THERE'S A MOVEMENT ON FOOT

and it's the right kind of a movement if it happens to be made in our stylish and perfect fitting shoes. The shoe that is handsomer has yet to be made; the shoe that is better can't be made; and the shoe that costs less wouldn't be worth buying at any price. They are as much of a luxury for the pocket-book as they are for the feet. It doesn't give us a bit more satisfaction to sell them than they give to the wearer, for, when anything better in footwear can be offered for the money, it will be about time to look for the millenium. A large stock of Hats and Umbrellas, Trunks, Valises and Handbags at lowest prices.

Local Ripples.

—The quarterly conference will be convened at Tryon street Methodist church Monday night.

—Farmers who were in the city to-day report a slight frost this morning, though it did no damage.

—Mr. E. W. Gould, southern auditor of the Armour Packing Company, is registered at the Buford.

—Mr. Thomas Reese and family arrived home today from a visit to Mr. Reese's parents in Staunton, Va.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Oates will give a reception next Thursday night to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bryan.

—Presiding elder Tyre will occupy the pulpit of the Tryon street Methodist church tomorrow morning.

—A good many Charlotte people will attend the spring communion service at Rocky River church tomorrow.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bryan and Miss Bryan arrived home today after a few days absence in Forsyth county.

—Mr. M. P. Pegram, cashier of the First National Bank, and Mr. John W. Wadsworth arrived today from New York.

—Miss Fannie Benett, of Wadesboro, who has been visiting Miss Laura Hammond, left for her home this morning.

—In the Supreme court yesterday, the decision of the lower court in the case of Black vs. Black, from Mecklenburg, was affirmed.

—Mr. Thad B. Seigle, who was appointed umpire for the South Atlantic League games, declined the honor. His skull is not made of iron.

—A cake walk participated in by colored people, is to be given in the auditorium one night next week. It will be done according to original Ileas and will no doubt draw a big crowd.

—Services will be held at the Associate Reformed church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Todd. The subject of the sermon will be: "Does Religion Pay?" 1. Timothy, 4 8. There will be no night service at this church on account of the Y. M. C. A. meeting.

—The male members of the First Presbyterian congregation are earnestly requested to attend a conference with the pastor in the church, tomorrow evening at half-past 9 o'clock, with reference to increasing the interest in the Sunday morning prayer meeting.

—The concert by the Washington Church Choir Company, at the colored Presbyterian church last night, was attended by a large crowd, many white people being in the audience. The concert was a decidedly meritorious one. Arrangements are being made for its repetition in the auditorium next Monday night.

—The Seaboard Air Line will sell tickets from Charlotte to Atlanta and return on account of the Southern Baptist Convention which convenes in Atlanta, May 6th, at $8.75. Tickets on sale May 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th limited to return passage until May 17th, inclusive.

Items of Interest Just Now.

There is no abatement of interest in the several features to mark the 20th May festivities. All of the committees are working like Trojans for a good result.

The right to get out the official programme has been given to R. B. Elam, printer of this city, who has promised to have executed a handsome souvenir of the occasion in connection therewith.

The low rates given by the railroad officials for the May celebration will bring here, it is estimated 30,000 persons by rail, while 20,000 will come by the old way, oxen, horses, mules and in the "tramps barouche."

The large crowds for the three days in May, will prove picnics for enterprising merchants.

Now they are thinking about a house illumination on the night of 19th May. This will add materially to the appearance of the town, and prove a wonder to the staid old farmer who sees so much darkness in the shadow of his suburban retreat.

At the Catholic Church Tomorrow.

May 1st, 1892, second Sunday after Easter. At St. Peter's Catholic church First and Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m. High Mass and sermon at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 3:30 p. m. Solemn reception of the children of Mary, sermon and benediction at 8 p. m.

The children of Mary will assemble at the convent at 7 a. m. and march in a body from there to 1st mass likewise in the evening.

The morning sermon will be on the Good Shepherd, text, "The Good Shepherd giveth his life for his sheep," John 10, 11. In the evening Father Francis will explain the devotion of the Blessed Virgin Mary. All cordially invited.

Capt. Waring on the Stump.

The county primaries are to be held next Thursday, 5th of May, and the indications are that they will be largely attended. A delegation of Democrats from Paw Creek township this morning waited on Capt. R. P. Waring, and asked him to be present at the primary meeting in that township and deliver an address to the voters. Capt. Waring accepted the invitation and will be there. He will discuss the issues of the day, and place them before the people in a clear and intelligent manner.

