LOCAL MENTIONS.

SCHEDULE PITTSBORO' R. R.

The passenger train on the Pittsboro' railroad leaves Pittsboro' daily, except Sundays, at 8:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., and arrives at Pittsboro' at 11:45 a. m. and 5:45 p. m., making close connection at Moncure with the trains that leave Raleigh at 10:10 a. m. and 1:40 p. m.

—A good buggy and saddle horse for sale CHEAP. Apply to J. J. Jackson.

—Most complete line of men's and boy's hats in Pittsboro at Bynum & Headen's.

—Bynum & Headen are now receiving the largest and best selected stock of goods they have ever had.

—A fence is being placed around the academy grounds, which is an improvement that has long been needed.

—The railroad fare from here to the State Fair, next week, will be only $1.35, which includes one admission to the Fair grounds.

—Another car load of that popular brand of wheat fertilizer to arrive at Bynum & Headen's this week. Highest grade on the market.

—The circus will be held in Mr. Jacob Thompson's field, opposite Mr. Terry's residence and south of Mr. Holt's, which is a very convenient location.

—A position as a teacher wanted by J. L. Coggin, Redmond, N. C., who has had ten years experience. He can furnish the best recommendations.

—New goods, pretty goods, good goods and cheap goods arriving daily at Bynum & Headen's, just what the ladies want as well as for men. Come and see them.

—We cannot understand why the ex Confederate soldiers of Chatham do not follow Mr. W. W. Edwards' good example, and write for the RECORD their reminiscences of the war. Who will be the first to respond?

—Mrs. Ann Alston, of Hickory Mountain township, is critically sick and her death is daily expected. She is the widow of Mr. Philip Alston, who died over forty years ago, and is the oldest survivor of the Alston family, well known in the history of this State.

—Have you seen the new goods at W. L. London & Son's? The ladies all say they are the handsomest ever shown in this market. They have the best [illegible] costs and prices [illegible] you to call and see them.

—They now have opened the finest line of dress goods at W. L. London & Son's ever shown in this market, and their prices are as low as any market. Would call your especial attention to the splendid line of black goods and silk waists. Come and see them.

—Quite a number of the members of the N. C. Press Association are attending the Atlanta Exposition this week. They will also take an excursion to Chattanooga and Nashville, Tennessee. We wish them all a delightful trip and regret that we cannot enjoy it with them.

—W. H. Edwards, dentist, will visit Bynum on Monday and Tuesday, and Pittsboro' on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, following the third Sunday of each month, prepared to do all kind of dental work. Crown and bridge-work a specialty. Office in Dr. Crapon's office.

—On last Saturday Raleigh lost two prominent and useful citizens, Messrs. W. G. Upchurch and D. T. Swindell. The former was well known in Chatham, having been born and reared near the Wake and Chatham county line, and ever since his arrival at man's estate had been a merchant at Raleigh.

—The regular quarterly meeting of the county alliance was held here on last Thursday, and the attendance was so small that very few citizens of this place knew that any meeting was being held. Some years ago, before the populists had captured the Alliance, its quarterly meetings here were largely attended and attracted a considerable crowd to town.

PERSONAL ITEMS.—Mr. and Mrs. Spence Taylor have returned home from Greensboro, where he had been quite sick but is now nearly well.

After a sickness of nearly two weeks the editor of the RECORD "crawled out" yesterday and hopes to be all right in a few days.

Mrs. Fanny T. Taylor has gone on a visit to Mrs. Reuben A. Sanders, in Johnston county, who is critically sick.

Mrs. Herbert F. Norris, of Apex, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Cross.

Mrs. A. G. Headen has gone on a visit to her old home in Caswell county.

OUR NEW QUARTERS.—The RECORD will today move into its new offices on the second floor of W. L. London & Son's new brick store. These offices occupy a space of 20 by 56 feet and are three in number, and are as comfortable as those occupied by any country weekly in the State. The latch-string will hang out and a cordial welcome will be extended, as heretofore, to all the RECORD's many friends.

