Our Film Folk

By Herbert G. Luft

The multi-talented Barbra Streisand has completed filming of a highly dramatic motion picture with the odd title of "Nuts". The movie, starring Streisand and featuring her music, is based on Tom Topor's stage production, which ran for a year in Los Angeles and on Broadway.

It is a courtroom drama in which Streisand plays the most provocative role in her career — a strong-willed woman who refused to plead mental incompetence in a criminal case although it would get her off the hook.

She stars with Richard Dreyfuss, a fellow Oscar-winner who plays the public defender. They are joined by Academy Award-winner Maureen Stapleton as Streisand's mother, Tony Award-winner Eli Wallach as the hospital psychiatrist, Robert Webber as the prosecuting attorney, Oscar nominee James Whitmore as the judge and Academy Award-winner Karl Malden as Streisand's step-father.

Speilberg has finished the filming of the first American motion picture ever shot in China and his first movie since 1985's "The Color Purple". It is "Empire of the Sun", the account of a boy separated by his parents and imprisoned in Shanghai by Japanese invaders during World War II.

It is based on the best-selling novel by science fiction writer J.G. Ballard, drawing on a personal episode. The screenplay is by playwright Tom Stoppard and Menno Meyjes, known for his work on "The Color Purple".

Christian Bale portrays the boy, while John Malkovich stars as an American merchant seaman captured by the Japanese and thrown into a prison camp with the boy. Nigel Havers plays the doctor who struggles to prevent his fellow prisoners from dying.

Producer Menahem Golan has finished in Hungary most of the cinematography for the film on Jewish hero Hannah Sennesh. He wrote, coproduced and directed the film about the kibbuntznik who volunteered to parachute into Yugoslavia to help Jews escape. She was caught by the Germans and executed in Budapest, her birthplace.

Maruschka Detmers, the French-Dutch actress known for the remake of the classic "The Devil in the Flesh", portrays Sennesh. Donald Pleasance, David Warner and Denholm Elliott play character roles, and Gila Almagor is guest star. Hannah's mother Catherine, who survived the war in Europe and went to Israel, is played by American actress Ellen Burstyn.
