THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1870.

MAKING RESTITUTION.

Judge Kerr's cane has been restored to him, and the Judge himself restored to his wife and children. If it affords any gratification to the Governor, he is now informed that his long imprisonment of Judge Kerr is laid more upon Mrs. Kerr than upon her husband. Perhaps it is proper to remark that our pistols have not been returned, nor our Barlow knife, nor our razors, nor either of our coats, nor our blanket borrowed of our friend Lindsay at the Stoops, nor our white-handled knife, a present from a friend in Yanceyville while in prison. We did recover one cake of our soap after this manner. On Wednesday our soap was stolen out of our prison room, which Check & Stephens was murdered.—Capt. Frank Jones and a special guard of seven men accompanied the room with us. We said nothing, but got Nelson, one of the guard from East Tennessee, to buy us another. By the by, Nelson said he was cousin to Hon. Tom Nelson of his state. Next morning our new cake of soap was missing. Nelson said he saw the thing. A quarrel of the movement with his hand on the soap, in his pocket before. Others of the guard corroborate this statement. Captain Frank knew the would go and get it. We demanded and insisted on buying another cake of soap. The Captain went to the house of the Adjutant and returned with a cake of brown Windsor. So the Governor can now credit I with the return of Judge Kerr's cane and one cake of soap.—Let the community as well as "people" [illegible]

[illegible] were found on examination this morning to have been made so imperfect, [illegible] proceeding to decide the vote. No return was made from Caswell County. [illegible] County was returned for Phillips and for Shipp 4356, making about [illegible] votes than the County casts. Mitchell, Person and Rockingham are imperfect in their returns. If these are [illegible] Mr. Shipp's majority will be [illegible] to hold a rally.

THOS. J. WOMACK.

Mr. [illegible] the following contradiction [illegible] signature in addition to the [illegible] made at the time.

[illegible] N. C., Aug. 26th, 1870.

Mr. HOLDEN.—The return on the writ against Thomas J. Womack, "discharge [illegible] verified on confession" is a [illegible] I made no confession; knew [illegible] to confess, though held as a criminal [illegible] was seized by the Colonel of [illegible] United States troops.

Respectfully,

THOS. J. WOMACK.

MESSRS. GRAHAM AND BRAGG.

These two gentlemen have become the [illegible] which Holden's malignity daily [illegible]. It is their virtues that afflicts our [illegible]. They have no vices [illegible] Holden sees nothing in them to [illegible] praise.

THIS REWARD.—W. H. Bailey, a Radical lawyer in Salisbury, has been appointed [illegible] Commissioner vice Van Barringer, [illegible] Judge Pearson declined to accept. [illegible] Bailey. He is quite an admirer of the New York Code as furnished to hand [illegible] States for North Carolina, judging [illegible] what he wrote in the Old North State [illegible] and other things. The General Assembly, we hope, will make laws that will [illegible] lawyers to put them in [illegible] shape as that no one will understand them, as at present, at such a heavy expense. The Commission should be quashed [illegible] early day, as well as the Code, and [illegible] statutes revised should be restored.

THE ALAMANCE CASES.—From indications before the Justices this morning, the investigation of the Alamance Ku Klux conspiracies here to-morrow, to be reported by (not named) in Greensborough. We are glad of it for our own sake and for the sake of others, especially the readers of the SENTINEL. We begin to feel our health improving already, in view of the respite from labor that awaits us. We hope to get our breath or two after to-morrow.

A. H. GALLOWAY.—We understand that a telegraphic dispatch was received here [illegible] that A. H. Galloway, the [illegible] Senator elect from New Hanover, is dead. We did not learn any particulars in regard to his death.

VALEDICTORY.—We announced, a day or two ago, that one Major Whittemore, who has been connected with the Revenue here since the war, had gone the way of all carpet baggers, and left several little mementoes, in the shape of unpaid bills, for his friends to remember him by.

Sheriff Lee called on us yesterday and said that Whittemore left on account of the cases of his wife, and that he intended to give creditors before leaving of his intention of going, and make the best arrangement he could for paying what he owe there. Sheriff Lee further stated that Whittemore would, in a short time, remit the amounts yet unpaid, and if he did not close in sixty days, he would pay them himself.

A squad of United States soldiers arrived in Newbern on Tuesday, "on their way to Fort Macon to deliver a batch of prisoners. When the freight train, on which they arrived, reached Dover Station, the Sergeant in command, got off and when the train moved on he was left behind. The detachment waited in Newbern during the day for the missing officer to come down on the mail train, but he failed to do so, and the soldiers went on to the Fort. At last accounts the Sergeant had not turned up.

On Tuesday, in Newbern, a little colored boy was pushed off the dock by a companion and was drowning when a colored man named George A. West plunged in and rescued the boy.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—No news of a decisive battle, nor is it believed that one has been fought. MacMahon simply telegraphs that in Bazaine's [illegible] the Meuse within [illegible] counts say that there has been heavy fighting by detached parties of MacMahon and Prince Charles' armies with alternate advantages.

To-day the Public says that there was no fighting yesterday. The government, however, has good news. MacMahon is rich has been undisturbed. Palikao warns newspapers against publishing important and [illegible]

Minister Washburne contradicts the rumor of vessels leaving United States ports to prevent the French.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An unverified rumor says that McMahon is crossing the Meuse at Stolna and pushing for Montmedy and that he has six hundred guns. A collision between him and Frederick Charles is expected.

The Gazette Mobile [illegible] new requisition of one hundred thousand are hurrying to the defence of the capital. The Press of Paris admits the spiritedness of Republicans.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Telegraph lines are still in confusion. Dates from the seat of war, particularly those from Beaumont, require verification.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.—A fearful battle was fought yesterday and [illegible]. Yesterday morning McMahon commenced a general movement towards Montmedy and was attacked near Beaumont and driven, after a stubborn resistance towards the Belgian frontier, the Prussians capturing a large amount of camp stores, and drove the French from position to position until night. The battle was renewed early next morning and continued all day. During the night large French reinforcements came up but failed to turn the scale of victory. The Prussians were also reinforced largely and attacked overwhelming numbers. McMahon retreated to Sedan with the remnant of his forces. The slaughter was immense. It is impossible to estimate loss. The Prince Imperial is said to be in Belgium. The populations are flying in great terror.

BERLIN, Sunday, 8 A. M.—Last night after dark McMahon withdrew towards Sedan concentrating on a strong position, during night in the battle of yesterday, the Crown Prince of Saxony captured ten thousand prisoners.

A number of French soldiers escaped into Belgium, and were promptly disarmed.

It is rumored that Bazaine attacked Stermetz yesterday result unknown.

CONGLETON'S

CELEBRATED MEDICINES,

THE GREATEST DISCOVERIES OF MODERN SCIENCE AND PHARMACY

THE Proprietor does not claim to have discovered a cure-all, but what these medicines are represented to cure he guarantees them to do, as abundant evidence and proof can be adduced. As the healthy who have been benefited and their experience speaks for itself, and the great reputation, popularity and demand for these celebrated medicines, without a parallel, enable them to place them on his party, feels in asserting humanity that they stand upon their own merit. All we ask is a single trial and you will be convinced that what we say is true. Ask for CONGLETON'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES.
