Beth El's "Bintel Brief"

Joe and Helen Cohen admire anniversary cake as Rita and Irving Mond (L) and Hilbert Fuerstman (R) make the presentation.

New Year's Eve at Temple Beth El marked a very successful beginning for the new year. The party, sponsored by the Men's Club, was well attended by members from both Temples Beth El and Israel, and many guests. Highlight of the evening was a special presentation and huge cake marking Helen and Joe Cohen's 49th anniversary.

On January 18, a community-wide Young Children's Shabbat was conducted at the Temple. At Sisterhood's January luncheon, Kathleen McLain, religious editor of The Charlotte Observer, spoke on her personal perspective on the plight of the Soviet Refuseniks.

January 19 was a busy day at the Temple. After the Men's Club breakfast, featuring D.G.

Martin, we hosted the Catholic-Jewish dialogue group sponsored by the Ecumenical Institute.

The weekend of February 1 we hosted the annual Junior High conclave with about 90 youngsters in attendance. They represented eight area Reform Congregations.

The Social Club will hear Isaac Stern at Winthrop College on February 4. The February 21 service will honor Jewish singles, and will be preceded with a dinner for them.
