SAFE IN PORT

(Note—After the race between the owner of a small vessel which had weathered the storm in safety, was asked how it was that his little ship escaped, when so many large ones had gone down. He replied "We trusted in God.")

"O, captain, how is your ship all right,
While greater ones sank out of sight?

"Was your little craft of slender build?
Or were your sailors deeper skilled?

"She was stout and strong as you see her thus,
But another hand was over us.

"We saw no sailor overboard's form
To add a terror to the storm.

"Saw you the poly-mermaid pass
On the boiling brine with her comb and glass?"

"When the wisp of tempest smote the sea,
Did the glowing wrath call out in glee?"

"Oh, no; a still, small voice we heard
Across the foam like a summer bird.

"For a Spirit was brooding upon the sea,
And Christ was walking our Galilee."

O, voyager on life's stormy wave,
Take hold on the lesson the sailors gave.

Make head for the Star of Bethlehem,
Where a port awaits for you and them.

And by the shore of the isles of balm
Your ship shall come when the winds are calm.

If time were really money, the prison would be a regular mint.

It must take a lot of wind to blow a big blast on Cape Horn.

To be right, even the middleman may have to admit that he is left.

HOW LONG CAN MAN LIVE?

There is an old Highland proverb that runs:

Thrice the life of a dog is the life of a horse;
Thrice the life of a horse is the life of a man;
Thrice the life of a man is the life of a stag;
Thrice the life of a man is the life of a crow.

One word more about longevity. I believe it can be produced, or at least perpetuated, by breeding just as other qualities can. Go into a country graveyard and study the inscriptions. You will find certain families stuffed with remarkable longevity. And where these long lived families have intermarried you will find that the longevity has been permanent. San Francisco Bulletin.

What is each man but one little thread in the loom of God?

Bind together your spare hours by the cord of some definite purpose.

No grip is so hard to shake off as that of early religious convictions.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.