The old RECORD building will be torn down at once and its site left vacant as a protection to the new building against fire. The tearing down of the RECORD building will remove one of the old landmarks of our ancient Borough. It was erected at least seventy-five years ago as a part of the old "Eagle Hotel", and was occupied some weeks by the visiting lawyers, of whom a great many more attended our courts before the war than since. Among them were some of the most distinguished lawyers of the State. For instance there were Judge Badger, Gov. Manly, Senator Haywood, Gen. Haywood, Henry W. Miller. Could those old rooms could talk what interesting reminiscences they could relate!

The editor of the RECORD bought the building in the spring of 1879, and has occupied it ever since, and naturally we feel some regret at parting with an old friend, but such is life.

"WHAT THE FACTS ARE COMING".—Such is the joyful exclamation that is now being continually uttered by the children of this community, and indeed by some of the old folks. Yes, for the first time in about forty years a "show concern" is coming here with its elephants, lions, tigers, camels, etc. Our older citizens well remember old Joan Robinson's circus which used to travel through the country (before there were so many railroads) with its own wagons. It usually exhibited at three places in this county one day at St. Lawrence, the next day at the place, and the third day at Lassiter's X Roads, not exactly here and Raleigh, and great crowds would attend, for the coming of the circus was the greatest event of the year.

Since the war all the circuses travel exclusively on the railroads, and some years had visited our place, for we had not claimed here sufficient patronage, and thus our county was kept entirely free. But this an enterprising circus agent has found out that Pittsboro' is and has always been at its most for a good exhibition, and has selected it as one of the most favorable places for an exhibition, and so on Sunday, the 20th of this month, Barnum, Bailey, Hutchinson, Konow, Cross, Hutchinson & Konow's mammoth consolidated shows will be here. This circus has travelled in this state several years and is said to be one of the best. Among its performers are some native North Carolinians. It travels on its own train of cars and is thoroughly equipped in every respect.

Probably there will be very few persons present who do not go to the circus, because money and time will be necessary for a circus to visit on an exhibition. Its daily expenses are enormous, and would be simply ruinous but for the very small sum it charges for admission. Of course, we do not say that it will be worth the necessary expenses of Hunting, Fishing, Shooting, Horse, Buggy, Gun and Dog, but we know some the already agent, who made some arrangements for pay and board for the animals, board and lodging for the employees, and for the exhibition, and he wants to travel through the county posting up his bills. The advance agent made all the preliminary arrangements, and a week or two before arrived the advertising agent with several men in his specially prepared car. This agent quickly posted the town with gaudy pictures, and sent wagons over the county to display them at every public place, so that every man, woman and child in Chatham will know that there is to be a circus in Pittsboro, and which no doubt will attract as large a crowd as a hanging would. Next week another advertising car will come with more attractive pictures, to take the places of any that may be torn down.

Then, finally, on the day before the 20th the circus cars will arrive with stock, and horses, and a busy, bustling crowd will be with what a period several, and how quickly, everything will be unloaded, the large tents erected and everything and everybody ready for the performance. It does indeed seem wonderful, for apparently case and lightning like rapidity with which so many so circus can be unloaded, tents erected and prepared for an exhibition!

Of course there will be a great many conscientious persons, who condemn a circus, but who will come here on the 20th in order to let their children see the animals". Of course, they say, there is no harm in this, for a visit from a menagerie is an instructive object lesson in natural history. A court who once saw the large elephant, or the fierce lion, will never forget it.

For the Record.

Letter From Russia.

TAGANROG, RUSSIA,

We arrived rather late in Warsaw and immediately drove through the entire length of the city to the great Moscow station, which is situated on the other side of the river. Warsaw is the ancient capital of Poland, and although it has long departed from out of Poland, it still holds its place among the grandest cities of Europe. No traveller can go through the city of Warsaw, especially if he knows Polish, without being moved to tears by the pitiful appeal for the people where capital Warsaw once was. Nearly every street and public place marks the scene of some battle or the execution of some great patriot. We visited one of the cemeteries, with its monuments which serve to entirely a whole history within itself. I doubt if see the monument of Poland's greatest hero Kosciusko although the city is particularly rich in monuments. This Kosciusko was the same who fought so valiantly for American independence, which being achieved he returned to his native country only to see its final partition among the three great powers Russia, Germany and Austria. He was confined for a long time in prison at St. Petersburg, and at his liberation the Czar offered him his sword, which he refused on the ground that he had no country to defend.

