

In and Around the JCC

Remember the Way Camp Used to Be?

By Scott Snyder, Program Director

- When you discovered your new best friend lived right around the corner?
- When your group built a secret campsite and you had a secret password to get in?
- When your counselor hugged you and said your art project was great?
- When you hit your first softball or sank your first basket?
- When your group collected the most firewood for an overnight and won a prize?
- When you learned to make "smores" on your very first overnight?
- When the magician taught you how to make balloon animals during a late night program?
- When your heart skipped a beat as you and the rest of your group performed a Shabbat song?
- When your birthday was during camp and the whole camp sang happy birthday to you?
- When you went hiking in the woods and you saw animal tracks?
- When the captain of your team said "don't worry, we'll win the next one?"
- When you finally learned how to swim the width of the swimming pool?
- When you chose your favorite activity for Camper Selection Period?
- When you played soccer, tennis, basketball and starred in your group's Shabbat play?
- When you tearfully hugged your counselor and said, "I love you, see you next year?"

Whether it is Camps Katan, Maccabee, Sports, Creative, Computer, Teen Travel or the LIT program, you can make it happen for your child this summer at the JCC where summer is fun and kids can be kids. There are still spaces available for these exciting camp programs. For more information, contact Scott Snyder, Program Director; Jessica Kranz, Director of Children's Services; or Cheryl Jankowitz, Director of Teen Services at the JCC, 366-5007.

A Little Goes A Long Way

Picture this — a little boy sitting on his front steps holding his baseball and watching other children, his friends, going to the Jewish Community Center Day Camp. His eyes are like saucers and he wishes with crossed fingers, that he could be going too. He can almost feel the cool water in the swimming pool as the temperature climbs and the step gets too hot for a little boy with short shorts.

Where do you come in? YOU can make the difference between a long, boring, hot summer and one filled with giggles, splashes and fun. How? Contribute a little to our Camp Scholarship Fund because a little can go a long way. If every Center member would contribute just $5 or $10, we would have enough to meet our goal.

The most important thing to remember is that the Center will deny NO ONE in need. Many families apply for and received "Camperships."

By helping send a child you will have the opportunity to win a free session of camp for your child. Tickets are being sold by the Children and Camp Committees and can be purchased at the JCC reception desk.

In order to apply for a campership, contact Barry Hantman or Scott Snyder for an appointment. All information will remain strictly confidential. For an appointment, call 366-5007.
