Col. Buck Tucker wants to know of the Wilmington Journal if those guns gotten from the State and shipped from this city for Capt. Matt. B. Taylor's company will be returned here?

RICHMOND.—Col. Albert Ordway's dwelling house has been sold to Major Charles R. Skinner for $13,425.—Gov. Kemper has appointed Walter Coles of Pittsylvania a visitor to the Agricultural College at Blacksburg.—We take from Dispatch.

THE CONCERT.—Prof. Agthe's reputation as an artist will draw a large audience to-night at the concert at Baptist Female Seminary. The best amateurs in the city speak in exalted terms of the character of the entertainment and predict it will be even more brilliant than the last

SUPREME COURT.—The third district is up and continued to-morrow. The following cases argued:

Craven county: State vs. Edward Dozier; Ann L. Smith vs. city of Newbern; and in the matter of W. G. Brinson.

Wayne county: Thomas Phillips et al., vs. A. B. Thompson et al.—W. T. Faircloth vs S. W. & R. M. Isler.

REIDSVILLE.—Z. V. Gunn of Caswell is building a house and will remove to Reidsville.—D. Barnes has had his health improved by a trip to Hot Springs in Arkansas.—The new Methodist church going up will cost $2,500.—J. N. CHARLOTTE.—Annual examination at Military Institute began Saturday.—Mr. Southgate made good raise of money and supplies for the Orphan Asylum in Charlotte.—The festival at Col. J. Y. Bryce's was the sweetest thing of the week, the yard beautifully illuminated with all manner of transparencies, and Caldwell, who had his hat off in the moonshine, says the young maidens all looked too sweet to live—We get from the Observer.

SUIT ABOUT TREES.—In case of Salter vs. Johnson in Federal Court, the plaintiff asked for fifteen thousand dollars. It seems that Salter put about $2,609 in a nursery at Littleton and held bill of sale from another party for his part of the nursery, and the other party afterwards mortgaged the ground which took in both his trees and Salter's, to Johnson, and Johnson claimed the whole nursery and sold forty-three thousand trees from Salter's part for which plaintiff brought suit. The jury gave Salter thirty-six hundred and odd dollars. Johnson tried to plead a non-register on Salter's papers but the Judge held the papers a bill of sale.

HORSE TALK.—Wynne's horse Quixie that broke his neck the other day was seven years old last April. He was born in Wayne county and belonged to a Methodist preacher who drove him a year on his circuit till the horse spilled him out one day and the parson then sold him to a man in Johnston county for $175, and this man sold him to George Wynne for $275. Wynne put him under Mr. Pomeroy and paid him $45 a month for handling him. For the first three months Pomeroy advised Wynne to sell him, he couldn't get him to a mile under four minutes, but gradually he got him to three, and from that he began to train with a burst of speed not known to any other horse in the State. The last season at Augusta he made his mile in 2:38, and again a mile and several lengths in 2:37. At the time of his death Pomeroy was getting him up to 36, and once at that he would have been worth fifteen thousand dollars. He leaped a fence in a frolic and fell on his back in a deep gully the othe other side, but to show his grit, he sprang to his feet and walked some distance and then fell dead. Mr. Wynne had owned him two years.

SUNDAY IN RALEIGH.—A breeze stirs to-day, yet the sun is half hid, and the atmosphere feels thick and close, and a fly's foot sticks when it lights on the hand. The average citizen gets breakfast and strolls, stopping at the drugstores, possibly, gatting a cigar, or herds himself with the crowd in front of the hotels, and chaffs gossip and politics, or reads the morning paper. The verandah of the National is a good 9 a. m. resort. The best thing picked from a squad of four, and the fitter to be told on Sunday was a remark let fall from a distinguished lawyer of another county, as the crowd conversed of a case in the Federal Court. The lawyer said he was pressed to be counsel for the plaintiff in that case but the defendant had once done him a friend's service and no money could induce him to prosecute a man who had ever stood by him as a friend. A remark like this will do to tell on Sunday for fashionable monied religion is becoming more popular in these days than old timey friendship and praise God worship. It's a step right across to the Baptist Sunday School and 358 in attendance are found there this morning. The Superintendent stated that many of the scholars and teachers would be away this summer, and he wanted every boy and girl to bring a new scholar with them next Sunday. He also gave out the prayer-meeting Wednesday night by Wesley Jones (a young printer) who would exhort from the fifth chapter of Matthew. Mr. Marcom offered a resolution of thanks, which was adopted, to the Lemonade and Table committees at the recent picnic at Haywood. Mr. Heck said the people of that neighborhood had been very kind in furnishing roast lambs and shoats and he thought it meet in the school to return thanks to them. A gentleman replied that it was all paid for with the exception of a donation of nine dollars from Capt. Elias Bryant, and on motion a resolution of thanks was passed to that gentleman and the secretary ordered to send him a copy of the resolution. The last bells are ringing for church and it's well to hurry up, or the finest anthem heard for many a day, and sung by the best practiced choir in the State, will be over with at the PRESBYTERIAN.

