OUR NEXT ISSUE. In consequence of Christmas there will be issued from this office no paper on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

CHRISTMAS BEEF. A. H. Temple, has only for Christmas day one of the finest beeves ever seen in this market. It is an Ashcroft A No. 1. Call and see it at the market on Christmas morning.

M. E. CHURCH. Rev. A. W. Mangum, the new minister for this church, has arrived in the city and will preach to-day. He is known to our citizens and is an able and zealous leader.

"WILLIAMSTON SPECTATOR." The editors of this paper were snowed up in Hamptonville, where they had a pleasant time. The editors are freezed up and ice bound. The editors of this city never got snowed up since Sam Jo and Pike quit the Sentinel and Col. Mark retired from the Long Purgy.

I. O. O. F. At the last regular session of McKee Encampment No. 15, I. O. O. F. held on Friday night, the following named officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Chief Patriarch, WM. P. WETHERILL.
High Priest, CHAS. M. BUSBEE.
Senior Warden, W. C. PREMPERT.
Junior Warden, J. C. S. LUNDEN.
Scribe, N. I. BROWN.
Treasurer, H. J. BROWN.

THANKS. To the ladies managing the Orphanage Fair, we make our best bow for a number of goodies which they had the kindness to send us Friday night. The acknowledgment of the courtesy could have been made sooner had it been possible.

CHRISTMAS FOR 1872. In very little is the character of the "Act prescriptive of slavery" better shown in its progressiveness than in the calendars for 1872, issued by the Founders and Fire Insurance Companies. Two fine specimens of this branch of printing are now before us one by H. L. Pelouze & Co., type founders, Richmond and Washington city, the other by the Home Insurance Company of which P. F. Pescud, of this city, is general agent. The former is executed for counting house ornament, and in red, green and gold, and elaborately printed and the whole artistical. The latter is very beautifully decorated in variegated lines and is a smaller gem. We hail these efforts in the progress of the most beautiful, because the most useful, of all arts.

THE POOR CHILDREN'S DINNER. The following contributions to the children's dinner, were reported to day. The indications are very cheering and the children may now feel assured of a good dinner, and perhaps a blanket, or some clothing:

Rev. Geo. T. Stronach, 2 doz. blacking, 2 bags soap, 1 turkey, 40 yards calico, 1 pea fowl, 1 guinea fowl, 1 bantam chicken, 1 goose, 1 duck, 1 pigeon and 1 partridge, and one shanghai chicken.

METROPOLITAN HALL.—To-night, Christmas, there will be given an amusing performance by Butler and Chavis' Burlesque (colored) Company, at Metropolitan Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents. The proceeds will be devoted to the payment of the gas bill against the colored Methodist Church.

AN OUTRAGE BY THE GOVERNMENT. A few days since a subpœna was served on Mr. S. F. Plemmons, of Spring Creek, Madison county, to appear before the Federal Court at Raleigh, to testify in behalf of the government against the ku klux. His actual and legitimate expenses to Raleigh and return were fifty dollars ($50) while the amount of mileage and per diem he received was less than twenty ($20). Here is a loss of thirty dollars in cash, and ten days from his business that Mr. Plemmons has sustained in obeying a process of the Federal Court. Is this an index of the many hundred cases where parties have been dragged to Raleigh to testify? If so, the kuklux will soon be crushed. Perhaps Mr. Plemmons did not swear to suit Messrs. Lusk & Co., and was suffered to sustain this loss for his dereliction of duty. Asheville Citizen, Dec. 21.

One who knows, furnishes the following:

RECEIPT FOR MAKING FIVE DISHES OUT OF ONE GOBBLER CHRISTMAS.

A turkey of eighteen pounds or over, if for a large family, for their Christmas Dinner, must be killed and dressed, and be kept hanging in some cool well aired place "to ripen" for several days.

The legs with the thigh and drumstick on, is cut at the thigh joint from the bird, and the six tendons in each leg pulled out with pinchers, first cutting the tendons with a sharp knife around the lowest part of the leg, and upper part of the thigh, making an incision sufficient to get the pinchers to hold, and then with a quick and strong pull pluck from the muscles the six tendons of each leg, through the hock-joints. The legs are then put on coals over live coals and smothered for an hour, seasoned with salt, pepper, and capsic, and buttered after the legs are sufficiently broiled. The legs are then placed in a dish, side by side, the inner surface turned uppermost. This broil constitutes one dish, and is a most excellent one.

