This Institution is now permanently established. Its perpetuity is guaranteed by our lease of the buildings for a term of years, the amount of capital invested, the eligibility of its site, its arrangements for the accommodation and instruction of pupils, the reasonableness of its terms, its present patronage and prospects, the qualification of its teachers, and the purposes and plans of its Proprietor.

The object of this Institution is to provide for the thorough education of young ladies, and as an additional lecture, to qualify such of them as may desire it for the avocation of teaching. We submit some of the considerations which should influence all classes to patronize the Institution. We invite attention,

1. TO OUR BUILDING.

We have one of the most commodious brick buildings in the State, being 100 feet long, 47 wide, four stories high, with a fire proof roof, having all its rooms well ventilated and heated with fire-places, and a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate upwards of one hundred and twenty-five boarding pupils, with only a few in each room, and thus they will not be crowded together as in some Institutions.

The attention of parents is called especially to this, and that their daughters in sickness as well as in health will have rooms sufficiently private for every purpose.

All will appreciate the superiority of fire-places for convenience, comfort and health, and also the great advantage of young ladies having rooms of their own in the Institution.

2. ELIGIBILITY OF SITE.

This may be inferred from its elevation and healthfulness, and its proximity to several of the prominent Schools of the State. High Point is immediately on the N. C. Rail Road, 15 miles from Greensboro, 18 from Salem and 5 from Normal College. It is at a greater elevation than any other place on the N. C. or Western Rail Road, East of Statesville. We give from the State Survey the heights above tide-water of the following places: Raleigh 317 feet; Hillsboro' 539; Greensboro' 843, Jamestown 921; High Point 943; Lexington 716. We have a tri-weekly mail by two-horse coach to Fayetteville, daily mail by four-horse coach to Salem, daily mail by two-horse hack to Normal College, and both the Express and Accommodation trains of the N. C. Rail Road every morning and evening at this place. High Point from its location of commercialism, the purity of its water, the salubrity of its atmosphere, its exemption from the periodical diseases of the low-lands, and inflammatory ones of the mountains, and from the intelligence, morality and piety of its citizens, is one of the most eligible sites for a School in the South.

3. TERMS.

We have greatly reduced the cost of female education. It will be found on comparing our prices with those of the leading Female Institutions of the South, that there will be a saving annually of thirty to sixty dollars in board alone, and that our rates of tuition, generally, are 15 to 25 per cent lower than the average. Board is $8 per month, exclusive of washing and lights; Tuition in English Branches $5 to 12 per Session; Latin and Greek, each, $7.50; French $5; Music on Piano or Guitar $25; use of Piano $12.50; Painting in Oil $15; Drawing $5; Water Colors $6; Otherwise of Painting at reasonable prices; Wax Work of Embroidery $5; Wax Work $5; Leather Work $5; Incidental Expenses $1; Board alone and the English Branches $36 to $45, per Session. Half the expenses required in advance.

4. TEACHERS.

The Principal is a Graduate of Normal College. The Principal Assistant is a Graduate of Greensboro' Female College. They are highly recommended by the Presidents, respectively, of those Institutions. The Principal of Music has studied and practiced it from childhood, and had ten years experience in teaching it. All our Assistants both in the Literary and Ornamental Departments are experienced and efficient. And by an arrangement peculiar to Normal Schools, we shall hereafter be enabled to train our own teachers, and to select the best of them, and thereby secure uniformity in the mode of teaching, and always to have teachers competent to instruct in both the solid and ornamental branches, and to furnish a larger proportion of teachers for pupils than other Institutions.

5. APPARATUS, &C.

We have purchased Apparatus, Pianos, Maps, &c., those indispensable assistances of a thorough female education. We have Philosophical, Chemical, and Astronomical Apparatus, combining recent and important improvements, and have made arrangements for lectures and experiments, illustrating the sciences and pupils will thus be rapidly and thoroughly instructed in these branches. Our Pianos are new, very superior, and from the best Manufacturers in this Country. We have large Maps of the World, the United States, the U. S. and Mexico, Europe, &c. We have thus redeemed our pledges to the public, and shall now proceed to secure an extensive Library, and Literary and Religious Periodicals for the general information of the pupils, and shall spare no expense towards facilitating the progress of all committed to our care.

6. BOARDING ARRANGEMENT.

The Boarding Department is under the management and control of Jerusha Pigott, Mr. P. is a worthy member of the Society of Friends, kind and social in her deportment, of unimpeachable integrity, of established character, and of great benevolence of soul—highly esteemed by all who know him, and devotedly beloved by the pupils of the Institution.

The undersigned and family, and all the teachers board in the Institution. The main building, outbuildings and lots will hereafter be used for the purposes of the school alone.

7. UNDENOMINATIONAL CHARACTER OF THE INSTITUTION.

Our work of educating young ladies for teachers makes this a necessity. We receive them of different denominations. We are supplying families and schools of different denominations. And we therefore employ teachers of different denominations. Pupils are thus trained in an atmosphere calculated to promote christian liberality. Parents need not feel any solicitude in regard to proselyting agencies of any kind, as we shall labor in union with Ministers of other denominations to bring their daughters to Christ, and no pupil will be allowed while in the Institution to connect herself with any branch of the Church without the permission of her Parents or Guardian.

