Politics the Uppermost Topic in Wayne County

Candidates for Some of the Offices Are Numerous. Rural Free Delivery in Surrounding Country

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 20.—Special.—[illegible] the Democratic county con[illegible] is still some weeks off, and [illegible] other questions such as the [illegible] of the public building and the [illegible] a passenger depot which [illegible] the attention of the public, [illegible] seems to be uppermost in [illegible] a great many. The friends [illegible] candidates for the several [illegible] are hard at work. Not [illegible] but that some influential [illegible] the different communities [illegible] the county comes to the [illegible] to press the claims of [illegible]. Inasmuch as the nomi[illegible] the Democratic convention [illegible] to an election, it is not [illegible] that activity in political cir[illegible] be confined to the Demo[illegible]. If the Republicans are [illegible] anything or have any move in [illegible] are keeping very quiet about [illegible]. However, the Democratic party in [illegible] county is too strong to fear any [illegible] which the enemy might have [illegible]. It is not this that is causing [illegible] activity which is now going on [illegible] circles. The interest which [illegible] is confined to the Demo[illegible] ranks. It is not a question of [illegible] party candidate will win, but a [illegible] question of what Democratic candidate [illegible] will secure the nomination.

The recent election of Register of Deeds George C. Kornegay to a position as cashier of the National Bank [illegible] him out of the race for the office [illegible] of deeds and practically leaves [illegible] contest between Mr. W. G. Britt [illegible] of this city and Mr. John B. Hooks of Pikeville. The latter has been a candidate before and is well known to the people, while Mr. Britt is equally as well known. The candidates for the office of sheriff are more numerous. No less than four of Wayne county's citizens have expressed their willingness to become the servants of the people. At least a half dozen names have been mentioned for the legislature, and a smaller number for the senate. It is conceded that Mr. I. F. Ormond will retain his position as clerk of the court. In fact he has no opposition whatever.

Mr. A. B. Veazey, special agent of the rural free delivery service, is in the city, at the Hotel Kennon, where he will remain until Saturday afternoon, when he will hold an examination at the court house for carriers for three rural free delivery routes which he will establish here. Route No. 1 will go west to the residence of Prof. E. T. Atkinson in Fork township and will return by Ebenezer church and thence by Walter post office and the colored asylum. This route will be about 25 miles long, as will be the case with the other two. Route No. 2 will extend east from Goldsboro and go to the residence of Mr. A. T. Uzzell in New Hope township and return by Elroy post office and the residence of Mr. James Uzzell. Route No. 3 will extend in a southeast direction and will go out by Fellows' branch to Bizzell's mill, returning by a different road by Fellows' branch.

Applicants for these positions must present themselves at the court house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with pen and ink. They must live on the different routes or within the territory. The examination is very simple and will consist of writing and being able to fill out blanks and reading test cards. Each applicant must furnish suitable equipment for carrying the mail and will be required to select his own substitute. The position pays $600 a year.

Mr. Veazey said that he would in a short time establish one rural free delivery route at Pikeville and four at Mt. Olive. He will be at the Hotel Kennon this week, where applicants for the positions of carriers can get any further information that they desire.

Veterans Welcomed to Reunion in Greensboro

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 20.—Special.—Captain D. C. Waddell, Sr., who delivered the address of welcome to the Confederate veterans, spoke as follows:

It becomes my pleasant duty, fellow soldiers, to extend to you from the citizens of Greensboro and Guilford county a welcome—not an ordinary and formal welcome—for otherwise—for it proceeds from the love and affection of their people. They wish you to feel that you are in the home of your friends, surrounded by fellow soldiers and their descendants, and that you are not only sojourning upon their soil, but in their hearts.

They know that you are the battle-scarred remnant left from the magnificent regiments which North Carolina furnished to the peerless army whose renown has extended to the utmost confines of the earth; that the flags of these regiments could ever be seen waving in the smoke of the forefront of every fight; that the great battle-cry of that army, the historic yell, originated with these regiments. Born of the battle where the fighting was most furious, it rose to the heart and broke from the lips, ringing through the roar and storm of battle, carrying defiance and the exultation of victory in its mighty sound. Your ears have heard it and your lips have sounded it.

They know that the halo of glory which illuminates the names of the great generals of that army is but the reflex light from the blaze of their matchless achievements. They gave to that peerless army its prestige and renown, and wherever its great battles were won it was the brave hearts and strong arms of the men of those regiments that carried on their banners the crimson-winged angel of victory.