The News from Clear Creek.

Our correspondent in Clear Creek township writes today: Mack Morris, a negro living on the farm of Mr. L. H. Hinson, was found dead by the roadside yesterday. He had been to a still house in Union county and popskull killed him.—Mrs. D. S. Ellington, who has been very sick for some time past, is now thought to be out of danger.—Plowing and planting is the order of the day. The farmers are about done planting corn.

Prof. Winston's Lecture.

To Prof. George T. Winston falls the honor of having the largest and most representative audience that has yet greeted a lecturer in Charlotte. Prof. Winston's lecture on his observations in Rome was given last night at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and the character of the audience that gathered to hear him certainly should have inspired him to do his best. Be that as it may, the Professor rather exceeded public expectations. His lecture was edifying, entertaining and instructive, and those who heard it, felt that they had done well not to miss it.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD.

The Centennial of Flint Hill Baptist Church to be Celebrated To-Morrow—Its Old Negro Members.

Flint Hill Baptist church, located near Pineville, but just across the State line in York county, will celebrate its one hundredth anniversary tomorrow. This is not only one of the oldest, but one of the most influential Baptist churches in all this part of the country. It is an old State church, its congregation being composed of people from Mecklenburg county, this State, and York county, S. C. It now has about [illegible] members. It was the far[illegible] South previous to the war for the white churches to take up [illegible] members. Flint Hill and some other country churches had a number of colored people in membership. The war changed everything, and the colored people began to set up churches of their own, but many of the old time darkies still remain true to the ante bellum order. In Flint Hill's congregation is an old darkey named Peter Boyd. He was a slave of Jas. Boyd, and is now [illegible] years old. He has lived the life of a consistent member and will be as such. Peter will be at the celebration tomorrow. A large party from Charlotte will attend the centennial services, which will be conducted by Rev. F. O. S. Cuttle, the pastor.

Nat Macon's Picture.

News comes from Raleigh that a picture of Nathaniel Macon is wanted, and that so far as is known, there is no portrait of this distinguished man in existence. We think a little investigation will result in unearthing a very excellent likeness of Macon. If our memory serves us right, there was a fine oil portrait of Macon on the walls of the old Mahan homeplace in Concord. Mrs. Caroline Mahan, long since dead, had a perfect treasure of art works, and we think Macon's portrait was in the list. The old family has long since broken up. After the death of the Mahan ladies, and the removal of Col. Coleman to Washington, the old residence was occupied for several years by William Macon Coleman. Finally he moved to Washington. The books, among which were many valuable volumes, were boxed up and stored away at the residence of Mrs. McDonald, in whose keeping they are now. Possibly the pictures were also boxed up with the books. If not, Mrs. McDonald or Mr. Wm. M. Coleman could possibly tell what disposition was made of them, and in that way the State may come into possession of the coveted portrait.

Local Weather Report.

The following is a synopsis of the weather prevailing at Charlotte: The high barometer which we wrote of as located at Kansas City yesterday morning has moved northeasterly and is this morning central at and to the lower lakes. This high still continues to influence the weather over this section, and pretty generally over the entire country, resulting in cool and generally somewhat cooler weather. Light precipitation has occurred to the east of the high, along the upper Atlantic coast, and in the extreme northwest; elsewhere there has been a general absence of rain. In the extreme northwest, a low prevails, which is resulting in threatening weather over that section. Temperatures have pretty generally diminished over the entire country.

—Rev. W. W. Orr began his revival at Sharon church yesterday. It will continue until next Wednesday. Mr. R. B. Hunter is assisting in singing.

All Merrily Round.

A TALK ABOUT FURNITURE.

You can furnish a house or an apartment now in excellent taste at no greater expense than it would have cost a few years ago for furniture of the plainest variety. Improved applianes have not only brought improved articles, but they have brought reduced prices as well, and household luxuries are now within the reach of those who could formerly afford only household necessities. There is no reason nowadays why anyone with moderate means shouldn't have a nicely furnished house. A look through my stock of Furniture will convince you that, for a very small sum you can furnish your home cosily. I wish to call your attention especially to my line of Chamber Suits, representing not the indiscriminate aggregation of undesirable and unreliable goods which "must be sold," but the very Latest Artistic Conceptions of the Ablest Makers, and marked at prices which puts them within the reach of all. Life is too short to attempt a discription here, but if you want to get a Real Inking of the "values" of Furniture you shouldn't fail to drop in and see for yourself.