On the monument that has been erected to his memory there is soil from all the battle fields in America where he fought.

The Poles are a brave and patriotic people but the prospect for the restoration of their lost independence seems more remote than ever.

Warsaw is as great in beauty and picturesqueness as in its past memories. The city is situated on the Vistula, which is spanned by a beautiful iron bridge. The streets are broad, well lighted and beautifully ornamented. The old palace of the Kings now the residence of the governor general of Poland was the prettiest building that I saw. It is a strongly Roman Catholic city and the churches are very pretty. The city swarms with beggars who are particularly numerous about the church doors, so much so as to render the entrance sometimes difficult. The city is very aristocratic and every street car has a first and second class apartment, the only difference being in price. It is said there is no middle class in Poland—but only the rich and high born nobles and the poverty stricken proletariate.

My observation in Warsaw convinced me of the truth of this assertion. I visited an exposition there where among other very interesting things were samples of cotton from all countries in the world and the cotton from Carolina headed the list, as being the best in quality.

The police regulations are very strict in Warsaw, and the police stopped my passport shortly after I arrived.

We took a fast train bound for Moscow the next day at one o'clock, feeling much better for having rested in Warsaw. I got a good seat and a beggar boy came to ask me for some money. The conductor was pretty close behind him, and he started and ran my seat. When I left the train he was still there stealing beyond in Moscow.

Presently I heard another great commotion and looking up saw a woman with an infant in her arms and the conductor trying to pull her off the train. She was evidently a stranger and carried him and the baby both. She spoke few German and the jokes on the train endeared us and foreign samples. The poor conductor was evidently disgusted with his unwelcome visitor.

I spoke to the woman in German which she understood and told me she was an American from New York. She had lost her passport and baggage and was determined to embark for them without paying for it although she showed me a roll of greenbacks amounting to 600 rubles. I directed her to the American consul in Warsaw and bade her adieu.

The War in Cuba.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Passengers arriving by the steamer Yumuri from Havana today say that the rebellion is spreading westward. Three bands of insurgents have appeared in districts which have hitherto been quiet. One party of 200 men, half of whom were said to be Spaniards, pass in the vicinity of Batabano, twenty-five miles from Havana and the other here terminus of the railroad which runs across the island from Havana. Another party has risen in Melena Del Sur. It has 300 men and the third party is at Yiquiro, the place where the rebellion first broke out, and where quiet was restored last February. In the last party there were 150 men. The news of these risings have caused great excitement in Havana. It is also reported that Maximo Gomez has 1,500 men in Cienguey and with 2,000 men marching toward Las Villas.

Disastrous Prairie Fire.

WINNIPEG, MAN., Oct. 13.—A fearful prairie fire, fanned by a high wind, swept the district of St. Vital, near Winnipeg, last night. The farmers are heavy losers.

At Elm Creek the small depot of the Canadian Pacific Railway was threatened, Thomas Ronan, the section foreman, and Edward Lenan, his assistant, turned out to fight the fire.

The flames came upon them with race horse speed, cutting off escape. Ronan was burned to death on the track. Lenan, horribly burned, crawled to the section house, where he died within a few hours.

The two sons of Alphonse St. Germain ran out to save their father's haystacks. Arthur, aged twelve, was burned to death on the field. John, the elder brother, cannot recover.

Communication with various burned points is destroyed.

Newborn Journal: Mr. R. B. Heath, of Cove Creek on Tuesday of a curious monstrosity that came under observation. Four weeks ago while in newly cleared ground near his home he came across a newly hatched chicken, without knowing at first how to account for it. Investigating, a partridge nest was discovered close by, with the shell of a nest full of partridge eggs and one hen egg. The hen had evident by laid in a partridge's nest and the bird had hatched the egg along with her own.

The Mississippi river is at its lowest point at St. Louis in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and navigation is practically suspended.

An Electrician Killed.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—Franklin Leonard Pope, an electrician whose skill has made him prominent throughout the electrical world, lost his life tonight by means of the same mysterious force that has made him famous.

The accident happened in Mr. Pope's residence at 6 o'clock, when it came time to turn on the electricity to light the house. For some reason the lights did not work to the satisfaction of Mr. Pope, and he went to the cellar where the converter is located to see if he could remedy the trouble. Soon after he descended the stairs members of the family in the upper part of the house heard him fall and the lamp explode and they ran to ascertain if he was hurt.

Mr. Pope was found lying beside the converter, lifeless. Three thousand volts had passed through his body.

A Fire at the Exposition.

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 15.—There was considerable excitement on the Midway at the exposition grounds this afternoon. It was soon quelled by a fire which started in the building occupied by the Old Naval Museum, one of the concessions on the Midway, and then caught on the newly completed street of the Hagenbeck show. That building was entirely destroyed but a considerable portion of the plantation building was saved. The buildings burned caught fire for awhile, on account of the wind which it was thought, but the flames finally succeeded in getting under control and soon had it extinguished.

Street Car Accident.

Special to the News and Observer.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 12.—This afternoon a trolley car of the Wilmington Street Railway Company jumped the track as it came down the bridge on the Carolina Central Railroad near Hilton, and plunged down from thirty feet to the track below, fatally wounding Mr. Richard Bremer of the power house, and slightly injuring Mr. [illegible] and seriously injuring Simon Lewis, colored.

The car had been recently overhauled and was under a trial trip by officials of Messrs. R. Bradley & Co. There were only a couple on the car.

Five Children at the Same Day.

DELPHI, O., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Joseph Langdon, the wife of a farmer living near here, gave birth to triplets, which joined to her twelve to five children all of them healthy.

Several of the neighbors event happened more this evening, and was taken from given no credence. Investigation, however, confirmed the report. The children are apparently fully developed, though not specimens of humanity, and the attending physicians think they will all live. She is past thirty five years, and has three other children.

Hanged by Tearc Chains.

Special to the News and Observer.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Martha Miller, aged 45 and a widow, living five miles below Asheville, committed suicide by hanging herself with two trace chains fastened to a rafter of her stable Sunday morning. She left a husband and four children. Mrs. Miller has been several months, and shown signs of insanity.

Seventy-Six Persons Injured.

EARLEY, W. VA., Oct. 14.—A passenger train on the Norfolk and Western Railroad was wrecked by a broken frog between [illegible] and Kenova today. The baggage and mail car and the second class coach were thrown from the track and ditched. Seventy-six passengers were in the car and all were more or less injured.

Earthquake Shock in Dakota.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 12.—At 7 o'clock last evening the central and north central portions of the Black Hills felt an earthquake shock. Windows rattled, doors slammed, houses rocked, dishes were rattled but so far as heard there was no serious damage. The shock was felt over a region 35 miles square.

News and Observer: Mr. James Patrick, who owns and operates a cotton gin at Gray's Store, in Swift Creek township, had the misfortune yesterday of having his arm and hand badly lacerated by getting it in his gin. The flesh on his arm was split nearly to his elbow, and three fingers on his right hand were cut almost in two. Dr. James R. Rogers was summoned, and sewed up the wounds, and at last accounts Mr. Patrick was resting well.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Tampa, Fla., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. Trial will prove our statement. Price 50c and $1.00. At R. R. Fearrington's Drug Store.

The continued drought is having its effect to an alarming degree on the coke works in the Connellsville, Pa., section. If relief does not come a large number of plants will be obliged to close down.

A weather prophet says the grass hoppers are nearly all white this winter, which means that this will be a long cold winter, filled with blustering storms ahead.

The shaft house at the Summit coal mine, near Stony City, La., was burned Saturday night. Four miners were burned to death.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by G. R. Fearrington.

Charlotte News: It is an old story about tramps, yet it is a fact that Charlotte never before saw the like of them. The [illegible] is flowing southward. The tramps come into town on the main line of the Southern. They leave the cars at the stopping point of the incoming trains at the [illegible] and go to the Atlantic junction, and seem to all at home.

There is no medicine so often needed in every house and so adaptably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A bruise or a headache may be cured by it. A burn or a scald or a sprain or muscular pain. The severe pain of a burn is instantly relieved and the wound healed in more less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in which makes it so painful in about one third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention before the pain begins to [illegible], which can only be done by using Pain Balm is kept at hand. Avoid substitutes and imitations. A 25 cent bottle may be required before it proves serious. A trifling sum may be required by applying it a few days. Pain Balm may be cured [illegible] Pain Balm is kept at hand.