It is true that you, fellow soldiers, returned from the mightiest conflict that ever shook the earth, weary, ragged and footsore, to your beloved and impoverished State, to face another mighty war, a battle against poverty, but your wives and your daughters and all the brave and lovely women of the land had but words of kindness for you, and smiling even, though they may have been through tears. In your hearts you raised again a mighty yell of defiance and went up against the enemy and overcame him, and you have been mere than conquerors in the last great contest.

You have shed a lustre upon the fair name of North Carilina unequaled by those who have preceded you, for none more have ever shown such devotion, none have ever made such sacrifices, and her mother will cherish you so long as the waves break upon her shores and her mountains stand.

All North Carolina loves you. You are her jewels.

But what of her dead soldiers? Can she do more than give up his life for his friends?

But what shall I say of her dead soldiers who fell fighting upon the field of battle amidst the scream of shells, the rattling of rifles and the remorseless whistle of bullets singing a sad requiem over their untimely fate?

My prayer is that their free spirits may soar aloft to bathe in the elysian dew of the rainbow, to listen to the lyres of Israel mingling with the melodious of the golden harps, to inhale the perfume of nard and cassia which the winds waft through the cedared aisles of the Paradise of God, and behold the countless and endless archways and constellations of blazing stars that they felt and knew above and beyond all, that the everlasting arms were beneath them and that the love of God was eternal.

I bid you all a loving welcome.

SURRY'S RALLY FOR EDUCATION

Correspondence of The Morning Post.

Mount Airy, N. C., Aug. 19.—The teachers' institute for Surry county closed a few days ago.

The institute was conducted by Supt. J. Davis of the Mount Airy graded schools and was a great success. Every teacher in the county attended.

The excellent county superintendent, Prof. J. H. Allen, has done a fine work for public education.

Hon. R. B. White was present on the closing day of the institute and made a great speech. Mr. White stated that his audience at Dobson was the largest he had addressed at any county educational gathering. Fine addresses were also made by George W. Sparger, Esq., of Mount Airy, and Prof. W. M. Cundiff, chairman county board of education.

Surry teachers will go to their work with more enthusiasm and better preparation than ever before. They say that it was the greatest institute ever held in the county. The work done by Supt. Davis was highly commended by the teachers who attended and by the county superintendent. The closing day was a great day for Surry county.

STOLE A LETTER

A Negro in Jail on Serious Charge in Durham

Durham, N. C., Aug. 20.—Special.—Charles Thompson, colored, was arrested by Deputy Marshal Merritt on the charge of stealing a letter belonging to another person. The facts are as follows: Several days ago Charles Thompson received notice that there was a registered letter in the postoffice for him. He went after the letter and when opened he found $3. He said nothing about the matter, although he did not know why he should get $3 through the mail. It later developed that the money was sent from Raleigh and was intended for a white boy of the same name. After tracing up the matter the negro was asked about the receipt of the letter and he denied having received it. When arrested, however, he had both the letter and money, which he turned over to the officer. He was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Faucette this morning and sent up to the federal court under a bond of $100. He is in jail.

John Cates, a white boy, was arrested this morning on the charge of stealing a cow. He and a negro man drove a com to Durham yesterday morning and sold her for $12.50. It developed that the cow was stolen. The negro has skipped and the white boy is in jail. His hearing will be had tomorrow.

Sergeant W. G. Crabtree has received a letter from Attorney General Herbert Parker of Boston, Mass., regarding the Monroe Rogers case. The letter was written on the 18th and in it he said that a hearing of the case would be had before the governor on the 20th (today). Nothing has been heard from there up to this afternoon and it is not known what is being done. In all probability, however, even if the governor signs extradition papers, it will be some time before the negro is brought back to North Carolina for trial. Many doubt that he will ever be brought back.

HERTFORD

Crops Have Improved Since Recent Rains—Lost in the Sound

Correspondence of The Morning Post.

Hertford, N. C., Aug. 18.—The recent rains have been very beneficial to the growing crops throughout the county, especially corn and peas. Cotton stood the drought much better than corn and the other cereals. This year will be a record breaker as for cotton and peanuts. Crops are better than for the past ten or twelve years and it has been a very economical year as far as cultivation is concerned. Sweet potatoes have been selling for a good price and those of our farmers who were fortunate enough in raising a crop made some money on the early shipments. Eastern North Carolina will at some not far distant date be the trucking center of the Atlantic seaboard. Lands are cheap, labor could be made plentiful and shipping facilities are fairly good. What the people need is some one to show them how to raise the different vegetables. Now and then some truck farmer comes from the eastern shores of Virginia and settles in our midst. He makes money from the start because he can get his vegetables so much earlier than in Virginia and early vegetables always command the highest prices. What we want is more of the Virginia truckers.

