Mules, Fine Mules.—We call the attention of our farmers and others, who desire to supply themselves with fine mules, to the advertisement of Mr. Cohen.

More Mules.—W. T. Rogers, Esq., of Kentucky, received by rail, a lot of fine mules, to be found at Dunn's stable. Mr. R. has met with great success, and established among our farmers a character for fair dealing. Give him a call at Dunn's.

The Templeton troupe will give another entertainment tonight, playing East Lynn, for the benefit of May-the-Fay. Let our citizens turn out and witness the wonderful performance of this little girl. This troupe deserves the patronage of the people of Raleigh, and the names of John Templeton and the Misses Vance are getting to be as familiar as those of our own citizens.

Mules! Mules!!—Another lot of fine, large Kentucky mules, among them several large, fine broke mules, can be seen at the stables of Messrs. G. W. Wynne & Co. The subscriber takes this opportunity of returning his thanks to the planters of Wake and adjacent counties, for the liberal patronage bestowed upon him, and is gratified to learn, although having sold a large number of mules in this city, that they have given general satisfaction.

ALFRED COHEN.

Sectional Representation.—A New York paper figures out the proportionate representation in Congress of the various sections of the country, as at present, and under the new apportionment bill, respectively, as follows:

| | 42d Cong. By Pop. Per cent. | 43d Cong. By New Bill Per cent. |
|---|---|---|
| New England | 11.1 | 9.2 |
| Middle States | 24.7 | 23. |
| Southern States | 31.2 | 31.4 |
| Western States | 33. | 36.4 |
| | 100 | 100 |

The weather still continues damp wet, and wetter, and wettest of the whole winter. Freshets are reported in all rivers, creeks, &c., in parts adjacent. Several bridges have been injured, the roads that are not ditched on both sides are impassable, and still it pours.

"The rain it raineth, the goose she winketh,
Et Phœbe doth the gosling kiss what the Goose she thinketh."

And besides, we conclude with the following on this a skiing subject, to wit:

Drizzle, drizzle, drizzle,
The rain comes down,
Drenching and soaking
The mud covered town,
And the woe be gone plain
Of each walkf-ing beetle,
Pleads for neat crossings
Across the nasty, wet, sugey, miry, dog-goned, outrageous, and covered streets.

Edmonds' Wheat Grinding.—A method of grinding wheat without the use of millstones has been discovered in Great Britain. The wheat, in passing through the machine, is struck by a series of bars moving at an immense speed in opposite directions; it is thus instantaneously reduced to a state ready for bolting, no injurious heat being caused, and the flour produced is of much superior quality to that obtained by ordinary grinding, while the cost of its production is considerably less. One of these machines, in its perfected state, is in full operation in Edinburgh, and realizes all the advantages claimed for it.

The Davenport Brothers Caught.—The Davenport Brothers lately gave some of their psychic exhibitions at Ithaca, New York, but their tricks were sadly disarranged by some of the Cornell University fellows. A private letter says that some of the students, having a scientific turn of mind, provided themselves beforehand with pyrotechnic balls containing phosphorus, so made as to ignite suddenly with a bright light. During the dark scenes, when the Davenports purported to be, and as the audience supposed were, bound hand and foot within their closet or cabin, and when the guitar was floating in the air and playing musically around, the aforesaid students struck their lights all of a sudden, when the spirits were found to be none other than the Davenports themselves, who were dodging about the stage, brandishing the guitar, and playing the tunes. The music suddenly ceased, the committee declared the performance a humbug, and the players departed from Ithaca by the earliest train.

It is a proverb, in New York, that "a $250,000 man is never hanged," and it is said that Stokes is that sort of man. It is a great pity he can't be induced to place his money within reach of the Administration for about fifteen minutes, for at the expiration of that time he would be as hangable as the veriest beggar in the land.

