PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.,

HARTFORD, CT.

The prominent feature in this old and reliable Company loaning the assured one-half of his premium and taking notes based on his policy—which notes are paid by the accruing dividends, and up to this time, have been returned in all cases with the sum insured—practically reduces the expense of life insurance one-half.

This old and reliable Company whose assets, according to the last report of the Massachusetts Commissioner, exceed its liabilities by one million of dollars, is now represented in our State by the undersigned in Raleigh and by agents in the most important towns. Any one desiring more full explanations of the plan and its workings will call on any of these agents and will be gladly accommodated with all information.

Read the receipt of Mrs. Martha J. Roberts, widow of H. J. Roberts, a prominent merchant of Baltimore, and of P. A. Dunn, of Wake county, or refer to the representatives of J. R. Tate, deceased, of Charlotte.

Received, Baltimore, August 15, 1872, of C. P. Montague & Son, General Agents of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, five thousand dollars, the amount my husband, the late H. T. Roberts, was insured for as well as the three notes for one hundred and eighty-six dollars, each given as one-half premium.