A movement is on foot looking to the erection of a monument to the Confederate soldiers of Perquimans county. Some few days ago Tyrell county unveiled a handsome monument to those who fought in the civil war and Pasquotank and Perquimans want to follow Tyrell's example.

A meeting has been called to take place at the court house where all matters pertaining to the erection of the monument will be discussed.

Nearly all the Hertford people have returned from Nag's Head. The season at that famous old resort has been quite a successful one.

The Democratic senatorial convention meets in Hertford Tuesday, August 19. Quite a number of candidates are in the field but it looks now like S. I. Harrell of Gates county and P. W. McMullan of Pasquotank will be the nominees.

Mr. Dennis Cox has returned from a trip to Baltimore accompanied by Howard W. Lucy, Esq., of the Continental Trust Company.

Farmers have had a very hard time saving fodder during this month. Large quantities were rotted on the stalk on account of the daily rains.

Fresh fish are plentiful in our streets and selling at very fair prices.

News has been received that Riddick Sanders and boy, colored, were lost or drowned in Albermarle sound last week. They were engaged in getting up sunken logs along the sound shores and were caught in some unexpected storm. The tug Julian Fleetwood was out looking for the parties yesterday and up to this time no trace was found.

MONTGOMERY

Two Homicides Recently in the County—Hon. R. N. Page Improving

Correspondence of The Morning Post.

Montgomery, N. C., Aug. 19.—Hon. R. N. Page, who has been very ill for some weeks, is doing well and has moved with his family to Jackson Springs. He is able to walk about some and hopes to be himself in a short time.

There are a number of cases of typhoid fever at Steeds in this county. Mrs. H. L. Steed is quite low.

Rev. W. S. Rone, presiding elder of the Rockingham district, has been in this county for several days visiting the churches and preaching to the great delight of our Methodist people and others. He is highly esteemed by all classes for the purity of his life and for his work's sake.

The devil does not seem to be chained as to many people here. Affrays, shooting scrapes and murders are among the events reported in the last few days.

J. H. Davis was killed by John Richardson near the gold mines here a few days since. I am informed that Davis had gone to Richardson's home and was breaking in the door with an axe when Richardson shot him. This is the second case of homicide in the neighborhood in recent months.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday for the arrests of Orlando Cox, David Lemons, Dank Lemons and others, charged with beating Thaddeus Dunn in the public road. Dunn had carried his children to church at Star, but did not go in church himself. He found some whiskey and got tight. On the way home he stopped in front of Mr. Lemons' home and became very profane and obnoxious. Mr. Lemons, his sons and Mr. Cox tried to get him to go away and got into a row with him. Later at another point in the road the difficulty was renewed and Dunn was hit with a stone.

A warrant was placed in the hands of an officer yesterday for the arrest of a negro named Christian, charged with shooting another negro at Bruton's saw mill, near Wadeville. I have not learned the particulars.

Republican Tactics in Alabama

(Memphis Morning News.)

The new constitution of Alabama has eliminated the negro as a voting factor from the politics of that State and the Alabama Republicans who have so long howled for negro suffrage and political domination have really indorsed the action of the Democratic party and gone it one better by also excluding the negro from Republican primaries. Thus proving conclusively that all they wanted of him from the beginning was to use him, and since he can no longer be of service as a voter they cast him off as a worn-out garment.

The following resolution has been passed by the Republican State executive committe of Alabama:

"Resolved, That only those shall be recognized or permitted to participate in the State and county conventions and be at meetings who are duly qualified voters under the new constitution of Alabama."

This is an effort to build up a white Republican party in Alabama. The Republican leaders figure that there are many Democrats who would vote the Republican ticket because of belief in the policies enunciated in the plaform were it not for the fact that they fear negro political rule. With the negro question eliminated the Republicans figure that by kicking the colored man out of the councils of the party they can be enabled to make large gains among the white people of Alabama.

A favorable feature of the rise in prices is that agricultural products have shared in it to the maximum, thus assuring the welfare of the farming interests, upon which all others so largely depend. Persons whose income is not been increased of course are pinched by the insufficiency of the weekly or monthly allowance that formerly satisfied the claims of butcher, baker and candlestick-maker. These unlucy ones, however, form but a small proportion of the population, and they find a certain solace in the more cheerful tone of society and in the reflection that they had their innings when a dollar would buy more than a dollar's worth, and will one day see a return of those "ahrd times"—although it would be churlish indeed to hope for them.—New York Herald.