All the Year Round, and in all parts of the world, the elements of disease are present in the air, in the earth and the water, in a greater or less degree, and therefore the Great Vegetable Antidote to these invisible enemies of health, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is invaluable as a vigorous mild medicine at all seasons and in every latitude. Who ever of the year is a regulating and corrective medicine more needed than toward the close of winter, when the sun and the air are beginning to break up the winter blockade, and from the softening soil arises that terrible miasma, which weighs like an incubus upon the vital machinery and oppresses the animal spirits. It is then that the seeds of intermittent and remittent fevers, of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, of obstinate stomach complaints, of disorders of the liver and bowels, and a whole host of pulmonary and nervous complaints are sown.

The best, the surest way to prevent the disease from seeding, is to invigorate and strengthen system with a course of the Bitters. If this precaution be taken, there will be no danger of the miasmatic germs taking root in the fluids and tissues of the body, and bringing forth terrible fruit in the spring. Now is the time for prevention. Remember that vigor is the only safeguard to the virus of disease, and that Hostetter's Bitters is the purest, the safest, the most powerful and perfect invigorant ever administered, either as preventive medicine or a remedy. A change of season approaches, which will always prove more or less dangerous to persons of a weak nervous organization. Brace up at once with the leading Tonic of the age. Purge from the blood all morbid matter, strengthen the nerves, and regulate and purify the secretions with the Vegetable with the whole world renowned Bitters of the finest and final resort, before the most whole scene of all diseases is upon us.

feb 13-364

There was a frog who lived in a spring,
But unfortunate Bullfrog! he was a
Poor, unfortunate Bullfrog! he was a
Really quite unfortunate frog. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers, namely, a once tuneful voice among those who "lose to the" genus homo" is utterly spoiled by the "cold in the head," or on the lung cough combined. For the above mentioned "croaker" we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we rejoice to know that all human singers may keep their heads clear and their throats in tune by a timely use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.

A Stable Institution.—Just at the period when all stable men were complaining that the home ointments of the day were unstable remedies, the Mustang Liniment made its entree in Missouri, without any fourth of trumpets, and within one year, became the favorite curative for the external disease in man and hundreds of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of an enlightened horse man; now its household reputation as a cure for the small ailments, neuralgia, sore throat, sore feet, bruises, burns, wounds, and sprains, will behind the celebrity as a horse Liniment. The mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the young, and, in fact, there is not a city or town in the United States where the Mustang Liniment is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community. feb 12-36t

The custom officer at Wilmington, N. C., has telegraphed to the Treasury Department the fact of the smuggling ashore, at that port, of a large quantity of dutiable goods from the Green Island. Orders have been given by the Collector to take measures for the forfeiture of that vessel and her account.—Wil. Star.

A Canal for New England Fishermen.—New York, February 1.—An Ottawa letter states that the Board of Trade Convention there passed a resolution unanimously recommending the construction of the Bay Verte canal across the Isthmus connecting Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, in order to shorten the voyage of New England and other fishermen to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

This is from Punch: "Music at home—Mrs. Lyons Chacer: 'How cruel of you to get up so suddenly, dear Mr. Rumbletumuski! Is anything wrong with the piano?' Herr Rumbletumuski, with parfonable severity: 'No, matam, but I vas avraid dat I indterrupted de general conversation!' Mrs. Lyons Chacer: 'Oh, dear no! Not at all! Pray go on.'"

A man was once relating a story of being on a locomotive that struck a cow standing on the track, and throwing several yards into the field, where she lit squarely upon her feet, with her head toward the train, and stunned to say, she wasn't hurt a mite. "But didn't she look scared?" inquired a listener. "Well, I don't know whether she was scared or not, but she looked a good deal discouraged."

"Big brains seems to produce a great variety of results. Fisk's brain weighed fifty-eight ounces. Daniel Webster's weighed but fifty-three ounces and a half, Cuvier had sixty-four ounces and a half, while Prof. Aberchombie possessed sixty-three. Ruboff, the murderer, who was executed at Binghamton last spring, had fifty-nine ounces of brain. This seems to indicate that a man with a great brain is likely to be something or other.
