LOCAL RECORDS.

SCHEDULE PITTSBORO' R. R.

The passenger train on the Pittsboro' railroad leaves Pittsboro' daily, except Sundays, at 8.10 a. m. and 4.00 p. m., and arrives at Pittsboro' at 11.10 a. m., and 5.55 p. m., making close connection at Moncure with the trains on the R. & A. A. L. R. R. going to and coming from Raleigh.

☞ Try a paper of those Pins for 5 cents at O. S. Poe & Son's.

☞ If you want a handsome suit of clothes at a low price, go to McIvers, Sanford, N. C.

☞ The best line of gents Hats and dress Shirts to be found in Pittsboro' at O. S. Poe & Son's.

☞ Yesterday's rainfall, though light, will prove a great blessing to the farmers in this neighborhood.

☞ Dogwood, Persimmon and Hickory timber and Cedar Posts wanted at the Shuttle Mill, at Pittsboro'.

☞ Next week's RECORD will contain a full report of the proceedings of the county Sunday school convention. Extra copies a nickle apiece.

☞ The "semi-tontine" plan of insurance is fully explained in another column, and should be carefully considered by all who wish to insure.

☞ Master Prentiss Tarry brought to the RECORD office yesterday a lively kitten that had the letter "N" plainly marked on its head, being born so.

☞ One thousand yards of Chantilly Muslin (similar to Pine Apple Tissue), only 5c a yard, beautiful patterns, received today, at O. S. Poe & Son's.

☞ Bishop Lyman will visit this place next week, and hold services Tuesday night at St. James' Chapel and on Wednesday night at St. Bartholomew's Church.

☞ A beautiful line of White Dress Goods, Aprons, Flouncings, 500 yards pretty dress Gingham only 5 cents a yard, Cosmos Suitings, 4-4 Swiss Zephyrs, in neat designs, at O. S. Poe & Son's.

☞ Some days ago while Mr Joshua H. Ward, of Williams township, was plowing, a swarm of bees alighted on his mule's head and began to sting it so bad that the mule ran away with the plow.

☞ We regret to hear of the death of the wife of Mr. Charles L. Brown of this township, which occurred on last Thursday. She was 67 years old and had been a consistent member of the Baptist church for 47 years.

☞ Some scoundrel changed the switch on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad at Siler City, on last Saturday night, and when the through freight came along it ran on the side track and knocked off a box car that was standing there.

☞ $5,118 17 was paid by the owners of land in this county, shortly after the war, as the direct land tax which, by an act of the last Congress, will be refunded to the persons who paid it or to their legal representatives.

☞ Through the carelessness or ignorance of a mail agent on the R. & A. A. L. railroad no mail for this place was put off at Moncure, on last Tuesday afternoon. And yet Wanamaker pretends to believe in civil service reform!

☞ Persons attending the Sunday school convention are cordially invited to call and see Bynum & Headen' large and varied stock of general merchandise, consisting of all the varieties generally found in a first class store.

☞ The best stock of Dress Goods in the county and by far the cheapest can be found at W. L. London & Son's, also nice Fans, Parasols, Ruchings and other fancy goods. And you gentlemen who want a cheap, nice suit of clothes, or any other gents' goods, can find them at W. L. London & Son's.

☞ When you come to the Sunday School Convention be sure and call and see W. L. London & Son's tremendous stock of goods. They have received and will receive this week another large lot of ladies' and children's Hats, Flowers, &c. Their fashionable Baltimore Milliner will be pleased to show them to you.

☞ A peculiar bug has been presented to the RECORD's museum by Mr. Haughton Ihrie, which he found in the creek near the rectory. It has a sharp sting in its tail, nearly half an inch long, which it shoots back and forth, and when found it had shot its sting through the body of a small snake, which was vainly struggling and wriggling to get loose, and which finally died in the clutches of the bug.

☞ The Commencement exercises of the Thompson School, at Siler City, will be held on the 10th and 11th of June, and as all the ladies who attend them will wish to look their best, Hadley, Peoples & Co. are now offering them special inducements in all Millinery and Dress Goods. They have a select stock of Albatross, Nun's Veiling, Mousseline, Embroidery Flouncings, Laces, Ribbons, Gloves, &c. Their Millinery department is under the charge of Miss Webb, a fashionable Milliner from Baltimore.

