VIVID STORIES OF DURHAM FIRE

Hotel Clerk Risked All to Save Guests.

SAVED BY A DREAM

Traveling Man Awoke With Shouts of Firemen Ringing in His Ears —Brave Battle With Flames —Many Lost All Except Night Clothes.

Vivid stories of the otel Carrolina were printed in the Durham pa- s. Many guests of the hotel lost rything they had except their night hes, and some narrowly escaped h in the flames.

The Sun tells about T. E. Allison, night, clerk, who lost all his be- ngings, which he might have saved, but which he sacrificed to the flames in his efforts to warn guests of their danger. He gave the alarm to every person in the building. He did this by bravely risking his own life running through the halls and corridors which were densly filled with smoke, and it is o him many of he guests owe their lives. Men rushed down stairs clad only in their night clothes and over-coats. A number of persons acknowledged that they owed their lives to Mr. Allison.

One of the most remarkable incidents of the fire is that of a man whose life was saved by a dream. The story is told by the Herald in the following:

"One of the most peculiar incidents about the fire was an experience of Mr. Paul Slocomb, a traveling man from Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Slocomb undoubtedly owes his life to a dream. He had a room on the third floor and retired early. He had been asleep, probably an hour when he dreamed that the hotel was burned down and all of his money was gone and he was writing for money to cover his expenses. The dream was so vivid that it awakened him and springing from bed he was startled by the cries of the firemen. The room was filled with smoke and without waiting to seize any garments Mr. Slocomb sailed out in a pair of pajamas which he donned when he retired. After reaching the second floor he saw that he still had ample opportunity to escape and rushed back hoping to save his clothes and a large sum of money which he had in his pockets. When he again reached the third floor the smoke was so dense that he was unable to discern anything. Crawling on his hands and knees so as to avoid the stifling smoke he made his way as to what he thought was his room and after grooping around for several minutes discovered that he was in the wrong room. By this time the flames were spreading rapidly and Mr. Slocomb was forced to flee for his life. As he left he hird floor the front ceilings were crashing in and his escape was a narrow one.

"In discussing the matter with a Herald reporter Mr. Slocomb said that he firmly believed he owed his life to the dream. He failed to awaken when the alarm was given and stated that he would undoubtedly have perished had it not been for the dream.

"Another guest, a Mr. Link, was ill in bed and had to be carried from the building. Another guest whose name could not be ascertained managed to grab an overcoat in the excitement and this was all he came out with. He had $500 in his room and this was lost together with all his clothing. A traveling man who occupied a room on the upper floor also lost $200 which in the excitement he left in his room and other guests lost small sums in a similar manner."

The firemen made an intelligent and heroic effort to save the hotel, never relaxing their efforts until the last extremity. As the fire originated on one of the upper floors, Chief Maddry thought his best point of vantage was on the third floor and kept his men there. Suddenly and without warning the plastering of the room in which the fire started crashed down and a moment later flames burst out on every side. The firemen were forced to drop their hose and flee for their lives several of them falling over the stairs in the darkness and smoke and but for the prompt assistance rendered by the more fortunate ones would have met death. Chief Maddry rallied his men, however, and again took up the fight on the inside of the building, the third floor of which was by this time practically a roaring furnace. Step by step the firemen were forced back and seeing that it was impossible to quell the flames from the interior Chief Maddry ordered his men out of the building and placed them so as to protect the adjoining property.

ARITHMETIC AND FOOD.

School Children Should Be Well Fed.

A young girl in Newport says no one has a better right to speak of Grape-Nuts Food than she:

"I was in school, but in poor health, until mamma began to give me Grape-Nuts food. I began to improve at once, both mentally and physically, and I improved so in my work at school that I got 100 in arithmetic, and during that time I gained three or four pounds in weight and am still gaining.

"There is no one who has a right to recommend the food more highly than I. Mamma neglected to supply it for about three weeks and I began to fail in health, so I commenced the use of the food again, and now I don't intend to do without Grape-Nuts."

It is well for parents to know that Grape-Nuts food contains selected elements from the grains, prepared and cooked in such a way as to present these food elements so that they can be quickly digested and assimilated; the phosphate of potash obtained from the field grains, and contained in Grape-Nuts unites with the albumen of food to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the nerve centers and brain.

It is of the greatest importance that growing children and students be given food that sustains both brain and nerves. "There's a Reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

200,000 STRONG

Number of Baracas in World Wide Union

Figures Given by Corresponding Secretary Hampton, of Detroit, Mich., at Tabernacle Last Night.