The body of the bird, with wings on, is next stuffed with oysters, "New Haven" if to be had, the "mollusk" separated from the water by a colander, and laid upon a napkin to drain. Crumbs of rolled or mortared fresh soda crackers are stuffed in with the oysters, seasoned with butter, &c., until the hollow is full and crowded out. The turkey is then roasted for an hour or more if very large, by and over a bright fire; while roasting the oyster water is used for basting. The drippings, creamed and mixed with drawn butter and properly seasoned, and a few hard boiled eggs cut up finely, should be stirred into it. These drippings, &c., make the best kind of turkey gravy. This is the second dish, and it is fit for a Roman Emperor.

Remember when carving the breast or broil to let none have the bones. They must be left on dish, and the next morning early the meat which may be left on the bones is carefully cut off and chopped small leaving out all gristle, and skin, and tendons, which with the bones broken by a hammer goes into the pot to simmer for several hours slowly, to furnish for dinner second day a tureen of delicious soup. An old ham bone or rasher of bacon, and carrots cut lengthwise, and stem ribs of cabbage, or colewort, a few onions minced fine, and herbs to season, with a quart of fresh milk poured in and stirred a little at a time, when the soup is done. This is the third dish; and it done properly is one of the most appetizing soups that can be prepared.

The meat mentioned above that was cut from the bones, and any scraps, are then put into a stew pan, about an inch of water added leaving been first brought to boiling, when the scraps are thrown in, and cracker crumbs and butter and seasoning, with a couple or six of eggs well beaten up in milk is then stirred together and well stirred to prevent burning, there must be crumbs enough to absorb the moisture, for the mixture is cooked long enough to become dry, and it is then served up hot as hash for breakfast, and if seasoned properly is perfectly delicious. Buttered toast may be placed in bottom of steak dish, and the "dry hash" put on the top. This constitutes No. 4. For variety on occasion by the addition of more milk and butter "wet hash" filled with rich gravy can be made.

Last and by no means least in this feast of gobbler, the head and neck, the wings and taken out, must be picked and cleaned by scalding, and the bare legs below the drum stick, that by the "gourmet" is generally thrown to the dogs as worthless, are the best part of the whole bird for soup, containing more albumen, &c. These after being scraped &c., are put into pot to simmer, first being crushed by hammer, and any bones of beef or mutton or pork thrown in, and the vegetables and herbs mentioned in connection with the "bone soup" or third dish can be made if properly managed and seasoned, into a gallon of as good soup as was ever drank by Gen Scott, or General Jackson himself!

This makes the fifth dish, and as singular as it may seem is one of the best, highly nitritious and as palatable as ever swallowed by Epicurus or his followers on the banks of the Seine in "La belle France," or the Tiber in fair Italy, or in Rhamkatto road Pembroke.

Turbeville's opera house is a skating rink.

NOTICE.

S. F. TOMLINSON,
Principal N. C. Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and Blind:

DEAR SIR:—Being duly authorized by the Howe Machine Company, 699 Broadway, N. Y., allow me, in their behalf, to present it to the N. C. Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, one Howe Family Sewing Machine, which you will please accept from them. Hoping that the many claims of its superiority may be fully proved by you in its use, I remain,
Very Respectfully,
J. OTIS STILLMAN,
General Agent.

N. C. INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND,
RALEIGH, Dec. 22, 1871.
Mr. J. OTIS STILLMAN,
DEAR SIR:—Having proved the merits of your machines, you will allow me to tender through you to the Howe Manufacturing Co., 699 Broadway, N. Y., the thanks of the Board of Trustees and Principal of this Institution for the very handsome present of one of their machines. It has been applied to the use of the blind girls, and notwithstanding the short period they have had it, some of them have learned to use it successfully.

ST. JOHNS' COLLEGE AT OXFORD N. C.
FOR LEASE.
The Board of Directors propose to lease the above property for a high male school or college for a term of five years.
At the late annual communication of the Grand Lodge of N. C., it was decided by resolution never to sell the above property or divert it from its original purpose.
DESCRIPTION OF THE ABOVE PROPERTY.
The building is of the best brick, 120 feet by 40 with a center of 60 feet in depth, four stories, with basement, containing a chapel 40 feet by 60, with large and spacious gallery; 8 large professor and recitation rooms; 2 society rooms and 40 sleeping dormitories.
The above building is situated in a beautiful ten acre grove studded with large native oaks, the whole enclosed with a substantial oak plank fence, and is well suited for the immediate reception of a first class school or college.
The Directors would state, that in society, climate and water, Oxford is not surpassed by any locality in N. C.
Proposals for the above property will be received until the first of February, 1872.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE,
Thirty-first edition just published, containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, the deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address on receipt of twenty-five cents in stamps or postal currency, by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.
