[For the Republican.

...ublicanism vs. Democracy—Loyalty vs. Treason.

...true and legal sons of Carolina:

...name and reason of common sense, ...you who are not so warped by preju... ...unreasonable hate, that you cannot ...the question presented to you in this ...most important political contest that has ...been or probably ever will be entered in... ...the people of free and happy America. ...t, the popular voice of this State, ...and by the ballot-box, speaking in ...of unmistakable loyalty, proclaimed to ...world that the old North State was loyal ...true, then and there spoke out the spirit ...essence of Republicanism. But, alas! ...soon come the whirlwind of rebel De... ...y, and by one terrible, desparate theft ...this grand old State from her place ...among her loyal sisters and plunged her into ...seething, terrible cauldron of Treason, ...called Confederacy. You all remem... ...d can never forget the struggle through ...you passed. You have not, cannot for... ...e treatment which North Carolina's sons ...ed at the hands of a Rebel Democratic ...ment. Your surely have not forgotten ...burning insults that were heaped upon ...diers by Southern chivalric Rebel Dem... ...Your cheeks yet burn with shame ...you recall the unjust and cruel taunts ...were flung at you from the lips and pens ...then masters. Do you, can you ever ...that when the treasonable designs of ...same chivalric Democrats failed, how ...came to you and whined and begged and ...ed for your assistance to help them ...their miserable acres and carcasses from ...just confiscation that should have follow... ...their acts? I hear you say in tones of ...pressed wrath—we cannot forget, but we ...give. Aye, yes, noble, generous men that ...you forgive, you set an example for the ...Christian world. Fathers, whose sons ...up in the ensanguined ground, in unknown ...graves; sons, whose gray haired sires poured ...their warm generous heart's blood and died ...no cause, except to gratify Rebel Demo... ...ic ambition, you forgive Union Loyal men ...North Carolina, whose wives and daughters ...been tortured because you would not ...mit treason, and because they were true ...es and daughters, and would not give you ...or betray you. Do you forgive? Again ...unswer comes: we forgive, but can never ...get—true christian men that you are, you ...ve the crown—patient and long suffer... ...meek and beaten with many stripes ...striving, yet persecuted unto death. I ...you now, can you, will you, do you, dare ...trust these men again? These hounds, ...fawn around you and preach lies as black ...shameless as hell itself, who tell you that ...Republicanism is Revolutionism, that De... ...racy (God forgive them the misnomer ...lie) means peace and honorable legisla... ...Listen to one short sentence taken from ...letter of Frank P. Blair to Col. Broadhead: ...There is but one way to restore the Govern... ...and the Constitution, and that is, for ...President elect to declare these acts null ...void; compel the army to undo its usur... ...tions at the South; disperse the carpet-bag ...state governments; allow the white people to ...organize their own governments and elect ...ators and Representatives."

To declare what acts unconstitutional?—Why, the modest traitor means all acts rela... ...to the reconstruction of the Southern States. He wants to put you back where you ...were when the war closed, with the brand of ...slaves on you. He proposes to inaugurate ...war of races by wresting the ballot from the ...negro, and then such men as Wade Hampton ...can get the reins over you, and drive you to ...separation, and sink the country in a grave ...of repudiation, dishonor, shame, and blood.—The letter in which those treasonable sen... ...ces occur has been published all over the ...and as the sentiments of the Democracy of ...the country. They are the sentiments of trai... ...and emanated from a man who has rode ...more political horses, and been guilty of more ...inconsistency than any other man in the Uni... ...States of any prominence. Can you go ...with a party whose candidates write and talk ...treason? Methinks I hear you say, no!—And you will say, no! In tones of emphatic Republican significance on the 3d day of November next. Remember your loyalty is on trial on that day, and with you rests the verdict. Let no threat of ostracism or displeasure on the part of your rich, proud neighbor, deter you from voting and voting as your conscience dictates. Be not deceived by such lies as are circulated by the rebel press of the State. I have yet to see one single statement of political movements at the North correctly reported by either of the (so-called Democratic) traitorous sheets published in this State. Rest assured, loyal men of North Carolina, that this issue, so far as the elective balance goes, is already settled. The great North and North-West will elect Grant and Colfax without your help. But can you stand idly by and not administer a rebuke to traitors and scheming demagogues? I trust you will not. I know you will not so stand. Republicanism means Freedom, Loyalty, Justice and Honesty. The Democracy of to-day means Treason, War, Bloodshed and Dishonesty! Choose ye, men of North Carolina, and choose wisely, for God sees you, and in your consciences warn you that if you sin you must suffer the consequences.