A large number of the four hundred Baracas in Raleigh and their friends assembled last night in the rooms of the Baraca and Philathea classes of the Tabernacle Baptist Sunday school, the rooms being thrown together and decorated with the class colors. The occasion was the visit to Raleigh of Mr. A. S. Hampton, of Detroit, Mich., corresponding secretary of the Baraca Union of America.

The address was an interesting one, in which Mr. Hampton described various plans for successful work and told of the progress of the work throughout this and other nations. There are over 200,000 Baracas. A monthly paper is published in their interest in Boston and also in Raleigh, N. C. A supply store is maintained in Syracuse, N. Y., and so great is the correspondence and other deliveries of mail relative to the work that there is a probability of changing the name of the present post office to the name of the home of the president of the World Wide Union, Mr. M. A. Hudson.

At the convention at Atlanta ten days ago it was definitely decided to put a secretary in the field for all of his time and funds for this purpose were quickly subscribed.

Following the address of Mr. Hampton, Rev. C. W. Blanchard, editor of the Biblical Recorderdr, and until recently pastor of the Baptist church at Clayton, N. C., was called upon for an expression of his opinion of the work and he paid a most beautiful tribute, declaring that the Baraca class was his most efficient help in his work as a pastor.

Rev. Hight C. Moore, State unday school secretary, of the Baptist denomination, was also present and spoke very enthusiastically in approval of the work as he has observed it all over the State.

After the address refreshments were served and thus ended the program of a most pleasant andprofitable evening.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. R. N. Simms, vice-president of the World Wide Union and teacher of the Taberbacle Baraca class.

SPECIAL TO EXPOSITION.

The Seaboard Will Care for the Crowd to See Last Illumination of Fleet.

The Seaboard is determined to give good service to the Jamestown Exposition, from which there can be no complaint, and those along the line will be given different opportunities to take special trains that will be run by this popular line whenever there are special attractions that will be of interest to the people.

Monday, May 13th, at 7:00 p. m., the grand illumination of the battleships and cruisers in Hampton Roads on the opening date of the Exposition, will be repeated for the last time, and it is expected to be much grander, the fleet number about thirty, and Admiral Harrington, chairman of the naval board, expects the arrival of the Chilian, Brazilian and Japanese squadrons by May 10th, which will anchor in Hampton Roads and take part in this celebration.

The special train will leave Raleigh and Durham at 11:45, a. m., making connection with trains from Louisburg and Oxford, arriving Portsmouth at noon, returning to leave Portsmouth at 11:00 o'clock the same night. Sleepers will be provided on the return trip provided there are sufficient requests for berths made in advance to justify it.

The regular reduced rates authorized account of the exposition will apply on this train.

In Bad Shape.

Insurance Commissioner James R. Young has given notice to the American Guild, of Richmond, Va., to show cause why its license for North Carolina should not be revoked. This organization recently took over the Modern Puritans, of Norfolk, and an examination by the Maryland and Virginia insurance departments showed the organization to be in bad condition.

A HERO IN BLACK.

Brave Deed of the Negro Fireman Watson Deserves Commendation

(Kinston Free Press.)

Later news of the wreck of a Norfolk & Southern engine near Goldsboro Wednesday afternoon is that Engineer George Dunn and Fireman Ed. Watson, colored, though badly scalded will probably recover.

On the train were the two injured men on coals, and when seen by a representative of the Free Press they said they were resting very well. Mr. Dunn had no bones broken and besides some bruises his chief injuries were the burns he received. He was caught under the engine when it turned over and held him fast, with escaping steam pouring on him and coals of fire from the engine on him too. Ed Watson, the colored fireman, though severely injured, crawled to the engineer's assistance and at much risk to himself liberated Mr. Dunp and dragged him to a place of safety from the escaping steam.

Young Dunn, the engineer who was injured, is of a prominent New Bern family and stands high with the officials of the road. Ed Watson, the colored fireman is well known in this city. His unselfish act in saving the life of his chief in the face of great danger to himself was worthy of highest commendation.

Roosevelt Will Not Repeat His Election Night Declaration.

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., May 3.—The statement was authoritatively made today that the President, at present, had no intention of reiterating his declaration made on election night in November, 1904, that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for or accept another nomination. Reports of this character have been current recently and have been brought to the President's attention but from what he has told those close to him, he has no idea in his mind, feeling that there is no necessity for such a reiteration on his part.

