Rev. Dr. Broughton and the Editors.

WINSTON, N. C., April 24.—Special.—Rev. L. G. Broughton, of Broad Street Baptist Church, whipped the editors up the back again last night. He referred to the New York, Virginia and North Carolina daily papers, and said with few exceptions all devoted their space to scandals. He replied to the Danville (Va.) Register by saying that its editor "would have enough to do the balance of his days to rub his blood-stained hands of the murder of Rev. John F. Moffitt, who was killed by the Danville whiskey ring, of which the Register was the great exponent." "The Charlotte Observer," said Broughton, "calls me a blackguard. In love but candor, I say that it is a flatfooted lie. There are a few honest journalists, but it takes a fine-tooth comb to find them. They are few and far between." Broughton's harrangue has been the talk of the town today. The other ministers here deprecate the course he has pursued and are free to express themselves.

White Miller, colored, killed himself instantly in Lexington Saturday night by placing the muzzle of a pistol to his right jaw. It is not known whether it was a suicide or accidental.

The Catholic Church in Germany.

By Cable.

ROME, April 24.—The official circle here understands that during the interview yesterday between Pope Leo and the German Emperor the Pope and Emperor discussed questions relating to the position of the Roman Catholic church in Germany, and especially the attitude of the members of the centre or clerical party toward the imperial policy. The Emperor's friendly conversation and his valuable gift of a snuff-box bearing his portait surrounded with diamons, to Cardinal Ledochowski, a prefect of the Propaganda, was much commented upon. Cardinal Ledochowski represents the Vatican party, which favors the triple alliance, as opposed to the policy of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal Secretary of State, which is French in its tendencies. The meeting is also regarded as making a fresh step towards the conciliation of the Prussians and the Poles.

Edwin Booth's Condition.

By Southern Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 24.—There was no perceptible change in Edwin's Booth's condition this morning. Dr. Smith called on the patient at 10:30 this morning and remained half an hour. When Dr. Smith came out he said: "Booth's condition is the same. He rested well all night. He takes nourishment naturally. His head is clear, and he recognizes his friends. His speech is somewhat affected and he does talk much. He seems to realize his position, but does not say much about it. The case is not necessarily a fatal one, but if Booth has another one of the attacks he cannot possibly live through it." Dr. Smith denied that there had been any consultation of physicians last night about Booth's case. Mrs. Grossman, Booth's daughter, is with him constantly, and there are many callers this morning.

A Fatal Panic.

By Cable.

NAPLES, April 24.—A fatal panic occurred last evening in the Church of Torrean Nunziata during the services, which was attended by a very large number of persons. Part of the draperies about the altar was blown against the lighted candles. The flames spread with great rapidity, and the congregation made a rush for the doors; wildest excitement prevailed, and women and children were thrown to the floor and trampled upon. The fire was quickly extinguished, and when some semblance of order had been restored, it was found that eight women and five children had been crushed to death, while hundreds of others were more or less seriously injured.

Booth's Condition Yet Favorable.

By Southern Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Edwin Booth's condition was improved this afternoon. Dr. Smith called at the Players' Cub about 2:30 o'clock and after remaining with the patient an hour said: "Mr. Booth is doing well. He has recovered the use of his right arm and leg and muscles, his face relaxed somewhat, and his eyes are clearer. I think immediate danger of death has passed, but of course, there are still grave fears."

Increased Interest in Y. M. C. A.

The interest in Young Men's Christian Association work in this city is on the increase. Sunday 89 boys were present at the boys' meeting, and 87 men at the mens' meeting. Both services were conducted by Mr. L. A. Coulter. The music was excellent. An attractive programme is being arranged for next Sunday.

TROOPS AT JAMES CITY!

The Military of the State Ordered Out by the Governor.

THE FIRST REGIMENT OF THE STATE GUARD

Now Camped on the Grounds Near the James City Settlement Ready to Remove the Unlawful Tenants—Other Troops in Readiness to Move if Necessary.

The State military is on the move. The companies of the First Regiment have been ordered to James City to disposses the negro tenants there that have been decided to be unlawful occupants of the property and that the sheriff has not been able to dislodge. Accordingly the companies adjacent to Raleigh arrived here by the early trains yesterday morning. They were joined here by the Governor's Guard, under command of Capt. John W. Cross, and proceeded to James City, which is across Trent River, opposite to New Berne. The troops were joined en route by the Goldsboro company.

The companies arrived here on time at 9:30 a. m. and accompanied by the Governor's Guard, moved to Goldsboro at 1:30 via the Richmond and Danville Railroad.

Reports of the arrival of the troops at James City and the possible blood-shed in the attempts to dispossess the James City negroes are awaited with great interest.

The following is the order issued by the Governor for the movement of the troops:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, N. C., April 24, 1893.

