NORTH AND SOUTH.

"Whether the Northern people are better than those of the South, is a question we decline to try to settle; but there is one thing remarkable of the two regions. At the North a man may break, suspend, compromise his liabilities, &c., and yet take a fresh start, go ahead, and soon be in for as heavy a business as ever. At the South if a man fails, every body kicks him down, and no one seems to be satisfied unless he has taken a part in the work of consigning the unfortunate to oblivion.

During the present financial difficulties, out of 952 failures only 36 have occurred at the South. In twelve months from this time these Northern firms will be about again, but it is doubtful about our Southern friends. We have often wondered at this difference, but have never been able to account satisfactorily for it.

It may be that in the South integrity is considered a matter of great value, and once it is under suspicion it is hard to gain confidence again; whilst at the North it is not regarded as so very essential, and a failure is not looked upon with much sensation. Hence at the South, men will not yield to embarrassment as long as there is one ray of hope of success; and this we are inclined to give as the reason why Southern men fail less than those at the North.

MR. BUCHANAN.

A Washington letter says, "Mr. Buchanan still continues to have hosts of lady visitors, and scarcely a pretty woman comes to Washington, but she must see the bachelor President. His manners towards his fair visitors show that he is no 'lady's man;' his graceful common place seems to fail him with them; and I have seen him evidently sorely taxed to find a few words to say to the fair dames who will find their way to his reception room. He is said to have been compelled to find recourse to two stereotyped phrases, which he invariably addresses by turn to the ladies, as he runs the gauntlet of them at reception hours. They are these: 'Madam, is this your first visit to Washington,' Answer. A pause, and then, 'Madam, I would advise you to visit the Smithsonian Institute.' After which the lady is expected to vamose."

WHO BEARS THE COST?

The Lynchburg Virginian inquires—"At whose cost were those three thousand muskets—forty large boxes it is said—sent to Baltimore? Who pays the freight and expenses? Does the Commonwealth of Virginia? Suppose those muskets should be lost in transitu, or sunk accidentally in the Potomac river?—Who would foot the bill? We pause for a reply."

Wilmington Herald.

DOORA CORN.

We have in our office a specimen of this prolific, from the plantation of Daniel Williams, Esq. It is in appearance like the Chinese Sugar Cane, but the seeds are as large as the Carolina Cow Pea, and, while the hull is thin, the body contains a beautiful flour—one that with the usual low country farm basket, will make excellent grist or meal. We learn that two acres planted on common ground sufficed to fatten forty Hogs. As we have advocated the introduction of the Chinese Cane, we also advocate this, hoping that our people will look to their own resources, that they will raise more poultry, fatten more hogs, have no occasion to buy, and in effect be independent.—York District (S. C.) Chronicle.

STILL THEY COME!

Notwithstanding the "hard times," immigrants still continue to flock to this country. A New York letter informs us that seventeen thousand five hundred immigrants from Europe arrived at that port during the month of October. Increase over October, 1856, 1,126. Panic or no panic—hard times or soft,—our "foreign relations" are bound to come. Where the bread that is to feed them is coming from this winter—if they stay in the city—and have not brought it along with them—is a profound mystery, which must be left to the Ten Governors to solve, unless they undertake the solution of it themselves with their brethren of the physical force demonstrations.

The arrivals for the year, up to the 1st inst., are 163,632—44,557 more than for the same time last year.—Wil. Herald

Turn-Down Shirt Collars.—We knew that John Bull was not apt to follow the twistings and turnings of fashion, yet little dreamed he was so stiff necked as never to don a turn down shirt collar until we read in the London Times an account of the finding of a portion of a dead body and a carpet sack or clothing on Waterloo bridge. The Times, in speculating upon the matter as to who the murdered person was, says:

"The shirt collar was obviously intended to be turned down over the neck-tie, from which circumstance it is reasonably inferred that the deceased person was not a native of this country."

Here is a very beautiful thought of that strange compound of Scotch shrewdness, strong common sense, and German mysticism. Thomas Carlyle: "When I gaze into the stars they look down upon me with pity from their serene and silent space, like eyes glistening with tears over the lot of man. Thousands of generations as our own, have been swallowed by time, and there remains no record of them any more. Yet Arcturus and Orion, Sirius and Pleiades, are still shining in their courses; clear and young as when the shepherd first noted them in the plain of Shinar!"

LATER FROM UTAH.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—Col. Johnston was last heard from beyond Fort Laramie. The snow is seven inches deep 100 miles this side of where the express left him. Owing to the slim supply of corn, and the entire absence of grass, the teams and the dragoons' horses were failing rapidly. News has reached Fort Laramie that the Mormons have burnt three government trains, comprising 75 wagons, near Green river, 90 miles behind Col. Alexander's command, which constituted the vanguard of the army.

GEN. WALKER ARRESTED AND BAILED.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Gen. Walker has been arrested on the affidavits of the Custom House officers, but he was immediately admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000.

"I live in Julia's eyes," said an affected dandy in Colman's hearing. "I don't wonder at it," said George, "for I observed she had a sty in one of them when I saw her last."

Grain for Europe.—There are now loading with grain and flour at New York the large number of thirty ships all for Europe, about half being for Liverpool and the remainder for Glasgow. They will average about 20,000 bushels for each ship. Such a wholesale exportation of those two great staple articles of agricultural produce is unprecedented.

An old bachelor possessed of a fortune of $50,000 meeting a friend one day, began to harangue him very learnedly upon the detestable sin of avarice, and gave the following instance of it:—"About three years ago," said he, "by a very odd instance, I fell into a well, and was absolutely within a very few minutes of perishing before I could prevail upon an unconscious dog of a laborer, who happened to be within hearing of my cries, to help me out for a shilling. The fellow was so rapacious as to insist upon having twenty five cents for about a quarter of an hour, and I verily believe he would not have abated me a single farthing if he had not seen me at the last gasp; and I determined rather to die than submit to his extortion."

Tradesmen who are advertising to sell cheap, often announce one fixed price; but one in Hartford, who says that he wants money, and must have it, adds, "we give the lowest prices the first time, and if that don't sell, then we throw off a little."

Important from London.—The Canada's mails have arrived. A letter received this morning, by a gentleman of this city, from a well informed correspondent, dated London, Friday evening, Oct. 22, says:

The momentary crisis in the United States is most severely felt here. Bank interest eight per cent.) and, should intelligence arrive of a suspension of the New York banks, the Bank of England would immediately raise its rate of interest to ten per cent. No effort that can be properly made will be left untried, to prevent the exportation of specie from this country.

HABEAS CORPUS SLAVE CASE.

In Boston, on Monday, a hearing was had in a case of habeas corpus of a slave girl named Betty, belonging to Lewis Sweet, of Tennessee. The girl expressed a wish to remain with her master. Chief Justice Shaw dismissed the case. Considerable excitement ensued, and several colored persons made strong but unavailing attempts to induce Betty to accept of her freedom.

MARRIED:

In this county, Nov. 5th, by Rev. Saml. Rothrock, Mr. RICHARD A. HEILIG, to Miss SARAH L., daughter of Mr. Peter Miller.

DIED:

In Marion, McDowell co., N. C., Nov. 8th, PERRY H. HOLLAND, in the 40th year of his age.

The deceased was a native of Iredell co., and removed to this county in the Fall of 1846. He was an affectionate husband, indulgent father and kind master. A man that emphatically attended to his own business and let others alone; never seen loitering about the streets, but when he had spare time he spent it with his family, although he lived among strangers all speak well of him.

He leaves a widow and 4 children with many friends to mourn his loss. May the dealings of Providence, in removing him, be sanctified to all who mourn his death. His disease was chronic Diarrhœa.

Who that is troubled with any of those disagreeable Complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia or Liver Diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers ever before used. Its action is as perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator. Oct 27 1m22

The acknowledged reputation of Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhœa medicine is now a fixed fact in the minds of all who have tried it; and the increasing demand for the article shows the judgment awarded by a discriminating public.

