The Good Templars in Raleigh picnic to-morrow.

A man was from the city of cabs. Of course not. Who ever heard of a Raleigh man from the capital?

The Raleigh Light Infantry left for Kittrells in great glee this morning. They will have a spotted time. This is the beginning of a long series of enjoyable anniversary celebrations.

A grand barbecue will be given at Apex on the 4th of August. Distinguished speakers have been invited. Among them Maj. Q. Waddell, Esq., who has made so much reputation by his democratic speech on Granny Rain. A special train will leave Raleigh on the 4th of August. Price of round ticket, 75cts. A tremendous crowd is anticipated.

Gran. Rodman, Mr. Hodges, one of the radical nominees for this county, showed his peculiar fitness for making a constitution for this country by appearing on the grounds in a state of intoxication at Forestville yesterday. He laid sprawling upon the ground during the speaking. He was carried on the shoulders of three negroes to the train. And on the care he was attended by Dr. A. G. Phillips, who felt his pulse from time to time, and applied ice to his head.

The Good Templars Demonstration at Clayton.—The Good Templars of this city, headed by the Citizens' Cornet Band, and under the chieftaincy of Captain W. Battle, Grand Chief Templar, with Major H. [illegible] for the depot. On the arrival of the cars they were reinforced by the Lodge from Morrisville. Together they proceeded to Clayton to join in the great barbecue prepared by the Good Templars of that section. At Clayton depot the full line was formed, composed of Clayton, Selma, Smithfield, Elizabeth Church, St. Mary's, Morrisville, Hickman and Bethel Lodges, and marched to Horne's grove, where a platform was erected, and a speaker's stand erected, and all necessary preparations for the comfort and enjoyment of the large throng, numbering over one thousand.

Rev. Mr. Weaver, of Clayton Lodge, welcomed all to the hospitalities of the occasion, and continued in a stirring speech on the evils of intemperance and the demands of the times for organized effort to control them.

Rev. N. M. Jurney, on behalf of the Good Templars of Raleigh, responded.

At the conclusion of Mr. Jurney's remarks, dinner was announced. And all join in eating better cooked meats, a more bountiful supply, he thinks, an orderly dinner was never spread.

Everybody was satisfied and proud of the occasion.

After spending a little season in renewing acquaintances and renewing old associations, the audience assembled at the speaker's stand and were addressed by Grand Worthy Chief Templar N. B. Broughton, who was followed by John E. Ray, Esq., of Wake, and R. L. Riddle, Esq.

A comic speech was then delivered by Z. T. Broughton.

At 7 o'clock the crowd dispersed, and the Good Templars of this city took the cars for home, arriving safely at 9.

Great praise is given to the Good Templars of Clayton for their putting everything in such fine order for the grand success that it was, and many will be the instructive recollections of that day.

The Chief Templar and his assistants from this city left nothing undone in their power to contribute to the occasion, and the members of the Order are loud in their praise of their labors.

Old Johnston will always have a warm spot in the hearts of the Good Templars of Raleigh, and [illegible] machinery in motion, [illegible] Good Templars, yesterday in fine harmony, strong and successful.

SCOTT PARTIN.

HE IS SEEN IN CHATHAM AND RANDOLPH

HACKNEY'S X ROADS,
CHATHAM Co., July 25

Editor Sentinel:

SIR: I drop you a few lines of a man who passed through here, supposed to be Scott Partin. From here he went to Pittsboro, thence the Haw River Hill, thence through woods and fields, went through woods and fields to Pace's Mill, on Haw river, crossed in a boat, took the woods 4 miles, and stayed all night at Sim Foulers Friday night 23rd. He left the next morning, went west through woods to Emmaus church; he then took the Salisbury road west five miles, he then turned southwest through plantations and woods quietly, six miles to Hackney's Mills, on Rocky River, he passed there on the 24th and at 2 o'clock took the Ashborough road on by Lovejoy's. He [illegible] by [illegible]. Robert Doept, Isaac Cleg, and a great many others, saw him and suspicioned him as being Partin. They give the same description of him as the papers. No doubt he went into Randolph county, he was within a few miles of its line. He passed off sometime as Lawrence Riley.

If you can, hold this letter, throw some light, and be the means of having the wretch arrested.

Yours,
J. W. HACKNEY.
ROBERT JOHNSON.

SAMUEL MERRILL, Esq.—This gentleman, who was cut in a fight with Dick Thompson at Forrestville yesterday, was brought home last night on a special train, and is now at home. The cut [illegible] serious. The wound is in the left side just below the heart. He is very much weakened by loss of blood; but suffers little pain. His many friends will be delighted to hear that "Sam" has no idea of dying, and will soon be up and about again. The wound is not dangerous.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Gen. Ransom speaks in Fayetteville to-day.

Col. A. M. Waddell will canvass Cumberland and Brunswick counties.

Hon. James P. Speight withdraws his withdrawal and will canvass Greene.

Hon C. S. Winstead has declined to canvass Person county for the Republicans.

Judge Manly and Col. C. C. Clark publish an excellent address to the citizens of Craven county.

Dr. McCandless, the republican nominee for convention in Stokes county, when he was in the Legislature advocated a law giving victims of Rest on their patients' property.

The nomination by the Conservatives of Martin of that favorite and chief among the Primitive Baptists, Elder C. B. Hassell, doubtless makes sure of one of the largest counties in the State.

MADDEN TURNER.

Maurice Q. Waddell went to Charlotte to meet Judge Watts, but the Judge got a hint of the matter and failed to appear. At the request of a number of citizens Mr. Waddell addressed a large audience at the courthouse in Charlotte.

