CARRIAGE AND BUGGY MANUFACTORY OF N. S. HARP.—On yesterday we were shown through this establishment, and was no little surprised at its extent and completeness. In his sales room, we were shown many handsome specimens of his manufacture, and was gratified to learn that our little city can boast of an establishment turning out such creditable work. A falling top buggy, particularly attracted our attention. It was made to fill the order of J. N. Bunting, Esq., and is not exceeded in point of workmanship, and finish by anything we have seen coming from northern manufactories. A lack of space alone prevents an extended notice and description of what we saw during our visit. Mr. Harp is busily engaged in putting the finishing touches to a number of elegant vehicles which he intends to exhibit at the coming Fair.

Bishop Atkinson is compelled to withdraw his appointments for Louisburg on October 2d; Oxford, 4th; Williamsbourgh, 5th; Henderson, 6th. He hopes, God willing, to visit Oxford on the 6th of October, Williamsbourgh on the 7th.

HENDERSON ITEMS.—We were glad to see on the occasion of a recent visit, that this nice little village is still steadily improving. We observed two new houses in process of building. The Hendersonians are expecting a good Fair—better than last year. We heard of a rather bold and successful theft that was committed on last Saturday night. Some one entered the hotel kept by Mr. Reavis, and stole the trunk of a young lady, containing her finest apparel and $100 in money. The thief also carried off Mr. Reavis' trunk. He left it in a back yard. In his hurry to examine its contents he overlooked the very things he was after, to wit: $30 in cash, and a bundle of silver spoons. The thief or thieves are not known, but there are some grounds for suspecting some of the servants about the house.

SAD AFFAIR—DEATH OF REV. J. BRINTON SMITH.—On yesterday (Tuesday) morning this community was shocked with the intelligence that Rev. J. Brinton Smith, D. D., who resides about a mile north-east of this city, had met a sudden death and that some violent poison had been the agent. At this writing, (5 p. m.) the jury of inquest is still in session and therefore none of the facts in the case can be positively stated. The following information was gathered from Mr. Robert Scawell, who was engaged at Mr. Smith's in superintending the farm when the sad occurrence took place:

Dr. Smith arose from his bed yesterday morning quite early and in his usual health, and went out and spoke to Mr. Sewell in regard to the hauling of some cotton, and then returned to the house. Just before breakfast, about 8 o'clock, he expressed a desire for a sedlitz powder. His daughter went to the box in which they were kept, mixed one and presented it to her father. He drank it and ate his breakfast. He then lit his pipe and again went to have some conversation with Mr. Scawell, during which he several times complained of feeling very peculiar. He soon returned to the house and in a short time was taken very ill. He was heard to exclaim, "I believe I am poisoned." A messenger was immediately dispatched for Dr. E. Burke Haywood; but before the Doctor could arrive the vital spark had fled.

The box from which the powders were taken, and the tumbler in which they were mixed, and from which Dr. Smith drank, are in the possession of Mr. Seawell. In the tumbler were some deposits which Mr. Seawell tasted and which he says were very bitter. In the absence of the verdict of the jury of inquest nothing positive can be stated as to the cause of this sudden death, but the common report is that the symptoms which accompanied this unfortunate gentleman's fatal illness point to the agency of some powerful poison, such as prussic acid or strychnine. If such be really the case, the question as to how such ingredients came to be mixed with powders remains to be solved.

Dr. Smith was sent to this city some three or four years ago by the Episcopalian Board of Domestic Missions, as Principal of the St. Augustine Normal School, for the education of colored people, and by his probity of life and the interest which he manifested in advancing the material interests of the community, made himself many warm friends who mourn their loss, and tenderly sympathize with his bereaved family. In the next issue of this paper more full and reliable particulars concerning this heart rending affair will be given, as by that time the evidence of the attending physician before the Coroner's jury can be obtained.

OXFORD NOTES.—The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church gave a concert last Friday night that is regarded as the best musical entertainment ever offered to the people of Oxford. We are glad to learn that $62 were made over all expenses. We believe it is designed to apply the proceeds to the purchase of additional furniture for the Parsonage. We believe the ladies contemplate giving another entertainment some time during this month.