8. BENEVOLENT FEATURES.

We are employing all our means to effect the education of such poor young ladies as wish to be teachers, and such are furnished for the entire amount of tuition, until they can teach and pay it. Our plan embodies these leading features: 1. It proposes not only to educate young ladies of means, but also such as are not adequately provided for, as provided for at all in any other Female Institution in the State. 2. It involves no speculating speculation, but such as are honorable and reasonable. 3. It is a self-sustaining plan. We have thus solved a problem for the South. It is how poor young ladies can be educated as teachers for the South. The State will not do the work. The Church cannot. Individuals must therefore do it, if it will never be done. It can be done upon a plain business principle. A principle that underlies and sustains the business operations of the world. It is the law principle. A principle that ensures success in these departments. Thus have we thought scholars. Female Schools properly managed yield a profit. That profit I hand to such young ladies as qualify for the work. Our ability to educate this class, therefore, is in exact ratio to the patronage we receive from others.

Such are not benevolent but loan profit, and entitled to all the profit as of others in the Institution.

We have been engaged in this work for years and demonstrated that it can be done. And we expect to devote our life to the enterprise, if the work throughout the length and breadth of the South.

9. SPECIAL ADVANTAGES!

We are receiving young ladies that are far advanced in their studies and that have had considerable experience in teaching, and the education of this class is productive of great benefit to all the other pupils.

1. It guarantees the employment of none but experienced and competent teachers, as such only can complete the education of such young ladies. 2. Such young ladies appreciate the necessity of good character, and their influence is given in behalf of it. 3. They are from necessity economical in their expenditures, and thus saves a great many difficulties. 4. They are diligent students, and consequently objects to study. 5. They must be thoroughly versed in the elementary branches, and other pupils must otherwise share in the benefits of such instruction. 6. Many of them intend to teach that they may aid widowed mothers, or educate dear brothers and sisters, and such prove a double object to those others who have not the desire of honor, love and money. 7. They are generally of deep piety, and their influence is salutary. 8. For the last they are willing to pay for what they receive.

These benefits outweigh all that can be derived from any Institution not embodying this class.

10. GOD'S BLESSING on the ENTERPRISE. The language of the Prophet, "Of the children shall he taught of the Lord and great shall be the peace of thy children," has been verified in the results of our efforts to educate. All thus far has exceeded our most sanguine expectations. Pupils representing five or six denominations, "dwell together in unity." The rich and the poor meet together, and feel that the Lord is the Maker of them all. The association has proved mutually beneficial. The prayer meetings of the young ladies have been most signally blessed of the Lord. "The wood has had free course, and been glorified" in the salvation of souls. And we pray and believe that the Lord will continue his goodness and mercy toward us.

MISCELLANEOUS REMARKS:

The Sessions will correspond with those of Normal College, beginning the 1st day of September, and closing between the 20th and 25th of June.

Pupils admitted at any time, and charged to the end of the Session. Pupils not allowed to make accounts at the Stores. We can secure situations for young ladies educated in this Institution. Satisfactory references required of all applicants for aid. Books and Materials for Ornamentals purchased at High Point.

The Cars arrive at High Point from the West at 4 and 10 A. M. and from the East at 3 and 8 P. M. Persons will always be in attendance to receive young ladies and conduct them to the Institution.

For additional information please address the undersigned at High Point, N. C.

WM. I. LANGDON,

June 25th, 1858.

PROSPECTUS OF THE

DAILY PROGRESS,

A Commercial and Business Newspaper, to be Published in the town of Newbern.

An Appeal to the Citizens of Newbern.

At the request of many of your business men I have made the necessary arrangements to commence, between the 20th of August and the 1st of Sept., 1858, the publication of a DAILY JOURNAL in your town.

The DAILY PROGRESS will be devoted exclusively to your interest and to the interest of the citizens of the State. Will you sustain me in this important and indispensable enterprise to your commercial prosperity? I can undertake it, and I pledge to you, in advance, what your abilities I possess, and all the zeal and energy requisite to give you an independent, useful and interesting paper; but without your cordial co-operation and support I can accomplish nothing, and must fail. I shall rely then upon your generous aid, and with your strong arm to assist me I can, and I will carry the enterprise through to success, and make it one of the permanent features of the place so dear to us all.

