THE SENTINEL.

AN OLD MAN'S SONG OF MAY.

BY R. H. STODDARD.

Can it be that Spring is come?
So the calendar doth say;
March has buttered off, I know,
And wild April soon must go;
Then—oh, then it will be May!

'Twas a merry month to me
Long ago, when I was young
I have dreams of childish hours,
In the meadows picking flowers,
And the songs the robins sung

Does the robin still remain?—
One, I mean that loves and grieves?
And—supposing that I could
Join the children of the Wood—
Would it cover me with leaves?

Flowers, I see, can still be bought,
And who will may buy, not:
I want more than these poor flowers—
I demand the dews, the showers,
Wind, and trees, and summer sky!

Why not say, you poor old man,
You demand what is more?
Where it May, twice over May,
You would still be sad to-day,
For your are not as before.

May is only for the young;
Chill December suits you the best,
Fallen leaves, not flowers, for you—
You have nothing left to do:
Make your bed and take your rest!

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities.
Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians, Ministers and business families throughout the South, concurring in the highest terms in its good effect of Rosadalis.
Dr. G. Wilson Cree of Baltimore says he has used it in cases of Scrofula and other diseases with much satisfaction.
Dr. T. C. Pugh of Baltimore recommends it to all persons suffering with impaired blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION.
Marriage Guide.
A private Companion for the married or those about to marry, to every man, woman and child. Containing 250 pages, 125 engravings, and the most valuable work published on the subject, with the medical opinions of the world on the marriage relation, etc., etc. Sent by mail, in a sealed envelope, for 25 cents. Address, Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 2 Bulfinch Place, Boston, Mass.
There are numerous works of this kind advertised, but this is the only one to be relied upon. It is the only one written by a physician of eminence, and is the only one containing the author's address, so that persons can be sure of not being imposed upon by worthless advertisements, and can be sure of receiving the genuine medicines prescribed by the author, which are not to be obtained of any other person.
Notice to the Afflicted and Unfortunate.
Before applying to the numerous quacks who advertise in this paper, it would be well for every one to read the Marriage Guide, and ponder well the advice given, as it may be the means of saving them much misery, disease and death. There are many persons who are now suffering from the effects of improper treatment, or the use of improper medicines.
Dr. Parker, author of the Marriage Guide, may be consulted on the diseases mentioned in his works, either by letter or personally. He is a graduate of two of the oldest and most reputable Medical Colleges in the United States, and has had more practice than any other physician in Boston, or the New England States, for the treatment of these diseases. This is to give notice that the copartnership heretofore existing as DOBBIN & FRANCIS is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All the business of the firm is in my hands for settlement and collection.
I shall continue to carry on the business manufacturing of Boots and Shoes, &c., at the same place, under the CELEBRATED NATIONAL BANK, and have the same workmen in my employ. Thankful for past favors I hope to merit a continuance of the same.