Mr. Rufus Bobbitt is not dead. It is reported, however, that Mr. Richard Bobbitt formerly of Granville, but now of Warren, died last week quite suddenly.

The community is about to sustain a serious loss in the removal of Dr P. W. Young. He leaves on 7th inst. for Waco, Texas. Dr. Young has long been the family physician of the writer, and is a practitioner of unusual skill and ability. Whilst we really regret that he considers it to his interest to remove to another State, we wish him abundant prosperity and happiness in his new home. Any community is a severe sufferer when a physician of superior parts leaves it.

Several of the merchants have gone North for goods. There was a considerable sale at the Granville Tobacco Warehouse last Friday. The weed ranged from $30 to $51 for new tobacco. We regret to learn that the tobacco crop of Granville is not as good as it was at first thought to be. This is specially the case with fine tobacco. Owing to the character of the season latterly, the fine tobacco cures up badly, and but few of the planters who have raised such splendid tobacco formerly have good crops now. The corn crop is good. Many of the planters had to neglect their fodder in order to save their tobacco crops. The consequence will be that dry food will be scarce and high.

Bishop Atkinson preaches at Oxford on 4th inst. The railroad question is still discussed, but as far as we could learn, there is but little prospect of one being built in this generation. St. John's College, the most beautiful school edifice in the State, is still unoccupied—a shame and a reproach to the Fraternity that caused it to erected. The health of Oxford is excellent.

The invention of Mr. Upton Thomas Bowden, of Granville, for coal curing tobacco by the use of flues, is a great success. It has been patented and Mr. Bowden has been offered $12,000 for half of it. He has also had a large offer for the right of various States. Thus far he has made no sales. He can make a large fortune if he manages it judiciously. The best farmers are highly pleased with it. It has cured crops recently, that failed by the old process. It is also excellent for hop curing.

The friends of Honest old Horace are confident of reducing Blow Your Horn's majority considerably. A good canvass will be made.

Rev. Theophilus W. Moore, of Florida, Conference, preached on Sunday morning in the M. E. Church, to a large and interested congregation.

The schools are prospering. Horner and Graves have nearly seventy pupils.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 30.—The acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue decides that on and after October 1st, 1872, no stamps will be required upon checks, drafts and orders, except such as are drawn at sight or on demand upon banks, bankers or Trust Companies He also decides that on and after that date no stamps are necessary upon foreign bills of exchange. The acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in view of the ambignity of a portion of section thirteen of the act of June 6th, 1872, imposing special taxes on dealers in malt liquors, and in view of the supposed intention of Congress, has decided that wholesale and retail liquor dealers may continue to sell malt liquors under their special tax receipts, as such, without being assessed as malt liquor dealers, and the collection of taxes assessed contrary to that construction shall be suspended until the question can be brought before Congress. Persons who sell only malt liquors are liable only to the special taxes of twenty or fifty dollars, as they are wholesale retail liquor dealers in malt liquors.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Satanta, Chief of the Kiowas Indians, and Big Tree, another notable Cheif of the same tribe who have been temporarily released from the Texan prison arrived here to-day in custody, and were taken to the Everett House where other Indians were stopping. The meeting of Satanta and Big Tree was one of the most affecting scenes in the Indian history. Ordinary stoicism gave way entirely, and they hugged and kissed each other and cried like children. Satanta made a speech in which he said that he felt like one risen from the dead. He referred to the talk he had with Governor Davis of Texas, who told him he must work hard for the peace and influence of his people, If he did this he should be released. He wanted his people and all other Indians to be at peace with the whites, to let Texas alone and not go on the war path. It is not intended to take Santanta, and Big Tree to Washington, but they will probably be placed into the custody of the U. S. Marshal to-morrow, and subject to orders from Washington.

There is a strong desire on the part of the Indians that Santanta be pardoned, and it is probable that if he is, almost any desired terms can be made with them.
