Hadassah To Hold Annual Donor Luncheon

The Charlotte Chapter of Hadassah donor luncheon and fashion show has become one of the most popular and well attended meetings of the Jewish women in our community.

This year's luncheon will be held on Wed., October 28, at the Marriott City Center at 11:30 a.m.

Copions will provide the elegant fashions to be shown by "The Mannequins of Charlotte", the professional models organization.

Hadassah members are reminded that the reason for this spectacular gathering is to celebrate a successful fund raising campaign for Hadassah programs and projects.

Donor Chairman Gina Strumpf and co chairmen Pam Segal, Jeannie Katz, Carol Shafranek, Linda Goldsmith, Pearl Mann, Fran Rosenberg, Frances Lyons and Nicki Levine have been working enthusiastically for months to bring this fashion show to Hadassah members.

The cost of the luncheon is $12.50; the minimum donor is $36 R.S.V.P. with luncheon check by Oct. 1 to: Gina Strumpf, 3300 Ravencliff Drive, Charlotte 28226 or Frances Lyons, 4400 Canoebrook Road, Charlotte 28210.

Baby sitting will be available at the JCC and reservations must be made 24 hours in advance. For rides and baby sitting information please call Frances Lyons, 553-7660.

Jewish Medical Ethics: Organ Transplant and Donation

A provocative discussion about the circumstances under which we, as Jews, may perform or might even be expected to perform organ transplants. We will also discuss the question, "How can we be certain death has occurred?" This is a question we all too often must face with our modern technology of life-sustaining measures.

Speaker: Rabbi Marc Wilson of Temple Israel.

West Bank: Palestinian or Israeli?

Should Israel retain the West Bank, or should she allow the creation of a Palestinian state? Is there a peaceful solution to Israel's seemingly no-win situation? Jerry Ingalls, Associate Professor, Geography, UNCC, a respected scholar of the middle East crisis, will share his views on this explosive issue.

For further information on all events call Margie Rolnick, 366-6673. Please R.S.V.P. prior to each event if you are going to attend.

BBW Charlotte Chapter

September 8 marked the start of a busy season for BBW's Senior Women. Ruth Gould supplied and taught a painting project for greeting cards and Thelma Levy arranged a great lunch donated by the Great Wall of China.

Pumpkins for Pediatrics

There will be an open board meeting and pumpkin-making on Monday, Oct. 19 at 2323 Kingsmill Terrace. The pumpkins will be delivered to the patients in the pediatric wards of Memorial and Presbyterian Hospitals and to the children of Arosa House. For more information call Beth Linderman, 542-9865.

Personal Giving

One hundred and thirty members and guests attended the Personal Giving luncheon at Shalom Park on Sept. 2. Irma Gertler, International President of B'nai B'rith Women, spoke of her visit to the Children's Home in Israel. This residential home for emotionally disturbed boys receives a large percentage of our donations during this special fundraising campaign. Stories about the boys touched our hearts as we heard of the last chance the Children's Home gives them.

Thanks go to all who helped plan this event and to those who gave so generously.

Membership

Over the summer we gained eleven new members: Debbie Brier, Syd Gerber, Barbara Hill, Fran Lyons, Gert Rosenberger, Theresa Shrake, Shirley Levine, Glorie Levinson, Emily Zimmern, Marcia Stern and Rose Naiman. For membership information, please call Linda Goldberg, 362-7304 or Shirlee Wadsworth, 364-4928.

AIDS: A Community Issue

AIDS is one of the most threatening issues facing our young people.

The Charlotte Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women and the Mecklenburg Council on Adolescent Pregnancy are cosponsoring a special evening on AIDS education. It is being held on October 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Shalom Park and is open to all, admission free. The program consists of a video on AIDS followed by a panel discussion moderated by B.J. Harrison, health beat reporter, WSOC-TV.

Panel members include: Dr. Jared Schwartz, Chairman of the N.C. State Medical Society's Task Force on Sexually Transmitted Diseases and AIDS; Leslie Kooyman, Director of Metrolina AIDS Project; Beth Mills, Staff Nurse with Hospice (working with AIDS patients); Glenn Blaifield, Director of Health Services, Red Cross, AIDS coordinator of Charlotte Chapter of Red Cross.

For further information call Dorothy Shapiro, 364-3724 or Beth Linderman, 542-9865.
