sales of mess pork at $10,25 a 10,50, and prime do. $8,25 a 8,40. Groceries remain steady.

Whiskey 22½ a 23½ cents per gallon.

The Cotton market is unsettled and no sales reported—prices rather in favor of the buyers.

CHARLESTON MARKET.

May 16. The Courier says a fair business was done in Cotton, on Monday; the demand, however, was confined almost solely to the better descriptions, which were sold at very full prices. The transactions were at extremes ranging from 5 to 6¾ cents, mostly within the range of 6 a 6½. Sales, 1100 bales.

Very little doing in Rice. Sales limited to some 60 tierces, at former rates.

No sales of Rough Rice.

SAVANNAH MARKET.

A Telegraphic despatch, received at the office of the Charleston Courier, states that the Cotton Market was gloomy at Savannah on Saturday—not a bale changed hands. The Cambria's news received on Monday had caused an improvement of ¼ cent in fi- ner grades. Sales 1100 bales, at 5 a 6¼ cents per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

May 10. The demand for Cotton has been more active, and the sales reach 6000 bales, taken principally for English account. Holders of good ordinary and midling qualities met the market freely.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

[By the Cambria.]

At Mark lane on Monday, the 24th inst., wheat rose 1s. American was sold at 29s to 51s per quarter. Flour is unchanged. Corn is with limited sales at 25s. to 39s. per quarter. Subsequently, the market was steady, with an improved demand and upward tendency. Cotton was quiet. Low and middling qualities were about ⅛d. below last quotations, but fair Uplands continue at about 4¼; low Orleans, 4½; fair Mobile, 4½. Sales for the week, 30,940 bales.

A fair business was done in cured provisions. Beef 76s 6d. to 90s. Bacon active at 40s to 47s 6d. For middlings, 22s. to 26s. Shoulders and hams are in fair inquiry, at from 20s to 50s. Dry salted 26 to 38s. Cheese has advanced 44s 6d to 51s. Lard has receded 6d per cwt., and is quoted 36s 6d to 38s 6d for ordinary, to 45s for extra. Sugar, from 6d to 1s higher. Molasses quiet and steady. Rice is firmer, on account of unfavorable weather. Sales [illegible] Carolina at 16s to 17s 6d.

Prices of metals have receded. Turpentine 7s. Tobacco is in fair demand.

At Manchester and Yorkshire an improved feeling continues in cottons and woollens.

MONETARY—TRADE.

There is a dulness and languor about all the operations of trade, and a pressure in the money market here, calculated to dispirit any people less industrious and persevering than the population of Wilmington; if constant and unwearied industry and effort can bring us through the crisis, the thing will be accomplished. The Banks continue their stringent policy, and but very little aid is afforded from that quarter, to which the community always look with anxiety in times like the present. We believe these institutions do the best they can, however.

Large amounts of specie are shipped from New York, which more or less affects monetary matters here. The next packet to Havre, from that city, will carry out three hundred thousand dollars. The shipments of specie for foreign ports amounted to upwards of a million of dollars, in the course of 5 or 6 days, preceding Friday last. The Banks of the city report that they have lost but very little coin; but this statement is not credited. They, as well as the Southern and Western Banks have been very much drained of the precious metals of late; and while this continues trade cannot improve nor money matters become easy. There is a general dullness in all branches of trade.

In Philadelphia business still continues languid and dull. Money continues in great demand at tall rates, and only a moderate business is doing in exchanges.

In Boston there is nothing to encourage the hope of any very speedy improvement in trade or money matters.

The speculations which have for months past been made by northern papers, and especially those of New York, in relation to good times in money matters, have been met with a reality so much the reverse that less reliance, if possible, than formerly, will hereafter be placed in the financial prognostics of the leading papers of that city. Money and trade are matters of fact concern, that should never be made the subject of demonstrations merely for effect, which is too much the case of late.

The Pennsylvanian, of Friday last, says that some of the Banks of the city of Philadelphia, are paying a dividend of fourteen per cent. per annum, on their stock.

R. F. HIBBARD'S

Genuine Vegetable Anti-Bilious Family Pills.

THESE Pills are a certain cure for Fever and Ague, and Billious fever, as numerous certificates sent to the proprietors will show.

The smallness of the dose, (only two pills,) their energy, their simplicity, and efficacy, happily adapt them for Family and general use.

The unbounded popularity and extensive sale of the pills have induced persons to imitate them, and wrap them up under a name and reputation not their own.

The proprietors have put up these pills in their own proper name that they may the more effectually protect them and the public from fraud, which they could not do if they had taken a fictitious name, or the name of the dead. Read the following statement:

My father, the Rev. B. HIBBARD, died August 17, 1844. While in his life time, I manufactured these Pills and put them up in boxes, and enclosed their [illegible] wrappers, with his name, by his consent and [illegible]; he used frequently to say to me, "Now [illegible] careful, my son, for if the Pills are not made [illegible] the public will blame me." So by his active superintendance, the Pills have gained their reputation as a Family Medicine.

Since his death, I have manufactured the Pills and put them up in my own name, as I deem it to be a species of deception to put the name of Rev. B. Hibbard, on the wrapper, and thereby induce the belief that he superintends the manufacture of the Pills, knowing at the same time that it is not so—that he is dead.

The Pills bearing the name, R. F. Hibbard, are manufactured by me, and are the Genuine Hibbard's Pills [illegible] father, Rev. B. Hibbard.
