PERSONALS.

Dickens liked dogs and children, but had no ear for music.

Milburn, the eloquent blind preacher has several lectures on what he has seen.

William C. Bryant has returned from Mexico, looking as hale as ever.

Victor Emanuel has subscribed largely for the erection of a monument to Savonarola.

C. Mortimer Whiskey is the name of a Troy musical composer. He probably sings "Coming through the rye," in liquid tones.

L. F. Pickard, of Lena, Ill., got married, commenced keeping house and was burned out, all in one week—an unparalleled example of American enterprise.

John McLeod, the well known Scottish animal painter is dead. His speciality was that of a portrait painter of animals.

Benjamin Gratz Brown is a graduate of Yale College. Before he was governor of Missouri, he was a United States Senator. Both his grandfathers, paternal and maternal, were United States Senators.

The District Attorney has received notice from John Graham and Elbridge T. Gerry of their withdrawal as counsel for Stokes, because the latter, despite their advice to the contrary, persisted in publishing a card.

Mrs. Tyler, wife of the late President, and her granddaughter, residing in Fayette street, were baptized into the Roman Catholic faith last night, at the Convent of the Visitation, by Rev. Father Healy, of Georgetown College.—Georgetown letter in Baltimore Sun.

It is most gratifying to old Democrats and States Rights Whigs that their cherished principles are being adopted by the body of the American people. When this is so, it matters not who receive the offices. Old Democrats and old Whigs cannot be estranged, so long as they stand together on the principles that divided their lines when there was division among them.—Charlotte Dispatch.

HONORING A HERO.—The manifest sentiment of the convention at Greensboro' was to make Gen. D. H. Hill, of the Southern Home, Superintendent of Public Instruction. This would have been done by the unanimous voice of the convention as a recognition of the merits of the great soldier, who is equally great as a civilian and a teacher, but when the doubt was raised of his being under bans, he requested that his name might be withdrawn. The manifestation must have been gratifying to the old hero and his many friends.—Char. Dispatch.

A GREAT THROW.

We find in an exchange the following brief sketch of the Liberal nominee for Vice President.

B. GRATZ BROWN, who is the candidate for Vice President on the Liberal ticket, was born in Lexington, Ky., was educated at Yale College, and moved to Missouri in 1850. He qualified as a lawyer, was elected to the Legislature in 1852, and was re-elected for a number of years. He was a Democrat and a follower of Benton, and became a Free Soiler and an active emancipationist in the Missouri Legislature. He helped to start St. Louis Democrat as a Free Soil paper. In 1860 he aided in the organization of the Republican party in Missouri. In the war, of course, he sustained the Federal government. He and Frank Blair and Lyon heading the "Union party" of Missouri, and holding that State to the side they espoused.

Mr Brown was elected to the United States Senate at the beginning of the war and held his seat until 1866, when he declined a re-election. He took no active part in politics until 1870, when he entered the field against the proscriptive State Constitution and the oppressors of the Union government. He and Carl Schurz organized the Liberal party of Missouri, which demanded a new order of things and the removal of all proscription from the law. Overpowered on a packed convention, the Liberals raised their standard with their own candidates and gained a signal victory, relieving the people from the oppressions and establishing freedom and equality in the State.

Davis defendant, I shall proceed to sell at the door of the Court House, in the town of Warrenton, on the 4th Monday of May, 1872, the tract of land described in the pleadings known as "Largo" in the County of Warren and lately occupied by the said Peter R.
