Temple Israel Students To Represent Carolinas In National Bible Contest

Three students of Temple Israel Religious School have qualified to participate in the National Finals of the National Bible Contest. The contest, sponsored by the Department of Education and Culture of the World Zionist Organization, will be held in New York on May 24. It will be preceded by a weekend of activities bringing together young Bible scholars from all over the U.S. and Canada. The three youngsters are Danny Fisher, son of Janice and Lewis Fisher, Debbie Massachi, daughter of Rose Massachi and Ben Massachi, and Shira Melenson, daughter of Cynthia and Richard Melenson. They were among a group of eight who have been studying the Biblical Books of Exodus, Deuteronomy and Ruth for the past year and who recently took an extensive written examination on the material in those three books. Other participants included Benjamin Frank, Jeffrey Gartner, Larry Heiman, Elizabeth Nordin and Julie Schneider. All the students and their parents will be honored at a special Sabbath Service at Temple Israel on June 13.

Wilson has had at least one student place in the top ten in the National Bible Contest Finals. Rabbi Wilson observes, "These youngsters are all winners! They have achieved nobly, simply by directing some of their wonderful curiosity and enthusiasm toward deeper understanding of our heritage. These children are special because they aren't special. They are just typical kids who got turned on and who had plenty of time for sports, homework, computers and goofing off."

FACULTY NEEDED

Do you like children? Do you have some time to spare? Are you looking for a way to get involved? Does helping out give you satisfaction? If the answer to any of these questions is "Yes," Temple Beth El V'Shalom can use your help. We are currently recruiting faculty for the 1987-88 school year. Classes meet on Sunday mornings from 9:30 a.m.-noon. Please call Lisa Vernon or Rabbi Seigel at 366-1948 to discuss the ways in which we can work together for the future of our children and Jewish education.
