WHICH WERE BAPTISTS?

A QUESTION SETTLED IN THE COURTS.

A Point of Interest the United States Over, to All Church People and Especially to Church Seceders.

LEBANON, Ind., July 25.—An important suit which involves the rights of a large number of churches in the United States has just been decided in the Boston circuit court by Judge Hill.

The Mount Tabor Baptist church, six miles south of Lebanon, which was organized in 1835, was known as a regular Baptist church and conformed to the views of that organization. Two or three years ago part of the congregation departed from the original articles of faith adopted, and decided to become more liberal in their mode and teachings.

This move was bitterly opposed by other persons in the church who, however, were greatly in the minority. The majority expelled the members who did not agree with the new order of things. The minority, however, was recognized by the Danville association to be the regular Baptist church. The other faction refused to submit to the decision of the association, and being in possession of the church property, defied the church authorities.

The minority brought suit for ejectment. The trial has been hotly contested. A large amount of money has been spent and expert witnesses in church government from far and near have testified. The court ruled that the minority, having held to the articles of faith as originally adopted, are the rightful owners of the church property, and should be put in possession of it.

GROWING AND PROSPERING.

The County Seat of Randolph County as a Manf'g Town.

ASHEBORO, July 22.—Asheboro, the county seat of Randolph, while not particularly on the boom, is steadily growing and prospering. The large new merchant flouring mill is about complete and operation will begin next week under the management of R. R. Ross, treasurer. Articles of incorporation have been taken out for the establishment of a large foundry and machine shop. In this immediate neighborhood there are not less than twenty saw mills and also two large planning mills with a tremendous output of lumber. In this industry, Randolph county excells any in the state. Better inducements for all kinds of manufacturing interests are not to be found in the south, than this town affords. Much talk of the district conference, which convenes here the 29th inst. is heard. It will be royally entertained.

RAILWAY ASSESSMENT.

Great Increase in the Value of North Carolina Railways.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 24.—The railroad commission last night announced that they had completed the task of assessing for taxation the entire railroad property of the state upon which they have been engaged for three of four weeks past. They place the total assessed value of all railroads at $19,800,000. Last year it was only a little over $12,000,000, showing a phenomenal increase of over 50 per cent. for the year.—Winston Sentinel.

A rough estimate of the loss places it at $2,000,000.

The Prince of Naples to To Be "Ordered" By Queen Vic.

LONDON, July 55'—The Prince of Naples eldest son of the King of Italy, has been visiting Queen Victoria at Osborne. Most cordial meetings have taken place between the Queen and the young Prince, who has been invited to revisit her majesty next week when, it is understood, an important order will be ordered upon him.

Was Probably Talked to Death.

CHAUTAUQUA, July 25.—In grading for an electric railroad laborers ploughed up near Lakewood the bones of a man and woman of remarkable size. The affair has caused much excitement in this town and everybody has a theory for the skeleton giants. A very curious and suggestive thing about the "find" was that the lower jaw of the man was intact, while that of the woman was entirely gone, showing that womankind was much the same in prehistoric times as now.

Soon as Haying's Done.

BANGOR, Me., July 25.—Uncle Solon Chase, of Chase's mills, famous in years past as the leader of the greenback party in Maine, has written a letter to ex-Congressman Ladd, of Bangor, in which he says that there will be a gathering of those interested in the organization of the people's party in this state soon after the farmers have completed haying.

The occasion is not confined to local bounds, Sandwick and Bourne, but to all Cape Cod, whose residents, irrespective of politics and summer visitors, united in the welcome.

The streets were transformed into busy thoroughfares, strangers by hundreds having arrived last night and this morning.

A special train having on board Governor Russell and staff and other invited guests, stopped at Buzzard Bay, where ex-President Cleveland, escorted by Geo. T. McLaughlin, was in waiting, accompanied by Joseph Jefferson, Gen. Whittier and other distinguished gentlemen.

Mr. Cleveland was given a hearty reception on the train. Upon arrival here a procession was formed, headed by a band, and Mr. Cleveland escorted to a large tent, where a reception was held.

W. T. C. U. ASSEMBLY.

The Effect of Alcohol on the Nervous System.

The morning session of the W. C. T. U. training school was held in the lecture hall of the Y. M. C. A., it being more easily reached by those who wished to attent.

After the opening exercises Miss West lectured on the effect of alcohol on the nervous system, illustrating from physiological charts. She showed conclusively that alcohol is not a stimulant, but produces that apparent effect by paralyzing the nerves, especially those that give the danger signals, and leaving the heart to act uninstructed by these faithful monitors.

Miss Slack gave her last talk on kindergartens, and exhibited models of paper folding and other work done by children of from four to seven years which was really astonishing.

The remaining meetings of the assembly will be held in the hall of the Y. M. C. A. Mayor Blanton stated in his telegram that he would be present Monday night with the new specifications, and the object of the meeting will be to discuss them and put them in shape for printing. If the specifications as arranged should be ratified by the joint board Monday night, new bids for the street paving will at once be called for under them.

GENEVA, July 25.—Henry M. Stanley, the explorer, has met with a serious accident, according to information received from Murren, where Stanley is staying with his wife.

The explorer has fractured his left thigh bone by accidentally slipping while mountain climbing.

Those Trips to Richmond.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN: The tax payers of Asheville would like to know how many more junketing trips to Richmond and other places Mayor Blanton and members of the advisory board propose taking before they get down to work? At the present rate they will spend a good part of the appropriation for nothing. It is just such wastefulness that causes many good men to oppose all city appropriations. Mayor Blanton and the board of aldermen should recollect that not only the people of Asheville but a great many others are watching their movements. Tax Payer.
