Our He'p mate

Mrs. Helen Bragaw asked several ladies in for tea on Tuesday to meet Dr. Augusta Williams of Brooklyn Massachusetts . . . Dr. Williams will be with Mrs. Bragaw at Camellia Inn through the winter . . .

We found Dr. Williams a thoroughly delightful person and could hardly believe that as far back as the first world war she was a distinguished surgeon . . . (we hope this information is correct: we haven't been able to check on it as we didn't want to sound too reportorial by asking "Is it true, Dr. Williams, etc . . .)

Mrs. Frank Niernsee presided at the tea table where cakes cinnamon toast and delicious miniature cheese "apples" were served . . . Those who were there are Mrs. Vitou, Miss Parkhill, Mrs. Emily Ruark, Mrs. Rob Thompson, Mrs. Crapon, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Styron and Mrs. Farrell . . .

JOGIE-JONES

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Jones and Albert Bogie was solemnized in a simple but impressive ceremony at the close of the evening worship service in the Southport Baptist church on Sunday evening, October 26th.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Brown, pastor of the church.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. D. Watson, church pianist, presented a program of nuptial music, which included "Largo" by Handel, and "Schubert's Serenade". Mrs. Earl Hancock sang "To Promise Me".

The church was simply, but very tastefully decorated.

Arranged against an evergreen background were tall floor baskets filled with white chrysanthemums, Madonna lillies and fern, flanking two candelabra of Cathedral candles. Tapers burned on the alter.

The bride entered with the bridegroom. She wore a lavender wool crepe dress made in princess line with long waist and full skirt shirred softly at the hip line. Her large hat was of matching felt and her other accessories were black. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She wore a shoulder corsage of white orchids.

The bride, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones, was graduated from Southport high school, being a member of the class of 1939, and is popular among the younger set.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bogie, of Orton plantation, and is also a graduate of Southport high school. He holds a position with Ethel Dow Chemical Co., Wilmington, at the present time.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Briley Howell and daughter, Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bullard and children, Genieve and Ed., Mrs. Mina Grimsley and daughter, Betty, and Perry Ragan, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Henry Fullwood and son, Manley, of Shallotte, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bogie and daughter, Miss Ella Bogie, and son, Harry, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bogie and daughter, Doris, of Orton.