MAD DOG.—Every week we hear of a mad dog. They are becoming an alarming nuisance, and it is prudent for everybody to be prepared against them. Mr. S. S. Stroud, of Baldwin township, informs us that, several days ago, while he and his family were eating supper a strange mad dog ran into the dining room and bit two dogs and a cat, that were under the table, and then jumped out of the window. Next day it bit several other dogs, and some hogs and calves, in the neighborhood and was finally killed near White Cross, in Orange county.

These mad dog scares may result in one good thing, and that is the killing of many worthless curs and thus protect the sheep.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.—The grand jury submitted the following report before the adjournment of court last week:

"We, the grand jury of May term of the superior court of Chatham county, would report that we have visited the poor house and jail, and that we find everything in good condition and that the inmates expressed themselves as being well pleased with the treatment received at the hands of the overseer and wife. The committee sent to the poor house report also that there is need of more cattle to consume the forage.

In regard to the jail we report that we visited the jail in a body and found it in good condition and well attended to.

J. R. GUNTER, Foreman."

PITTSBORO' KNITTING MILL.—The knitting mill, recently erected at this place, is now in full operation. There was a delay about starting because of the difficulty in getting experienced operatives. Finally an expert from Philadelphia was sent for to teach the operatives who had been employed from the surrounding country, and they have learned quite rapidly. They are paid in proportion to their work, and already some of them are earning good wages which will continue to increase as they become more skilled.

Only socks are made at this mill, and its capacity is sixty dozen pair a day, and they are of an excellent quality. The brand given them is in compliment to the famous Alliance Congressman from Kansas, Hon. Jerre Simpson, and is very alliterative, being "The Sockless Simpson Seamless Sock". We hope that this enterprise will meet with great success, and its projectors be encouraged to enlarge it at an early day.

SPECIAL COURT.—The May term of our superior court closed on last Saturday, and Judge McIver departed for home that afternoon. The following civil cases were tried:

J. L. Hall against Leander Tillman and others; action for damages for detention of a saw-mill, verdict, $134 damages against defendants; appeal to the Supreme court. This case has been on docket for seven or eight years.

John W. Perry against Fox, Wrenn & Co.; appeal from justice's court for a premium of $3 offered by defendants for the best bushel of wheat raised with Navassa guano and exhibited at the Siler City fair in 1887; verdict in favor of defendants; new trial granted.

W. A. Lonington against H. M. Lewter and J. O. Lewter; action for conversion of a lot of cotton; verdict in favor of defendants.

Eli M. Teague against Minnie Teague; action for divorce; judgment rendered for divorce.

Tom Boggs against Susan Boggs; action for divorce; divorce granted.

Oliver Lambe against H. M. Love; appeal from county commissioners establishing a road about a mile and a half long; jury could not agree, and mistrial. This is the second time that this case was tried and the jury disagreed. Costly.

At each trial many witnesses were examined and much time was consumed, and it is greatly to be regretted that the case will have to be tried over again.

S. S. CONVENTION.—As heretofore announced, the Chatham County Sunday School Convention will be held at this place on next Tuesday, and will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock. All friends of the great cause of Sunday schools are invited to attend, and it is hoped that a large crowd will be present. For the accommodation of persons in the Southern part of the county, a special train will leave Moncure at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and arrive here at 8.45 a. m. The price for a round trip ticket will be only 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The following will be the programme of exercises:

A Man Hung Himself.

ORE HILL, N. C., May 11, 1891.

EDITOR RECORD: On May the 8th, 1891, Robert H. Jones, of Bear Creek township, committed suicide by hanging himself with a new plow line. He hung himself soon after noon. The rest of the family were not at home at the time. He was found about three o'clock. He was not taken down until an hour by sun. He hung himself in an apple tree in twenty feet of his door. He had been drinking for some time and a bottle was found in his pocket when taken down. He was about 50 years old and leaves a wife and two or three children. The arrangement was carried out to perfection. He walked up the steps of a flower stand that was at the foot of the tree and got up higher, broke off a few small limbs, tied the rope nicely and slid off. Was shaved and dressed in his Sunday clothes; necktie and cuff buttons well arranged. His father shot himself during the war and a few years ago his mother hung herself.

