TO KEEP LIQUOR OUT OF THE STATE

Anti-Saloon Committee Drafts Bill to Be Presented to Legislature.

EXCLUSION DATE APRIL 1

Wine For Sacremental Use and Grain Alcohol For Medicinal Purposes Exempted--Bill Also Prepared to Prevent Manufacture of Malt Such as is Used in Manufacture of Liquor.

No more shipments of spirituous, vinous, fermented or malt liquors or intoxicating bitters, except wines intended for sacramental purposes and grain alcohol for medicinal purposes will be made into the State of North Carolina after April 1 if the bill prepared by the committee appointed by the Anti-Saloon convention is enacted into law by the present General Assembly. The bill is expected to be introduced in the Legislature today or tomorrow.

The Anti-Saloon committee was in session Monday and yesterday. The following members were present: W. H. Weatherspoon, J. A. Brown, W. S. Shaw, Dr. R. T. Vann and Superintendent Davis. Those absent were Judge J. C. Pritchard and C. H. Ireland.

The committee representing the North Carolina Medical Society, Dr. J. M. Templeton, of the Legislative Committee, Drs. W. S. Rankin and J. R. Gordon, of the State Board of Health, and Dr. I. R. McBrayer, president of the society, met with the Anti-Saloon committee representing their organizations, and requested that in drawing the bill no provision be made to supply drug stores with liquor. The suggestion was incorporated in the bill and the representatives of these organizations will go with the Anti-Saloon League committee before the committees of the Senate and House when the hearing is held.

A bill was also drafted to prohibit the manufacture and sale of malt, such as is used in the manufacture of spirituous liquors.

Text of the Bill.

The caption of the antiuous bill is "An act to prohibit the receipt and delivery of intoxicating liquors," and the following is the text of the bill:

"Whereas exact scientific research has demonstrated that alcohol is a narcotic poison, destructive and degenerating to the human organism, and that its distribution as a beverage lays a staggering economic burden upon the shoulders of the people, lowers to an appalling degree the average standard of character of our citizenship, profuses widespread crime, pauperism and insanity, inflicts disease and untimely death upon hundreds of thousands of citizens and blights with degeneracy their children, rity and the very life of the State. Therefore

"The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

"Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, or any agent, officer or employee thereof, to ship, transport, carry, or deliver in any manner or by any means whatsoever, for hire or otherwise, any spirituous, vinous, fermented or malt liquors or intoxicating bitters, from a point within or without this State, to any person, firm or corporation, or any agent, officer or employee thereof, in this State.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and turns dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of 'Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound,' ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TEACHERS MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

Legislative Committee of State Assembly Holds Session In Raleigh.

The North Carolina teachers will take a hand in the legislative game this afternoon when the Educational committees of the House and the Senate meet. Before that committee will go the representatives of the Legislative committee of the North Carolina teachers' Assembly, and they will present the recommendations framed by that committee in its meeting in the State Departments building last night.

The legislative committee is composed of the following:

J. Y. Joyner, Raleigh; Thos. J. Foust, Greensboro; Miss M. O. Graham, Charlotte; J. J. Blair, Wilmington; I. C. Griffin, Marion; C. C. Wright, Hunting Creek; and H. H. McLean, Farmville.

County Superintendent's Association is represented by A. S. Harrison, Enfield; William McCloskey, Charlotte; R. A. Sentelle, Winnsville; William Thompson, Jacksonville, and C. F. Webb, Oxford.

The City Superintendent's Association is represented by A. T. Allen, Salisbury; H. L. Harding, Charlotte, and E. M. Parker, Raleigh.

Until a late hour last night the committee discussed the pros and cons of the recommendations of Dr. Joyner. These will form the basis of the recommendations which will be laid before the Legislative committee of the House and the Senate today.

The recommendations which have not yet been published in pamphlet form Dr. Joyner stresses the necessity of increased efficiency in teaching and supervision. The first recommendation of Dr. Joyner was toward the uniform examination, graduation and certification of teachers by a State Board of Examiners. This board should be composed of representative superintendents and representative teachers. The expense of it should be borne by a graded system of fees charged against the applicants for certificates.

To answer the need for more effective supervision, Dr. Joyner recommends that the law in force at present be amended to such an extent that each county will have a whole time county superintendent.

These with a number of minor suggestions complete the educational program for this session.

Sir Edward Grey Gives Hot Reply to Von Hollweg.

known of the conversations of 1906 and 1911.

"It would seem to follow that according to Herr Von Bethmann Hollweg a course wrong becomes right if the party which is to be the subject of the wrong foresees the possibility and makes preparations to resist it.

What Mercier Said.

"Those who are content with older and more generally accepted standards are likely to adhere rather with what Cardinal Mercier said in his pastoral letter: 'Belgium was bound in honor to defend her own independence. She kept her oath. Other powers were bound to respect and to protect her neutrality. Germany violated her oath. England kept hers. These are the facts.'

"In the second part of the German Chancellor's thesis, namely, that Germany took her responsibilities toward the neutral states seriously, he alleges nothing except that he spoke frankly of the wrong committed by Germany in invading Belgium.

Why Did Germany Refuse.

"If those responsibilities were in truth taken seriously, why, when Germany was asked to respect the neutrality of Belgium if it were force free by France, did Germany refuse, France, when asked the corresponding question at the same, agreed.

This would have guaranteed Germany from all danger of attack through Belgium.

"The reason of Germany's refusal was given by Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg's colleague, the German Foreign Secretary, Herr Von Jagow:

"They had to advance into France, said Herr Von Jagow, 'by the quickest and easiest way, so as to be able to act well also with their operations and endeavor to strike some decisive blow as early as possible.'

"Germany's real attitude towards Belgium was thus frankly given by the German Foreign Secretary to the French Ambassador and the German Chancellor in his speech to the Reichstag changed the right to commit a wrong in virtue of the military necessity of invasion, for was through. The treaty which he made the wrong was the composition of a mere 'scrap of paper.'

The Statements True.

The truth was spoken in these first statements by the two Germans. Ministers, Ambassadors and statesmen, which have since been forthcoming are after the fact to excuse and explain away a premeditated wrong. Morel, all his attacks upon Great Britain in regard to the treaty and all his show of responsibility toward neutral states, sets the facts from the man who, on Aug. 4, proved Great Britain to be not a barrier, but to deter the violation of the neutrality of Belgium.

"The German Chancellor spoke to that American correspondent of his efforts for years to bring about an understanding between England and Germany. An understanding he added which would have absolutely secured the peace of Europe.

The Price Germany Asked

"He confided to another that Germany demanded as the price of an understanding between England and Germany a promise of Britain's neutrality. The British government is ready to find themselves not to be partners of any coalition against Germany. They were not prepared to pledge their neutrality in case of aggression by Germany.

"An Anglo-German understanding on the latter terms would not have meant an absolute guarantee for the peace of Europe, but it would have meant an absolutely free hand for Germany, so far as England was concerned, to break the peace of Europe.

What Excited the Chancellor.

"The Chancellor said that in his conversation with the British ambassador in August last he may have been a bit excited at seeing the hopes and work of the whole period of his chancellorship going for naught. Considering that at the date of the conversation, August 4, Germany already had made war on France, the natural conclusion that the shipwreck of the Chancellor's hopes consisted not in a European war, but in the fact that England had not agreed to stand out of it.

Peace Proposal Refused.

"Herr Von Bethmann Hollweg refused the proposal which England put forward and in which France, Italy and Russia concurred, for a conference at which the dispute would have been settled in a fair and honorable terms without war. If he really wished to work with England for peace why did he not accept that proposal? He must have known after the Italian conference in London that England could be trusted to play fair. Herr Von Jagow had given testimony in the Reichstag to England's good faith in those negotiations.

Not Good Ethical Teacher.

"The second part of the interview with an American newspaper correspondent consists of a discussion of the ethics of the war. The things Germany has done in Belgium and in France have to be passed on, regard by those who have suffered from them and who know them at first hand. After this it does not lie with the Germans, himself to read to the other belligerents a lecture on the conduct of the war.

STATE 'VARSITY SHOWS GROWTH

President's Report Shows Registration Now of 1002, Gain of 114 Over Last Year.

MEMORIAL TO STRANGE

Inauguration of President Graham on April 21 Promises to be a Most Notable Event. Trustees Will Ask Legislature for $125,000 for Maintenance.

Remarkable growth in all departments and an excellent internal condition and spirit at the University of North Carolina was shown in the report submitted to the board of trustees of the institution at their meeting yesterday in the governor's office by President Edward K. Graham.

The registration is 1002, a gain of 114 over last year. All sections and all classes in the State are represented in the enrollment. The report called attention of the fact that the growth is evenly distributed over the various departments and classes, except the freshman class, which has been kept at about the same figure. It points out the advisability of holding it at this figure by increased entrance standards, and in this connection outlines the pressing problem of meeting the demand for continued growth and efficiency.

Constructive Institution.

The report defines the unique work and place of the University as a constructive State institution, its relation to the development of the State, and enhances its success in extending its resources more widely, reviews the activities of the students and specifies in detail its needs for maintenance and material equipment.

The President transmitted to the board also the reports of the deans of the college of Liberal Arts, and applied science, the graduate school and the various professional schools, together with those of the registrar, treasurer, and the business manager. A full and minute statement is made of the income and disbursements and of the management of the public service plants, and a diagram given of the plan of University organization. The report is supplemented by a report of the visiting committee, giving an account of an investigation made of the University plant and its administration, and containing interesting comparisons of the cost of its maintenance with the cost of other Universities in the South.

The whole report makes a pamphlet of one hundred and seven pages and gives in careful detail the facts of University management as well as discussion of the problems arising out of them.

The board will request the Legislature to make an annual appropriation of $125,000 for maintenance, instead of $90,000, the present amount, it will present its needs for permanent improvements without asking for any specific amount.

Graham Inauguration.

The inauguration of President Graham on April 21 is expected to be one of the most notable occasions in the State's history, the committee on inauguration reporting the acceptance of invitations by a number of the most prominent educators of the country. President Lowell, of Harvard, President Alderman, of the University of Virginia, President Goodnow, of Johns Hopkins, and President John H. Finley, of the University of the State of New York, will be among the speakers.

Memorial to Bishop Strange.

In connection with the announcement of the desire of classmates of Bishop Robert Strange to place a memorial tablet in Memorial Hall it was voted that the University should place the memorial of Bishop Strange in the hall.

A gift of the late Sol. Weil of $1,000, the interest to be devoted to a memorial, and the gift of a death mask of Charles D. Mclver by Sculptor Bockstuhl, were reported.

Executive Committeemen.

The following were elected members of the Executive Committee for the next three years: Claudius Dockery, John W. Graham, J. Bryan Grimes, I. Y. Joyner, Walter Murphy. With the exception of Mr. Murphy these were all reelections. Mr. Murphy was elected to take the place of Maj. E. J. Hale, who is out of the country serving as minister to Costa Rica.

The following were present yesterday:

Governor Craig, chairman; Dr. Edward K. Graham, president of the University, R. D. W. Connor, secretary, Col. J. Bryan Grimes, C. W. Worth, Thos. H. Battle, Col. Benehan Cameron, Wm. Reid Dalton, J. E. Swain, P. J. Long, Zeb V. Walser, J. Kenyon Wilson, W. N. Everett, Walter Murphy, Prof. F. P. Hobgood, M. J. Hawkins, Jas. A. Gray, Jr., James D. Proctor, R. A. Doughton, Fred J. Coxe, Charles C. Loughlin, Haywood Parker, Judge J. S. Manning, Dr. Charles Lee Smith, James M. Carson, Robert S. Hutchison, Charles Whedbee, Dr. Richard H. Lewis, John A. Parker, Col. A. B. Andrews, Dr. J. Y. Joyner, John Lamb, John Sprunt Hill, Maj. W. A. Guthrie, Maj. H. A. London, Judge A. W. Graham, F. T. Bartwell, E. A. Abernethy, Judge W. P. Bynum and Victor S. Bryant.

WHAT LEADS TO TUBERCULOSIS?

In the opinion of many medical authorities, the development of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) is hastened if not actually precipitated, by a loss of lime from the system. "Where there is a decalcification, the lime salts must be supplied medicinally," says Dr. J. W. Carhart, of San Antonio, Texas, in the May, 1913, issue of "Medical Progress."

To supply these necessary salts has in many instances proved a difficult matter in some forms they are not easily assimilable.

In Eckman's Alterative however, a combination of lime is combined as to be assimilated by the average person without digestive disturbance, and to this, in part, is due the success of this remedy in the treatment of tuberculosis and chronic throat and bronchial affections.

We make no boastful claims for Eckman's Alterative, but a careful review of results obtained during years of widespread use warrants the assertion that many such cases apparently have yielded to it.

It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit forming drugs, hence its use is not attended with danger. Your druggist has it or will order it, or you can send direct.

say Charlie. Where will the trained officers come from to handle our volunteers, our militia establishment is almost short and can all stand out more for boundaries. Senator Gallinger is asking for more officers and enlisted men now. The only real solution is to give our people to our needs and all will be correctly adjusted. Hurrying such legislation leads to the opposite end of a mile. Note of a warning to when those come we were in all officers and plenty of them.

A HAPPY BALD HEADED MAN

Well-known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has New Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A Western politician, well known on account of his baldness and ready wit, surprised his friends by appearing with a new growth of hair. Many of his old friends did not know him and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the remarkable growth of my hair to the use of the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, stops scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."