Dr. Atkinson preached a fine sermon from Matthew XXV:XXV: "And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine." The talent is equal to about a thousand dollars in our money. We take the word from the Bible and use it in a secondary sense, applying it to the mind, when we speak of a man of talents or a talented man. He rebuked stupidity and laziness in a christian, and a rich christian who gave grudgingly to the cause of religion, also the men that lay up heaps of money for their children rather than give them an education which nothing can take from them save insanity and death. He believed this church would be more prosperous in the city to-day, if its members, the members of the same household of faith, would cultivate sociability and walk in and out among each other less stiff and shy and reserved. It was a talent that should be cultivated and not buried.

BAPTIST.

At the First Baptist church Dr. Pritchard preached from Luke xvi:2: "Give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest no longer be steward." The doctor said he had walked up this morning with a sore throat and headache, he had prepared a sermon but felt unable to deliver it, and therefore should preach from this text an old sermon he had preached seven years ago on a New Year occasion. The sermon was well worth repeating, and many who had gone feeling themselves right well off in this world's goods came away impressed that nobody owned anything, and even the land they called theirs they must render an account of in another world. It is observable that both Dr. Atkinson and Dr. Pritchard preached of men in this world as stewards and servants with an account to render for every deed done in the flesh.

In company with a friend Swain street Baptist church was visited at night. The history of this new church is of interest. A neat building, comfortably arranged with rows of chairs for seats, its seating capacity 400, a baptistry, a cozy little room for the infant class and with a partition hung on weights which by letting down can divide the room into two apartments for dressing rooms. The church was well filled, and commenting in coming out on the neatly dressed and good looking congregation, Mr. Allen replied, "Many of the girls you see here first came to church in slat bonnets." Away out on the outskirts of the city the average prayer-meeting each week numbers 125, while here in the heart of the city some of the churches sometimes muster not more than a dozen. Young men carried the gospel over there and planted it and the poor people swarmed around it, and from the little old shanty where they prayed the first prayer, in ten days time they spread out in the neat new addition that now does them credit. Mr. Hufham told of a sick woman living down in yonder bottom he visited, and when she got well she came to hear him preach, the first time she had been in church for five years. Two other women were attendants who had not been to church in twelve years, and one, not in twenty years. And look here, ye rich men, poor women who sew for their living, entirely dependent on their needle (God help them!) for a support, bring their twenty-five cents every Sunday of their lives and give it to the God they profess to worship. Twenty-five cents is just five times more than the five cents nickel. Mr. Hufham preached a most excellent sermon and nothing but the want of space prevents a report of some of its good parts.

METHODIST.

At Edenton Street Church Mr. Mangum preached in the morning from Isaiah xix, xi, xii: Having been appointed Professor at the University Mr. Mangum will not remain with his people longer than three or four weeks, when he goes to Chapel Hill, they are sad to lose him and are casting about earnestly to find another Mangum.

At the Person street Church Rev. Mr. Jurney preached from Matthew xvi: 24th: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Three persons joined the church

EPISCOPAL.

At Christ Episcopal Church in the morning Bishop Lyman preached from Corinth. xiv:xx: "Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men."

At the Free church of Good Shepherd there were good congregations morning and night. The handsome little church is growing in popular favor every day.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Willie Mills a favorite young man of this city has recently been sojourning in Salisbury, his native place, for the benefit of his health, but returned here last week at the call of a telegram announcing the illness of his child. He looked well in the face and was on the streets each day in his usual fine flow of spirits tho' he remarked to one of his friends that the doctors up the country had tried to make him believe he was threatened with consumption. He was on the streets yesterday, and a half hour before his death was at the National hotel. Late in the evening he called to a companion who was going his way to "come let's go to supper," and he went on home to Mrs. Evans', his wife's mother, and sat on the steps, where he was taken with a hemorrhage and died in ten minutes, died between the ringing of the bells for church. He told a friend on the streets yesterday he was feeling better than he had felt for sometime Mr. Mills leaves a young wife and child. He was a Pythian.