It is unnecessary to point out to you the necessity of a Daily Journal to enable you to compete successfully with other commercial towns in this and the adjoining States for the trade of the West. Your interest demands it. The people of Wilmington, Charleston, Norfolk, Petersburg and Richmond commune with the interior through their daily papers. Will you longer suffer them to possess this important advantage over you? The West has now been brought, by railroad, to your very doors and is there knocking, with her rich productions for admittance. The natural and inevitable consequences of protracted inaction are already being felt. No town can stand still—it must either advance in commercial and general importance and improve in its religious, moral and social character continually, or it must decline. Now it is for you to say whether you will rise or fall in the great contest for the Western trade. You certainly cannot expect to maintain your ground unless you are as well prepared as your neighbors. Experience proves that towns, sometimes, like individuals, when thrown upon their own resources, often develope a prosperity in advance of those which rely upon adventitious or natural advantages. There is no reason why Newbern should not again around her wharves with the products of foreign countries, which, at no times gone by, would be given in exchange for the products of the West. There is no reason why schools should not rise up among you and colleges flourish in your midst. But your experience, your intelligence tells you that you cannot stand still and witness these things. You cannot, you should not rely upon the Journals of other towns to advertise your goods—to inform the people of the West that you can that you will, trade with them to your if not to better advantage than any other market, because you are nearer to them and can transport goods and produce with greater facility and less expense than others can. You cannot rely upon the journals of other towns to point out and urge the advantages possessed by Newbern for Factories and Schools, which must and will spring into existence as soon as they are properly and energetically advocated.

All the worldly interest I have now in, or ever will be, identified with your community, and with you I intend to sink or swim. But in the publication of this journal, while I shall use all honorable means to gain your approbation and give you satisfaction, both as a citizen and as an editor, I shall endeavor to do justice to our neighbors, and at all times and under all circumstances, look to the common welfare of the "Good Old North State."

Now to you, people of Newbern, I commit the enterprise, persuaded that you will see the necessity for a powerful effort in this matter. Henceforward, for weal or woe, I am with you. Having a practical knowledge of the printing business, and having been engaged for many years of my life upon daily and weekly newspapers, I flatter myself that I can make a paper that will meet your wants and one to which you, as citizens of Newbern, may point with some degree of satisfaction. If one such be one of the elements of success I am determined to do my part, and I confidently expect you to do yours.

The DAILY PROGRESS will be printed with new type on a new press, and will be of respectable size.

Gentlemen into whose hands a copy of this prospectus may fall, friendly to the enterprise, will please procure all the responsible names they can and return the same to the proprietor by the 20th of August, at which time or soon thereafter the first number of the paper will be issued.

Now it is expected that every business man in the town of Newbern will take an especial interest in procuring subscribers. The subscription money will not be demanded or expected until the paper is successfully under way. Let Newbern raise two hundred subscribers and the possibility of failure is removed. The editor feels confident of being able to secure a very respectable circulation in the Western Counties by his own exertions. But being personally unacquainted with most of the citizens he appeals to those interested, and especially to those who do know him, to assist themselves.

☞ There are occasions when even the healthiest people need medicine, the changes of diet, of the weather, and hundreds of other causes, produce a laxity in the system that needs correcting, or in other words, the liver becomes slightly deranged, and needs a stimulator. If all who find themselves in this situation will try Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, they may be sure of relief, as we can testify to its efficacy in curing Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, and other ills so common in a family. In acts, as a medicine, easier and better than any dose of pills we ever swallowed, and is so mild that the smallest infant can take it. As a family medicine, for the cure of Bowel Diseases, Worms, Derangement of the Stomach and Liver, we can recommend it knowingly.—Shelbyville Banner. 1m 7

THE LIVER

INVIGORATOR!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded entirely from GUMS,

IN ONE OF THE MOST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES ever before the public, that will act as a Cathartic, Diaphoretic, and diuretic, without those nauseous drugs, known to act only as a Cathartic, but a Liver medicine, bringing them to the Liver in spite its morbid nature, then on the stomach and bowels in a way of that nature, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, instead of one as heretofore, and in a manner far superior to those of more Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, it will strengthen instead of weaken, and will not require a dose to every day.

The Liver is one of the human body; and when it fails, great misery and suffering is the result, and nothing is so sensitively sympathetic. Near the liver, the proper curative agent, should be of a character to act on the system without weakening or irritating, and yet be so powerful as to reach the diseased organ, and by its healing balm, allay the irritation, and restore the healthy action of the same, thereby rendering a cure, when such a remedy is used, as certain as any thing can be in this life.

Experience has proved this remedy to be just what Liver Complaint has so long sought for, by a gentle, and yet thorough action on the bowels, producing a healthy action of the digestive organs, and thus preventing the formation of bile, and thereby effecting a radical cure.

Bilious attacks are the result of the Liver, performed by Liver Invigorator—and prevent the full from ever coming on, if taken before they become severe.

Only one dose taken at night, and some Cathartic dose taken next morning.

One dose does of two hours.

Half one dose of two hours.

One bottle taken by a person of the disease, and cured.

Only one dose immediately, and one dose when expected to come on.

Bilious Fever, Chills and Fever, Dysentery, and a preventive against the effects of malaria, or miasmatic poison, when taken in the morning.

Dysentery, by taking the Cathartic Dose in the morning and the Invigorator at night, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock.

Cholera Morbus, by taking the Invigorator and Cathartic Dose, in the morning, and a dose of the Invigorator, at night, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock
