The Conference Platform.

The following is a correct copy of the platform adopted at St. Louis by the labor conference:

FINANCE.

1. We demand a national currency—safe, sound and flexible—issued by the general government only; a full legal tender for all debts, public and private; and without the use of banking corporations; a just and equitable means of circulation, at a tax not to exceed two per cent, as set forth in the sub-treasury plan of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system; also, by payments in the discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

a. We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver.

b. We demand the amount of circulating medium to be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

c. We demand a graduated income tax.

d. We believe that the money of the treasury should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand all National and State revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of government, economically and honestly administered.

e. We demand that Postal Saving banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of earnings of the people and facilitate exchange.

LAND.

2. Your sub-committee upon the land plank, beg to submit to your approval the following: The land, including all natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all people, and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other coporations in excess of their actual needs and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only.

TRANSPORTATION.

3. Transportation being a means of defence and public necessity, the Government should own and operate roads in the interest of the people.

a. The telegraph and telephone, like the postal system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

While some parts of the above address may seem at a mere glance to make partisan political distinctions, yet upon careful study one will clearly see that it is non-partisan, and further, will be impressed with the truth of its promises, and the ability of the committee who framed it. It was adopted with only a few dissenting votes, and the platform was adopted unanimously, and received with great applause. The conference having completed its work as a representative body, and adjourned sine die.

Attends a Picnic at Sharon and Has a Big Time.

Correspondence of the Watchman.

Verily this is harvest for poor newspaper men when they can get into the country where they can raise picnics. We had a special invitation last Thursday to attend one of the good old fashioned picnics at Sharon, eight miles out of the city. Mr. W. G. Steele, one of our next representatives from this county, kindly offered to come by the den and take us out in his phaeton, the same one that Bro. Harris said would have silver spindles and gold nuts attached. Mr. Steele expects to have that done, and he is not going to leave it standing close to a newspaper office when he comes to town unless he can get a squad of Pinkerton cut throats to watch it; Bro. Harris can note that. We found crops looking well, but the drouth has hurt them in spots. We noticed that the poor deluded farmers had worked out their crops thoroughly. We arrived on the ground at ten o'clock and found the beautiful grove dotted with sturdy old farmers, matronly looking old ladies and as pretty a lot of rosy cheeked young girls as any part of the county can boast of. I suppose there is nothing wrong in talking this way as neither the Sharon girls or Mrs. R. will be likely to read this article, any way I have told the truth and that will be a great satisfaction to me if I should get into trouble about it.

Well, as this was an Alliance picnic it was agreed that politics should not be in it, notwithstanding it was understood by some that there would be a people's party speaking at eleven o'clock. Mr. W. G. Steele was called to the stand and made a ringing speech of one hour on the finances of the government, going back one hundred years and coming up to the present, showing how our lawmakers had cut and dried legislation for the past twenty years for the benefit of the speculator to the detriment of the class who create the wealth. At the close of Mr. Steele's speech the committee announced that a table would be spread by the ladies, and the meeting adjourned for one hour. In due time dinner was announced. I will attempt to describe the dinner, although I did not go there to write much about it, I went to taste it. I will just say that the dinner was prepared by the same crowd of ladies that I told you about in the first part of my letter, and they were Sharon ladies, that is sufficient. I will tell you there was no politics in the dinner or the eating. There were people's party men, democrats, republicans, prohibitionists, free silver advocates, men in favor of income tax, Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, Psalm singers and such like, but the only way we could distinguish them was by their eating, not by their conversation. The Methodists got nearest the chicken, the Baptist near the water bucket, the Presbyterians and Psalm singers went for the apple and peach pies, you know they have the regulation juice in them; there were a few present with silver rings in their nose, which they are compelled to wear to keep them from rooting in Wall street currency trough. It had no effect on them in eating. Everybody was in a good humor and left the table with tears in their eyes because they could not eat more than half the rations that was spread before them. After about an hour of promiscuous talking the crowd assembled in the hall and the doors opened to anybody to speak for fifteen minutes on any subject they pleased. A few responded and the mass kept silent. After the meeting adjourned we opened the subscription books of the CAROLINA WATCHMAN and had the pleasure of taking in a fine list of new subscribers. At four o'clock, after partaking of some fine grapes and melons of the people's party variety, which were furnished by Mr. J. P. Alexander and Mr. C. M. Coffin, we boarded the silver spindled, gold nutted phaeton and returned to the city feeling that it was good for us that we had been at Sharon.

Mamma—What in the world are you two quarreling about?

Little Dick—Nothing.

"Nothing, eh?"

"Yes'm. Dot left her box of candy here an' when she came back there was nothing in it."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. ARIZONA KICKER.

How the Postmaster's Fate Was Decided.

IT MUST COME.—We shall have to shoot the postmaster of this town, and we shall have to shoot him stone dead. We have sought to dodge the issue in every possible way but it will not be dodged. Two years ago, when he was appointed, we stated that he was teetotally unfit for the position and ought to refuse it. It wasn't three months before we had to shoot him in the shoulder in the interest of our subscribers. Four months later we felt it our duty to shoot him again to expedite the mail service. Ninety days since we got the drop on him again, and but for promises of reform we should have created a vacancy in the postal service. Saturday last we received a score of complaints from subscribers regarding their non arrival of their papers. The package for Lone Tree had not reached that office at all. Cinch Valley was sixteen papers short. Of eighteen papers sent to Turkey Bend only eight went through. We called at the postoffice to make our statement and ask for an explanation, but the postmaster refused to see us. He sent out word that he was running that shebang, and if we didn't like his style we could move on to the next town. He also added that if we came prancing around again he should open on us through the general delivery window with two rifle shooters.

