all the so-called Sarsparillas in existence. It contains no Mercury, Opium, or any other noxious or poisonous drug, and can be given to the youngest infant without hesitation.

See the certificates of wonderful cures around the bottles. More than five hundred persons in the city of Richmond, Va., can testify to its good effects.

See advertisement.

Kingsbury is situated at the terminus of the Fayetteville & Raleigh Plank Road, eleven miles from the former place, and within three miles of King's Landing on Cape Fear River. These premises offer more business conveniences and comforts for living, perhaps than any country seat in Cumberland. On them is a neat two-story family mansion, containing seven rooms—a fire place in each, with front and rear piazza and portico, frame kitchens, sleeping apartments for servants, smoke house and dairy, with a prime well of water; and all handsomely enclosed. Also, on the premises are nine other frame buildings, with brick chimneys to each, and rooms sufficient to accommodate from fifty to sixty negroes; a frame Barn 50 by 60 feet, with stalls for forty horses, and rooms to hold 50 tons of forage; Carriage house, Store and Ware house, Water Grist Mill, two Cooper and two Blacksmith's Shops, Wheel Right Shop, Turpentine Sheds, &c.; all within convenient distance of the best Springs of Sandhill Water. All the buildings are new and have been erected within the last four or five years. To these valuable improvements we will add 1,500 acres of Pine Lands, and we will take $8,500 for the whole, which is $1000 less than the cost of the improvements. We have also, on the premises, and now in operation, a Steam Saw and Grist Mill, and Turpentine Distillery, which can be bought cheap.

If the right sort of purchaser presents himself, and wishes a partner in his operations, we will furnish one with sufficient capital to conduct a profitable business.

To a Planter who has $14,000 to invest in real estate and wants the best Plantation on Cape Fear River, with a healthy country seat with all conveniences for living at hand, these premises would be a very desirable attachment to the Aske Plantation, containing seven hundred acres of the best Cape Fear bottoms, and now in market. These two Estates are connected by a good Ferry Landing and are only three miles apart; and will be sold together or separate. For further particulars apply to T. S. Lutterloh, Esq., or the subscribers.

Stop the Thief!

STOLEN

From my Lot in Richmond County, on Sunday night last,

My HORSE.

Said horse was an iron-gray or brownish color; he had marks of gear on him, and his fore-top cut off very short; he was shod on the fore feet, walked fast, is a [illegible] trotter, and would amble; there was a white [illegible] on his back, on the right side, about [illegible] eight inches square; also, a small wart on the [illegible] a little below the white spot.

The horse was taken by a man calling himself John Campbell, who says he was raised in Pitt county, and has been in this neighborhood about two years: he is a cooper by trade, and says he has worked in Turpentine all his lifetime; he is a little round-shouldered, has a stout body for a little man, and will not weigh as much as first stated, but about 145 or 150 pounds; has a very mean look, is very fond of negro company, and his conversation has a good deal of the negro mixed with it.

I will pay $10 for the delivery of the horse, or $50 for the thief. I will also reward any person for any information that will lead to the recovery of either.