PERSONAL.

The new census will give New York a population of over a million.

A Georgia newspaper nominates Gen. Joseph E. Johnston for Governor.

Tweed is not at liberty. He complains that he cannot make restitution because he has been compelled to pay out his money to blackmailing lawyers.

Mr. Andrew Jackson Houston, son of General Sam Houston, left Austin a few days since for Tyler, where he goes to take charge of the United States Marshal's office at that point.

A Kansas paper says:—"A mule kicked an insurance agent in this place on the cheek the other day. The agent's cheek was uninjured, but the mule's hoof was broken."

Artemus Ward was one day lying upon a sofa enjoying a cigar in the little office of his publisher at New York, when he received a telegraphic dispatch from Mr. McGuire of the San Francisco Opera House asking? What will you take for ten nights in this city? "Without a moment's reflection or changing his position, he replied, "Brandy and water. A. Ward." He soon filled a remarkably successful engagement, the dispatch—a $10 joke—being published in the San Francisco papers and proving a good advertisement.

THE LADIES.

Woman's ways. Lady dressed in black, corner of Wall and John streets—"Let us go this way."

Lady in green—"No, this way."

In black—"I am right; this is the way."

In green—"I tell you it is no such a thing. Come along now, or I'll leave you." Lady in black follows in the other's footsteps.

Lady in green—"There, now, see; I knew more than you did!"

Lady in black, terribly excited—"If I thought that I would lay right down here and die!" Then they separated, and we have as yet been unable to learn who was right.—Kingston, N. Y. Freeman.

A new way to be beautiful:

Master Frank was in a brown study. He had been taken up stairs into the drawing-room to see his new aunt—that is to say, the wife of his Uncle William, who was only recently married; and this was her first visit after the wedding tour.

Master Frank had behaved with great propriety during the interview, but had gone away so grave and thoughtful that his nurse was a little disturbed by such an unusual state of affairs.

"Why, Frank, what are you thinking about?" said she; "don't you like your new auntie?"

"Not much," replied the matter-of-fact Frank.

"And why not Frankie?"

"Because she is not pretty, like mama."

"Oh, but, my dear, you ought not to dislike your auntie for that. I'm sure your aunt was very good to you, and it is better to be good than pretty any day."

"Is it?" asked Frank, wonderingly.

"Certainly, dearie, for one may be pretty outside and ugly inside—one may have a pretty face and an ugly temper."

(The worthy old party, you will observe, was rather awkward in her modes of expression.)

"Well, but," said Frankie, slowly—"well, but—is auntie pretty inside, do you think? Because——"

Here Frankie stopped.

"Of course she is, dear. But 'because' what?"

"Why, because——" and here an intelligent look darted into the boy's sweet blue eyes, "because—why don't they turn her inside out then?"—Judy.

For the Sentinel.

WHITE OAK TOWNSHIP,
WAKE COUNTY, June 19, 1875.

Editor Sentinel:—According to previous notice a large number of citizens met in what proved to be a harmonious and enthusiastic meeting. On motion Capt. S. W. Mitchell was called to the chair and A. B. Freeman requested to act as Secretary. The appointment of delegates to represent us in the county Convention devolved on the following gentlemen: J W Thompson, G A Upchurch, Cader Olive, W R Suett and E L Mills, Alternates, Dr. C F Dowd, John Scott, Rufus Barbee, W W Holleman and B S Hunter.

On motion it was unanimously agreed that we instruct our delegates to bring before said Convention the names of R H Jones, A B Freeman and M Whitley as candidates for election to represent Wake county in State Convention.

On motion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS, The good people of Orange county have made the wise selection of Hons. W A Graham and Josiah Turner to represent their county in the State Convention,

Therefore Resolved, That we congratulate our brethren of Orange and the State generally upon this selection, that with such able and worthy sons as these, North Carolina has no reason to fear the result of her Convention, and while we would not speak disparagingly of Hon. W A Graham, we are especially proud of the nomination of Hon. Josiah Turner who has done so much to redeem our State and who has ever been ready to defend the right and denounce wrong.' There was then a full corps of efficient candidates nominated to fill the Township offices.

Resolved, That these proceedings be sent to the SENTINEL for publication and the News be requested to copy.
