The Lighter Side Of Life

By

Our Helpmate

Flying down for breakfast is a new stunt on us . . . but that's what happened Sunday morning when Mrs. Burk Rehder (Southport folks will remember her as LaVerne Goodman) leveled her plane to a three-point landing on the strand at Long Beach. . . . LaVerne and her husband are ardent flyers and they pick-up and fly just as you and I jump into the car to go some where . . .

Another Wilmington couple with their plane landed to have breakfast with the Rehders . . .

Not that this is a scoop . . . because it happened on Labor Day too . . . LaVerne and Burk surprised to the surprize of the holiday bathers . . . LaVerne took several Southporters up for a spin, among them John Shannon, Nels Jorgensen and two of the Rehder's guests . . .

* * *

School days . . .

And off to college for the first time go two of Southports youngest set, Josephine Moore and Marion Frink . . .

Marion is going to Lenoir Rhyne . . . and we're sure that she'll continue in the leadership which she displayed at Fassifern. Josephine will enter Greensboro college and we're predicting that she'll make a record that anyone should be proud of . . . We'll be watching her progress with interest and will pass on to our readers (have we any?) each new honor which comes to her . . .

* * *

Little Alneta Dixon was painfully burned on Friday when her dress caught fire from some matches she was playing with . . Her father put out the flames before they had spread over her . . . and her knee and thigh of one leg were the only places burned . . .

The burns are healing nicely now and she'll soon be as well as ever again . . .

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Radcliff Mintz motored to New York last week to meet Alice and Nellie Cranmer, and Alice's two girls, Pat and Stuart, when their boat docked on Saturday . . .

Nellie (Mrs. Edward Cranmer) has been visiting Alice (Mrs. E. H. Arrington) in Panama for a while and they both returned in time to put the girls in school here . . .

They're staying over at the Cranmer's cottage at Long Beach at present but will soon move over into town.

ICE CREAM PARTY

Members of Mrs. Thompson Wacken's Sunday School class of the Baptist Church here were entertained at an ice cream party at the home of Miss Marjorie Potter on Friday evening. There were about twenty present, all of whom enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

CIRCLE NUMBER 3

The third circle of the Methodist church met on Monday night with Mrs. R. I. Mintz and Mrs. James Harper in the home of Mrs. Mintz.

The program was presented by Miss Lottie Mae Newton, the subject being "America Orientals".