Orders for it, have recently been received from many parts of the South, and South-western States, where it has not heretofore been sold—but its reputation has gone before it, and the cry is, send it to us. Gen. ——, of Franklin county, N. C., after an experience with it in his family here, has ordered a supply for his sugar estate in Louisiana.

These are indications of its efficacy and speak in trumpet tones of its worth.

SALE OF THE LOTS OF CAROLINA CITY!
At the terminus of the great CENTRAL RAILROAD of North Carolina on BEAUFORT HARBOR,
on THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12th, 1857.

CAROLINA CITY is situated on an elevated point, 3½ miles in a direct line from the waters of Bogue Sound at Beaufort Harbor. This location for a great commercial city, was selected by me as a commercial engineer, after a full examination of all the inlets on the Harbor of Beaufort, to anticipate the completion of the contemplated great Central Rail Road, from this Harbor through the State of North Carolina, connecting with the Work of the Railroads of Tennessee, running east from Memphis on the Mississippi; and in anticipation of the construction of a Railroad from Carolina City, through the Counties of Onslow, Duplin, Sampson, and the towns of Fayetteville, to the Coal Fields on Deep River.

The Atlantic and N. C. Railroad from Carolina City to Goldsboro' will be opened by the 1st January next. The North Carolina Railroad is in operation to the town of Salisbury, from which point the construction of the great Western Railroad through the Mountains to the Tennessee line, is steadily progressing. The Railroad through Fayetteville to the Coal Fields has for some time occupied the attention of the State, and doubtless will eventually be put in operation, that part between Fayetteville and the Coal Fields being in rapid course of construction. The completion of these great Railroads, will carry the Agricultural and Mineral products of the State to one of the finest harbors on the southern coast, and must at an early day build up on its waters a flourishing city.

All the agricultural regions of the State not penetrated by said Railroads, have easy communication with Beaufort Harbor by Navigable Rivers and Sounds.

Of the Harbor at Beaufort, we believe it is unnecessary now to speak; the depth of its waters, its proximity to the Gulf stream, its highways of ships, and its capacity for all commercial purposes, are not well known to every North Carolinian, but have attracted the attention of the country generally.

The Carolina City Co. believe that the advantages of the location which they have selected, are many. Their land is a high and level plain, looking southward upon the ocean, its wells and springs afford the purest waters, and the salubrity of the climate is as well known, that Beaufort is believed to be the most healthy watering place on the southern coast.

At this location, the channel for ships lends in near the shore and runs parellel with it along the whole front of the City, making the construction of wharves cheap and easy; the Harbor and wharves at Carolina City, being a short distance from the conflux of Bogue Sound and Newport River, not immediately in front of the inlet, are unexposed to the violence of storms, and yet a ship may sail from the Railroad wharf on Carolina City and in thirty minutes be at sea.

These are some of the advantages which determined the selection of the location of Carolina City, and so great a confidence had the company on the superiority of these advantages, that they subscribed, and paid in $25,000 to the Capital Stock of the Atlantic and N. C. R. R. Company, which was the only subscription made upon the faith of real estate on the Beaufort Harbor.

Plans of the Harbor of Beaufort, exhibiting the location of the Atlantic and N. C. Railroad and Carolina City, may be seen at all the principal Hotels in the State.

Whereupon Dr. Samuel Rankin in right of his wife Mary, and Alfred Vaughn in right of his wife Amarilla, two of the heirs at law and next kin of the said Andrew Allison, came into Court and entered a Caveat to the probate thereof, and that the same is not the last Will and Testament of the said Andrew Allison, or any part thereof, and thereupon the Court directs the following issue to be made up and submitted to a jury, to wit: "Is the said paper writing, or any part thereof, and if so, what part, the last Will and Testament of the said Andrew Allison, or not?"

And it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the Heirs at Law of William Allison dec'd., the Heirs at Law of Adam Allison, dec'd., and the Heirs at Law of Wm.