To those of you who deem that the negro is entitled to the ballot, I have only this to say: If he is a citizen and a freeman, which he is, and will continue to be the difference in the color of his skin is no bar, no more so than it is a bar to him striving for and gaining the same heaven that we all hope to gain, as to the question of his right there can be none. As to his fitness, the question is often raised: Is he fit? I answer, solemnly, in the light of this 18th century of christianity, he is as fit as any man of equal intelligence, and it has been and is already demonstrated that he is more intelligent upon questions of political economy than many of his late white masters, for he is loyal all over, and true to his better and nobler nature, for he suffers wrongs and oppression with christian fortitude, and is too noble to take revenge when the power is in his hands. Deny it who can, the colored men of the Southern States have shown more magnanimity and noble heartedness than the majority of their late (in too many instances cruel) taskmasters.—And I say it without fear of successful contradiction, that their late masters, as a class are astonished, and more than gratified, that such is the case, for conscience pricked and and they feared "that with the measure they had meted it would be meted to them again." It can well be said of the late slaves "well done, good and faithful servants," enter thou into the joys of freedom's happier day. The political millenium has come. All over the world God is showing His great and infinite power. Great and good men are struggling for the oppressed and down-trodden Republicanism is the synonyme of equality before the law and justice to all mankind from his fellow man, is marching on sweeping the prejudices of ages away as dries the dew under God's glorious sun in the morning.

All hail the day whose dawning
Gives to manhood man;
To oppressors and tyrants morning;
Resist it ye who can.
The fiat has in truth gone forth,
Tremble, craven, grovelling clay!
Jehovah hath spoken in the North,
Southward moving freedom's day.
Clear, beautiful, and bright, is breaking,
Resist it, ye who dare, ye may.
But beware of liberty's awaking.
Tyrants and traitors your doom is sealed,
You sold your birthright for ambition.
To "rule or ruin" you appealed,
God heard and, like a skilful physician,
Cut the leashes that bound you slaves,
And gave to this age and generation
Men untramelled with souls to save,
To himself love, justice, peace and veneration.

Yours in truth,
COL. DUKE, JR.

The Democratic Counterfeit.

One year ago Democratic audacity culminated in the deliberate forgery of naturalization papers, to which crime we must credit their success at the last election. Presuming upon the leniency of the public, they have been emboldened to still greater crime, even that of counterfeiting the national currency. We know not to what den or corner to trace the perpetration of this infamy. The outrage should, however, not go unpunished.

By the preachers of repudiation it may have been considered a sharpe dodge to introduce their desperate scheme. But when thousands of ignorant devotees accept their false coinage as genuine money, it becomes necessary to speak in behalf of humanity.

* * * * * *

The counterfeits in question are one dollar bills, fac similes of the genuine with the exceptions that Mr. Seymour's face is substituted for that of Mr. Chase, and the word "bondholders" is inserted for "bearer." The signature of F. E. Spinner, treasurer, written upon them is a deliberate forgery. Mr. Spinner's attention has been called to the counterfeit, and of it he says:

"This paper seems clearly to be of the kind that the law was intended to interdict, and it seems to be equally clear that any person who has done anything in the way of putting it into circulation is equally subject to the pains and penalties denounced by the statute.

When will the Democratic party cease to add the most damning crimes of the calendar to its history? It is yet unwashed of rebellion. It is stained with repudiation. It is besmirched with frauds in naturalization and colonization, and now it stands arraigned for impiously and deliberately falsifying the money of the nation. The American people will see to it that the criminal shall not escape unscathed from the dock. Let the verdict in November be so pronounced as to settle forever the Democratic career of crime.—Phil. Press.