E. S. Parker, Esq., editor of the Alamance Gleaner and conservative nominee for Convention, has thoroughly canvassed the Southern portion of his county, and says there is unmistakable evidence that Alamance will in this election be herself again. Mr. Parker is able and eloquent, and will make a splendid run.

Hon. J. T. LeGrand, Conservative nominee in Richmond county, said he wanted to insert into the Constitution a clause prohibiting the intermarriage of the races and mixed schools, and asked Col. Dockery what he thought of that and whether he intended to advocate those two points, but the independent was silent.

THE MISSION OF THE DEMOCRATS.

If our people will only do it, they have it now within their power to restore to their State a prosperity like that which it used to enjoy, but to which it has been a stranger since the days when the office-seekers and adventurers, swarmed in, in their own self-conceited and self-emolument, followed like hyenas in search of the spoils of war. When men have the power to better themselves, honestly, they are highly culpable if they hesitate to do so. Let the Democrats [illegible]

LETTER FROM JOSIAH TURNER.

RALEIGH, July 27th.

MR. EDITOR: Orange was the first county to nominate candidates for convention and has been the first to close her campaign, which ended to-day at Hillsboro.

Duke on the republican and Turner on the conservative side, were the only candidates who canvassed the county.

C. E. Parish, the senator from Orange, has been active in the campaign and King, earnest and effective. His speeches at Durham and Chapel Hill were highly spoken of by his friends. The people of Orange fully endorse the course of their representatives in the Legislature on the notary bill as well as in all other division and gerrymandering legislation. They did not discover that the Hillsboro Recorder and the Raleigh News had been able to do the damage that Hawkins and the railroad corporation desired.

The Herald began in publishing the list of candidates published Turner as "claiming the nomination," I offered every day to give way and canvass for any gentleman who could carry in a mass meeting, two townships in the county.

I have discussed House Bill 432, and have no reason to believe that a single vote will be lost to the party by such discussion. In fact the people were pleased at the discussion, and received it as a guarantee that our party would allow Dr. Hughes and his railroad ring to run the party as did Holden and the republicans.

Capt. Junius Holleman, brings us cheering news from Person. Mr. Chas. Winstead, of the Revenue, finally declined to canvass, and put it upon Sam Barnett one of his deputies. Three hundred is the majority claimed by our standard bearer John W. Cunningham.

Having more than two-thirds of the Legislature at the last session, the only fear is that our people may rely too much upon their overwhelming majority, and thereby fail in some counties which they ought to carry. There is no apathy in Orange, though our majority is very large.

I am glad to close the campaign, there is not half the fun there was in it when I was younger than now and carried sixty pounds less.

A convention and a constitution made by North Carolinians, for North Carolinians, will add much to the advancement and prosperity of a State more "exhausted" than its Judiciary. We will have it because the people will it, and good government demands it.

Yours, J.

PERSONAL.

Samuel Merrill, Esq., is doing well at this home.

Rev. Dr. Burkhead, Elder of the Shelby District, will succeed Rev. Mr. [illegible] in charge of Christian church. [illegible] our friends of Edenton street church rejoice at his coming, though they lament the departure of their well-beloved and gifted pastor, who goes to another high sphere of usefulness. Dr. B. will be welcomed back to Raleigh.

Dortch and Cox are actively canvassing Wayne county. The Goldsboro Messenger says the majority is lost to the Democrats, if too manifestly [illegible]

THE PRESS ON CONVENTION.

A great deal depends on the result of the election on the 5th of August. If the negro element should have the ascendancy in the convention, or those who cooperate with the negro have power, the degradation of the white race will be object of legislation. Will white men submit to this? We hope not.—Charlotte Democrat.

PARTISAN JUDGES.—We are pleased to have it in our power to say that not a democratic or conservative Judge, or Solicitor has become a candidate for the convention. If Judicial officers want the people to respect them and their rulings, they should respect themselves and not degrade their offices by engaging in political scrambles for place. All good citizens must condemn the conduct of Judges Dick and Buxton in becoming candidates, and Judge Watts in running about the State, and endeavoring to arouse the prejudices of the poor ignorant negroes against the white race.—Charlotte Democrat.

NEGRO RAIL.—The conservative who fails to vote for convention, casts two votes in favor of radical rule in this State for years to come. Look at it: you lessen the conservative strength by one vote, and you fail to offset the vote of some one else for the radical candidate. Don't suffer a blot of this character to rest upon your name. If you happen to dislike our candidates come to the polls in the spirit of the old man who, when twitted about voting for a personal enemy, held up his ticket and exclaimed: "Yes, I hate Dick Smith as I do a black snake, but he carries our flag, and here goes my vote for my principles!"—South. Home.

RALEIGH HIGH SCHOOL.

AN ENGLISH, CLASSICAL, MATHEMATICAL AND MILITARY SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

REV. JOSEPH M. ATKINSON, CHARLES H. SCOTT, } Principals.

The second annual session of this school will begin WEDNESDAY, September, 1st, 1875. The Principals have procured for the school the commodious and attractive residence on Newbern Avenue, well-known in Raleigh as the "Cotton Place," more recently owned and handsomely refitted by Col. R Kingsland.

Besides continuing their Day School they propose taking a limited number of boys of good character and conduct to board in their own family.

The training of the school, as heretofore, will be full, thorough and accurate, preparing its pupils for college or for business life.

Competent assistants will be provided in all departments, as may be required. The Principals trust that it is scarcely necessary for them to say that whilst the school will continue to be conducted on Christian principles, it will be entirely without denominational aim or bias.
