SALEM & GERMANTON ROAD.

The interest, which we copy from the Wilmington Journal, furnishes additional evidence that the enterprise to secure a Rail Road connection at Danville is determined that it will be effected without asking the permission of the Legislature to convene at Greensboro.

"We learn from the Salem (N. C.) Press of the 23d instant, that at a meeting of the Directors of the Salem and Germanton R. R. Company held at Winston on the 17th instant, F. Fries, Esq. was unanimously chosen President of the Road, and Thos. J. Wilson, Esq. was in his absence elected Secretary and Treasurer.

"Thus step the press, "are both good appointments." And we hope Mr. Fries talent, energy and perseverance will be brought to bear in successfully carrying out this desirable railroad project."

"R. H. Jones, Civil Engineer estimated the cost of the Road can be built from High Point to the junction six miles for $450,000, which he says is rather less than the usual cost of Railroads but he which he thinks it commendable labor. This with a Road from Germanton, via Wentworth to Danville, would make the Danville connection."

Shocking Case of Burial before Death.—The N. Orleans Crescent tells a shocking story about a sexton in that city named Merritt. The Crescent says: He set his sons, a few days ago, to bury a poor man in a grave at the back end of a certain cemetery. After a short time, the men came back to him, excited, saying they could not bury that man; that he was sitting up in his coffin, and swearing he wasn't dead. Merritt, in his high indignation, seized a spade and went back to the grave himself, where sure enough, he found the customer sitting up and looking quietly around him. But determined on his wages at all hazards, the sick man was buried anyhow. He struggled and resisted as well as he could, but a few hats from the spade soon settled him.

What a Pity.—We see from an exchange that Gen. W. B. Barnett to whom the gold snuff box was recently awarded under the will of Gen. Jackson, for being the bravest man from New York, in the Mexican war recently been dismissed by the administration from the office of Surveyor General of Kansas and Nebraska, for habitual drunkenness.

FELLOW CITIZENS:

I APPEAR before you to-day to declare myself a candidate for popular favor, and respectfully invite you to

Draw Near

and hearken to the words of high concern for your welfare impels me to enunciate. It affords me the most exquisite pleasure imaginable to address so large and respectable a number of you, and I sincerely hope that you will

Treasure up the information I design imparting to you, as it may prove more precious than silver and gold

FELLOW CITIZENS! I feel utterly and strangely incapable of doing justice to the important subject which claims our attention on this occasion; and if it were not so

Acknowledged Truth

that every horse must switch his own tail, or be flebitten, I would instantly back down and employ some distinguished stump orator to stir you at the polls and at the cross-roads, and make known the facts

That

HOFFLIN's carefully selected stock of Fall and Winter Ready-Made Clothing, comprising every shade and grade of every varied article of dress, has arrived; and that he, can exhibit the sublimest spectacle of Fashionable adornments to be met with in the States—stacks and packs!—enough to cover a thousand handsome forms in habiliments at once neat, rich, strong, beautiful and cheap. He should also make known that HOFFLIN'S Store is on the corner,

MARCUS HOFFLIN,

at the Mansion Hotel, abundantly convenient to every visitor of Salisbury, who designs visiting the most popular parts of town—well supplied with light and comfort, where he

Continues to Sell

Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Coats, Vests, Hose, Gloves, Stocks, Cravats, Shirts, Drawers, Suspenders,—everything a man can wear, and all of the best quality,

at Lower Prices

than any other Dealer in North Carolina.

Curiosity quickens the powers of human nature, and leads judicious people to the discovery of many profitable facts that might otherwise remain sealed forever. Now just let a work you up to HOFFLIN'S Store to see his new Stock, and to hear his prices. You are obliged to have Clothing—the law compels—but not obliged to buy from Hoffline. ☞ But suppose he should offer you the best bargains, then what!—that's the question. He knows what he can do, and intends to do what he can to accommodate every one, high and low, rich and poor, who may favor him with a call. ☞ Cash and vary one.

Salisbury, Sept. 27, 1859.

RANAWAY--$75 Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscribers at Lexington, a Negro man named ALEX. or ALEXANDER. Said man is of a dark copper color, 5 feet 6 or 10 inches high, and will weigh from 155 to 165 lbs., a very likely fellow, but has rather a down-cast look—aged 22 years. The subscribers think it probable that Alex is lurking about either in the neighborhood of Salisbury, Mr. Lowrie's or M. S. McKenzie's plantations. They will give the above reward for his apprehension and delivery to them at Lexington, N. C. Also, they will pay $25 reward for proof sufficient to convict any one of harboring said boy.

FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING!

AND GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS,

Purchased for cash in the Northern cities, with special reference to the wants of this neighborhood, and which he will sell at lower prices than have ever been sold in this place before. He is determined by selling GOOD CLOTHING at low prices to merit the patronage of this community. His stock consists in part of Coats, Pants, Vests, Over Coats, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Shirts, Drawers, Neck Ties, Collars, Shawls, &c. &c.

DAVID WEIL is now on hand,
With Goods—new, rich and rare, sir,
And facilities at his command,
To make the people stare, sir.

Sound the trumpet, beat the drum!
From house top and from steeple,
For WEIL is now "at home,"
With Cheap Goods for the people!

He has Clothing, good, of every kind,
Made strong and in the fashion,
For Gent's and Youth of humble mind,
And those of stylish passion.

Here grave and gay, and rich and poor,
May please their minds and purses;
From tip-top Coats, with mountings rare,
To common Linen Dusters.

He has Pants of old and newest styles,
And Vests—such brilliant patterns!
But Neck Ties—oh! such passing piles
For Gent's to cut a dash in.

In Hats and Caps his stocks are rare,
Either heavy or light's a feather;
He has Drawers and Under Shirts in store,
For those who need such finder.

He has Boots and Shoes, all shades and shapes
And gaiters without number,
In everything he'll please your tastes,
Come, all he wants is a trial.

Sound the trumpet, beat the drum!
From house top and from steeple,
For WEIL is now "at home,"
To benefit the people.

And will sell 25 per cent. Cheaper than can possibly be sold any where else in Salisbury. ☞ REMEMBER THE HEADQUARTERS, the house formerly occupied by James H. Enniss as a Book Store. He respectfully invites the public to call, as it will be to their advantage, before purchasing elsewhere.

DAVID WEIL,
Can't Be Beat.

AGAIN IN BUSINESS! EVERY ARTICLE ENTIRELY NEW AND FRESH!

R. & A. MURPHY

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to their friends and the public generally that they are now receiving and opening at their BRICK STORE

(NEXT DOOR TO THE WATCHMAN PRINTING OFFICE)

an entire new Stock of Goods consisting in part as follows:

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, GROCERIES, BOOTS and SHOES, HATS and CAPS, DRUGGS, CROCKERY WARE, GLASS WARE, and a variety of articles too tedious to enumerate, (but not to show) to all of which they respectfully solicit the inspection of the citizens of Rowan and the adjoining Counties. Our goods were bought exclusively for Cash, consequently we are enabled TO SELL THEM LOW DOWN. CALL IN AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES. We do not consider it any trouble NOR DO WE CHARGE ANYTHING FOR SHOWING OUR GOODS. We hope by strict attention to business, and politeness to all customers, and by selling goods honestly, and in all cases to represent them to be precisely what they are, and giving honest measures and weights, to secure a part of the public patronage.

ROBERT MURPHY,
ANDREW MURPHY.

MOTTO—Quick Sales and small profits, the nimble sixpence preferred to the slow shilling.