Neighborhood News.

SIMMONS GROVE, N. C., May 12th, 1891.

Dry weather has caused the ground to get so hard that in many places it is impossible to plow and plant.

The frost killed the cotton that was up and it will have to be planted over. The prospect for corn and cotton crops is not encouraging.

The horse disease is still raging. Two of my neighbors lost a horse a few days ago.

Yesterday was the Quaker Quarterly, and all the talk among the young folks was the difficulty which took place at Liberty between two base ball clubs on Saturday. Nobody got hurt, only in temper.

Stealing has not ceased yet in this neighborhood. Saturday night a young man attempted to capture one of our neighbor's daughter, but being discovered by the old folks he made a retreat in tolerable good order, under the circumstances, without his sweetheart.

It is said two men in this section have license to marry the same girl, but it is not known which one will be successful.

H. C. Vestal and son killed three chubs at two shots in Brush Creek, a few days ago, that weighed 12 lbs., averaging 6¾ lbs.

Mr. Editor, I must give the readers of the RECORD a little Masonic news and also a little Alliance news, unbeknown to the editor. Siler City lodge is on a boom. At our last meeting four ladies and one man joined. The ladies brought their baskets and we walled off for refreshments, and on a temporary table on the lower hall was spread fine cake and ice cream and we took refreshments twice but did not consume it all. The Hall will be dedicated in June. Come up, Mr. Editor, and make us a speech, and Siler City ladies will make you wish you was a Mason. B.

State News.

New Berne Journal: Yesterday Ellis Edwards, an industrious and fairly well off colored man who lives at Maple Cypress, about twenty four miles from New Berne, walked to the city after his buggy which had been repaired at Mr. J. H. Watson's factory, and then walked back home pulling the buggy with him. He did this, he said, to give his horse a rest so that he would be ready for a big day's work. Edwards attracts much attention as he trotted out of town at a lively rate, strapped to the buggy by plow lines.

Greensboro' Patriot: Mrs. P. R. Hines, whose maiden name was Cobb, is just in receipt of a letter from Germany, containing the pleasing intelligence that her great grand father left an estate valued at $6,000,000, and that she is one of fourteen heirs. This would give Mrs. Hines over $400,000 of the estate. The family is now striving to find the other thirteen heirs, and we understand there will be little difficulty in doing so as their names are given. Mr. Hines lives in this vicinity, and her husband has charge of the Benbow dairy farm. She is a worthy lady and not altogether without means, but to step from a dairy maid to the position of a millionaress, would be a happy turn in fortune's wheel not in the life of many North Carolinians.

Durham Sun: James Strudwick, a colored man who has been digging a well in Richard Fitzgerald's yard at East Durham, was severely hurt this morning by an explosion. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock while James was down in the well tamping a hole with a steel bar. His body was thrown up several feet by the explosion but fell back to the bottom of the well. He had several workmen on the ground above, and they ran to the edge of the well immediately after they heard the report and calling to the unfortunate man to hold on to the rope and they would draw him out. He did as he was told and they soon had him out of the well. He had two wounds on the right arm cut to the bone and one on the left, while his breast was badly bruised and his eyes are seemingly out. And it is thought that he is hurt internally.

Lymph Cures Consumption.

PITTSBURG, May 9.—James McAnally, who was given up with consumption six months ago, will leave the West Penn Hospital in this city on Monday entirely cured after receiving the Koch lymph treatment for about ten weeks. Fifty three injections were administered to him. Five patients have been under treatment of Prof. Chris Lange, D. M., at the hospital during the last three months. Two died and the other three have been discharged as cured.

Semi-Tontine Insurance.

WHAT IS THE SEMI TONTINE PLAN OF THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY?

DEC. T. Brockway.

The growing popularity of this plan renders desirable a simple and untechnical explanation of its workings.

"Semi Tontine" is not a peculiar KIND OF POLICY, but rather a peculiar way of using profits or dividends on ORDINARY policies so as to produce EXTRAORDINARY results.

Suppose a thousand of us to take policies in the company the year on such of the various plans as we may each prefer. Ordinarily each one would receive each dividend to reduce his payments in future years, but in view of certain advantages to be gained, we agree with one another, in this case, to forego dividends for a certain period of time, say twenty years—that is, the surplus earned on our policies is allowed to accumulate for that length of time, and then the proceeds are divided among those of our number who live out the time and pay all the premiums. If any of us die during the time, our heirs get the full amount of the policy, but have no share in this fund of dividends. If any of us stop paying after three, four or more years, we get paid up policies, but no dividends. None of us can draw a dollar from the fund till the end of the period, though we can have a statement of our contingent interest in it at any time we like after three years. Finally, at the end of the period, the entire accumulation is divided among those who have lived and paid through the time.

Now let us see how this plan works. In the first place the fund per capita is increasing; dividends are added to dividends, the compound interest piling up, and the fund grows faster and faster, year after year, till it reaches a large sum at the end of the period.

In the meantime the number of persons interested is constantly decreasing; some drop out and some die—not many at first—but more and more as time passes and the members grow older, so that every year shows more money in the fund and a less number of persons to share it.

Now suppose, at the end of the twenty years, there are four hundred persons left of the original thousand. Then the division is made, the four hundred will get all the dividends that would otherwise have been paid to the thousand, with accumulations at compound interest. The advantages to the four hundred are apparent at a glance, and at the same time the plan is eminently just and equable to all, for it gives the LARGEST RANK to the representatives of those who die, and the PROFITS to those who put in profitable by living, while those who cease paying during the period are entitled to paid up insurance, thus doing away with the risk of forfeiture in case of inability to continue payment of premiums.

Finally, at the end of the period each policy holder is allowed his choice of several methods of settlement. He may simply draw his share of the accumulated dividends and continue his insurance—or, besides drawing his dividends, he may terminate his policy and draw out his entire cash value (legal reserve), thus making his insurance practically an endowment—or he need not draw any cash, but may take the entire value in paid up insurance, provided he is then in good health. (There are also other options.)

No man can tell how he will be situated twenty years hence. He may be greatly in need of money, or he may not want money but want insurance. By this plan he may have all money, or all insurance, or part of each as suits him best at the time. In view of the many changes that are certain to occur in such a period of time, and especially of the tremendous risk of business (and statistics show that only three out of a hundred business men are permanently successful), it is hardly possible to overestimate the importance of these privileges.

The above is, in outline, the Semi Tontine plan. It varies slightly in its application to different kinds of policies.

It is the deliberate judgement of very many of the best business men of the country that the PERFECTED SEMI TONTINE of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company is the best thing in the way of Life Insurance ever offered.

For further information apply to James D. Brooks, District Agent, Pittsboro' N. C.

The proposition to take Richland township from Beaufort county and annex it to Pamlico was defeated by a large majority.

On the River Raine.

A fair damsel and her lover were walking on the banks of the river Raine, when the lady espied a light blue flower on the edge of the stream and expressed a desire for the flower. The lover, in attempting to get it, fell in the water and was drowned—but he got the flower and threw it to her, exclaiming as he sank, "Forget me not," hence the cause of forget me nots. She always remembered this affair. So with many ladies who have taken advantage of the Sacrifice Dress Goods sale now going on at Swindell's.

All of our nice dress goods are being sold at actual New York cost, as we are to move in our new store on Fayetteville street in August and none of our dress goods have to be moved.

We received this week 40 fine screen panels in black and light, highly ornamented with images of birds in gilt. We are selling these panels at $2.25, and they are richly worth $5.00; also a lot of grate screens in daps, very low.

Call and examine these goods at D. T. Swindell's, cor. of Martin and Wilmington Streets, Raleigh, N. C.

Saved by a Little Girl.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., May 7.—An attempt this morning to wreck a train on the C. H. Valley road at Rocky Hill was frustrated by a little girl of ten. She discovered a pile of ties on the track just around a sharp curve, and, with rare presence of mind for a child, rushed down the track towards the train and waved a red shawl at the engineer.