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

For more than 30 years has been curing Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and Organic Diseases, and it dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Write today, don't wait until too late.

Clemson Clips Trinity's Wings.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Charlotte, N. C., May 4.—Tables were unexpectedly turned in the Trinity-Clemson game this afternoon and the Methodists, who won by a large majority yesterday were completely shut out this afternoon. Final score, Trinity nothing, Clemson 3. The game was won by Clemson in the first and third innings when several well placed hits off Lane, Trinity's pitcher, gave the Tigers their three runs. The Trinity team held their opponents down during the remainder of the game, but were unable to score. Trinity had three men on bases in the seventh inning, but lost the best chance to win by failure to make a hit. There were 800 people present.

DAM FALLS IN TWO SCORE MEN

Half the Number Are Known to Be Dead

MASONRY WAS FAULTY

Great Weight of Water and Stone Engulfs Workmen, Making an Important Addition to a Large Number of Fatal Disasters in the Same Locality.

(By the Associated Press.)

San Antonio, Texas, May 3.—A special from Chihuahua, Mexico, says:

"Without an instant's warning the great walls of the Chivuscar dam gave way yesterday, engulfing nearly forty men under the immense weight of masonry and water. Between 15 and twenty men are dead and 13 injured and others unaccounted for. Some of the injured will die."

The disaster is only the last of a large number which recently have claimed nearly 200 victims in this State and mostly in the neighborhood of Chihuahua.

The authorities are making a thorough investigation into the present catastrophe and will severely punish those upon whom they place the blame.

The men were working on a foundation close to the foot of the main ramparts of the dam which had already been constructed. The main wall was weak and gave way under the pressure. The dam was being put in for irrigation and stock watering purposes and was a large enterprise.

The loss will be heavy. All the victims were Mexicans.

ACROSS STANLY COUNTY

Prospective Route of the Durham and Charlotte Railroad

Albemarle, N. C., May 3.—The genial clerk of Montgomery county, C. A. Armstrong, was here Saturday with a party of officials of the Charlotte & Durham railway. The road has nearly been completed to Troy and the prospective survey of this seems to look with favor upon Albemarle. If so, the road will pierce this county from east to west, and would mean much to the county as a whole. President Lenning seemed to be most favorably impressed with Albemarle as a town, and the promising future that lies before it

DEDICATION OF $30,000 CHURCH.

By Wilson Methodists Tomorrow—Sermon by Dr. Kilgo and Address by Ex-Gov. Jarvis.

Dr. T. N. Ivey, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, will go to Wilson tonight to be present tomorrow at the dedicatory services of the new $30,000 Methodist church.

The dedicatory sermon will be delivered Sunday morning by Dr. J. C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College. In the afternoon an address will be delivered by ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, of Greenville.

BADLY BATTERED BRUISER.

Young Corbett Put Out of the Game by Kid Sullivan.

(By the Associated Press.)

Baltimore, Md., May 3.—Kid Sullivan tonight knocked out Young Corbett, of Denver, in the eleventh round. The match, which was fought before the Eureka Athletic Club, was scheduled to go 15 rounds. In the rounds in which there was any particular advantage it was with Sullivan. Corbett showed that he was hurt as early as the second round and in the fifth Sullivan knocked im through the ropes. Corbett was then in bad shape but managed to last until the bell. Again in the seventh Corbett was driven through the ropes. In the tenth he was in very bad shape going to the floor for the count. Just before the end of the round in the eleventh, both men showed that they were very tired Corbett being near the point of exhaustion. He was being beaten about the ring when Sullivan landed a good right on the jaw and again Corbett went through the ropes, this time flat on his back, where he lay head to the audience while the referee, Jack McGuigan counted him out. Corbett was pounded so heavily that he was carried to his corner and was not revived for many minutes.

DEATH OF REV. C. T. BLAND.

Clergyman Who Lived to Great Age and Left a Good Record.

Rev. C. T. Bland died at his home in Hickory on Wednesday night of last week, at the age of 88 years. Mr. Bland was rector of the Episcopal church at Wadesboro from about 1861 until 1872, and is well remembered by all the other citizens of the town. He taught school during and after the war and many received an education at his hands who otherwise might have gone through life comparatively ignorant. In this way he did a great work in Wadesboro—a work that has been of lasting good to the community. Mr. Bland was twice married. His last wife and two daughters survive him, as does also a son, Dr. C. A. Bland, of Charlotte, by his first wife.