Saturday evening we called a meeting at the Kicker office, which was attended by twenty-two of our most prominent citizens. We made our statement of the case, and after considerable discussion the following resolution was presented by Judge Baxter and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the duty of the editor of the Kicker, as a man, a citizen and an editor, to shoot the postmaster on sight."

We do not wish to rush affairs of this kind. Sunday afternoon we sent a copy of the resolution the postmaster and asked him to get his official affairs in shape as soon as possible, and Monday morning we telegraphed Mr. Wanamaker that there would probably be a vacancy to fill before the week was ended. We owe a solemn duty to our subscribers, and we shall not shirk it. When a person subscribes for the Kicker we guarantee to get it to him regularly every week, even if we have to clean out two or three post offices to do it. Should the postmaster call at this office and make a reasonable excuse and promise better things for the future we should probably be inclined to leniency, but it doesn't show up within a day or two there will either be a new editor of this paper or a new postmaster in the shanty on Apache avenue.

AS A SOUVENIR—From and after Sept. 1 each subscriber to the Kicker will receive as a souvenir a beautiful lithograph 8 by 12 inches, of our private graveyard by moonlight. There are ten graves in all, five on each side of the main walk. The whole lot is a beautiful grass plot, with trees, shrubs and flowers in profusion, and a white picket fence surrounding the lot. The total cost up to date has been about $1,000, but tourists who have traveled in every country declare that they have seen nothing to compare with it. We believe there is an editor somewhere in Idaho who has a private graveyard with three graves in it, but we have been told that he killed his victims with a pickax while they were drunk.

The lithograph represents a full moon shining down upon our p. g. and bringing out every detail as clearly as if seen under the noonday sun. A sort of halo is thrown upon each grave, and the trailing arbutus and blossoming violets produce a softness of detail which goes right to the heart of the beholder. We wanted our artist to show the figure of our esteemed contemporary looking over the fence and kicking himself because he never shot anybody in his life, but there was no room. The following is the list, as printed on the back of the souvenir.

No. 1—Bad Man Johnson, from Montana, who wanted to kill an editor on general principles.

No. 2—Unknown pilgrim, who got two shots at us before we could draw, but fired too high.

No. 3—Not fully identified, but supposed to be Sam White, of Nevada. Drew on us because we accidently spit on his boots on a windy day.

No. 4—Unknown pilgrim, who threw a rock into our bedroom window at midnight and then foolishly waited around to see if we were going to come out.

No. 5—Colonel Bill Hastings, from Scott's Valley, who called and demanded a retraction and began shooting before we could make it.

No. 6—Joe Davis, cowboy from Cinch Valley, who took possession of our office for about three minutes. We had a sore finger and were rather slow that day.

No. 6—Unknown pilgrim from Scott's Valley, who rode into town on a mule at midnight and fired a charge of buckshot into our bedroom. Shot all went into the headboard above us, and while he was waiting for returns he fell off his mule and died.

No. 8—The Montana Terror, who was probably hired to attempt our assassination. Our gun fouled and we had to do a good deal of begging and running, but the Terror was not a man to take advantage of circumstances. He had wasted eleven shots when he quit.

No. 9—A genuine, old fashioned bad man from the Bill Williams creek section, who thought the country was being civilized too fast and who objected to a published item to the effect that this was no town for him to prance around in. He was a two handed shooter, and we were grazed four times before he went hence.

No. 10—A humble and downtrodden pilgrim whom the boys called "Our Birdie." He didn't appear to have the sand of a grasshopper, but one afternoon while we were giving him a fatherly lecture on the sin of loafing around he drew on us and got three shots the start. His identity has not yet been established, but it was ascertained that he came here from Gila City with some rustlers.

Correspondence of the Watchman.

Not much news in our community this week except politics. About the first thing when you meet a man is, "Well, what about politics? How are you going to vote? Are you going to vote for Cleveland?" However, the people's party has a strong hold in this county, and will be heard from in November. Our people have begun to realize their condition and the many wrongs imposed on the working class of our country, and are working as they never did before. Let us have better times.

The baseball game last Saturday between Messrs. R. V. Tharp's and John Fleming's school was well attended. The game was called at one o'clock and lasted until five, ending in the victory for Mr. Tharp, the score standing 24 to 26. They will play again next Saturday.

Mr. D. W. Mann and family, of Stanly county, who have been visiting relatives here have returned to their home near Albemarle.

Mr. T. G. Christe has commenced work on his new dwelling house.

A Young Wife's Dream.

The other day a young husband, on coming down to breakfast, found his wife sitting at the table with a far-away look in her eyes, and, in answer to the question, "What is the matter this morning?" she replied, "O don't ask me, Henry. I couldn't tell you, indeed, indeed, I couldn't." Some further questioning and coaxing at length brought out the fact she had a dream "such a terrible dream, I never, never, never could tell you about it." This of course, made him more wild to know what it was, and he made further efforts, and promised not to mind, and so forth. Then the lady related her dream as follows: "I thought I was in a strange city, and there was a great sale of husbands going on by auction and there were some husbands auctioned off at forty to fifty thousand dollars, then a good many went at about fifteen or twenty thousand dollars each, then they dropped to ten, five and three thousand dollars, and so on down, away down, some pretty fair looking ones sold for about fifty dollars." "Was there anyone like me in the first lot sold?" "No, no, there was not; I don't like to tell you I—" "Oh, do tell." "Well, you see, there were a good many left just like you, and they tied them up in bunches like carrots, and sold them for ten cents a bunch."—From Woman's Penny Paper, London.

There is a young fellow in a State street wholesale house who is not particularly strong on spelling. The other day he made out a shipping bill for "forty" barrels of flour. When his employer called his attention to the peculiar spelling of the word forty, he said: "Oh, yes; how very careless of me. I left out the ghf!"—Hartford Post.