Gen. Francis H. Cameron, Adjutant General, Raleigh, N. C.:

SIR—You are hereby ordered to assemble the companies of the First Regiment and as many other companies as may be necessary, in the city of New Berne, to assist the sheriff of Craven county in executing the order of the court, all other means having failed, in regard to placing the property known as James City in the possession of the lawful owner.

You will place your force at the disposal of the Sheriff of Craven county, and aid him as far as necessary in the execution of the writ, —using force only when necessary.

Very truly yours,
ELIAS CARR,
Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

By Command:
S. F. TELFAIR,
Military Secretary.

WITH FLYING COLORS.

The troops moved down Fayetteville and Martin streets at 1 o'clock in their brilliant uniforms while hundreds of spectators massed on each side viewed them as they marched. Extra cars were in waiting for them to carry them with speed over the Richmond and Danville and Atlantic and North Carolina Railroads.

LADIES AT THE DEPOT.

At least two hundred ladies as well as a great crowd of citizens, were at the depot to see the soldier boys start. Gov. Carr, Commander-in-Chief of the State Guard, was there in person, and accompanied the military to James City. Adjutant General Cameron and the other officers were there.

The Companies of the Regiment are as follows: Tarboro, 75 men; Greenville, 40 men; Washington, 40 men; Raleigh, 55 men; Louisburg, 58 men; Warrenton, 39 men; Goldsboro, 50 men.

The train left on schedule with the troops aboard, and a throng of ladies and a great crowd waving their handkerchiefs and bidding the boys adieu.

THE SOLDIER BOYS AT GOLDSBORO.

GOLDSBORO, April 24—Special.—Five special cars, attached to the mail train of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, with 375 members of the State Guard aboard, left here this evening at 4 o'clock for James City. There were the Governor's Guard, of Raleigh; Warren Guards, of Warrenton; Franklin Rifles, of Louisburg; Edgecombe Guards, of Tarboro; Greenville Guards, Goldsboro Rifles and Washington Light Infantry, with one Hotchkiss cannon. Governor Car accompanied the soldiers.

A special to the Headlight from New Berne tonight gives a hopeful view of the situation at James City. On the arrival of the train there several leading colored men from Goldsboro and Kinston went over to the seat of war and held a conference with the 2,000 negroes, all of whom are now willing to give in, but they insist that the ejectment shall be made by the proper authorities. No further trouble is apprehended.

NEW BERNE, N. C., April 24—Special—The First Regiment, with about four hundred equipped men, arrived with three heavy guns, Gen. Cameron in command. All quiet now. Nothing is known of what will be done tomorrow. It is generally supposed everything will pass off quietly.

THE LAWS WILL BE ENFORCED

NEW BERNE, N. C., April 24.—Special—Seven companies of the First Regiment of the North Carolina State Guard are now encamped in the fair grounds. There is one from each Raleigh, Warrenton, Louisburg, Goldsboro, Tarboro, Greenville and Washington. The other company of the regiment is expected tomorrow from Elizabeth City. Gov. Carr and staff are here. Brig. Gen. Cotten, Col. Wood, Lt. Col. Bogart and Maj. Rodman are all with their regiment. Tomorrow, it is supposed, the eviction of the James City defiant tenants will begin in earnest. The Naval Reserves, a recently organized command here, will be placed under the orders of the General commanding.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 24—Orders were received by telegraph last night by Capt. John H. Daniel, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, belonging to the Second Regiment, to hold his compony in readiness to move to James City at a moment's notice. Sixty men fully armed and equipped for service are now in line at the parade grounds, momentarily expecting orders to take a special train for Goldsboro, the point of reddezvous for the troops. There is considerable excitement here which is heightened by the fact that the Wilmington Light Infantry was not expected to be ordered under arms, it being supposed that the First Regiment, all of which is now assembling at Goldsboro, would be sufficient to enforce the law at James City.

HISTORY OF JAMES CITY.

In 1863 many negro families were removed by "General" James from New Berne to the opposite side of Trent river. They put up rude cabins and made themselves thoroughly at home, believing they had been given the land by the United States government. Other negroes soon entered the place, and before many days had passed quite a large settlement had gathered—all believing the government had given to them the land they were on. James was no General and had no authority to give the land away.

Peace reigned and the negroes became content with their new homes. They named the village, after their benefactor, James City. They drew up a system of government, elected aldermen and policemen, and the population increased rapidly.

About ten years ago Mr. James A. Bryan undertook to regain the land, which was and is now his rightful, legal property. James City fought the case through several courts, and finally the Supreme Court decided the question beyond all dispute, that the land on which James City is built is the legal property of Mr. Bryan.

Upon this Mr. Bryan endeavored to come to an amicable settlement with his tenants, but without success; he offered to allow every old man and woman, and every decrepit and feeble person in the village to remain, unmolested and free from rent. But this did not suit the stubborn people. He issued circular after circular, courting peaceful terms.

Some time since the sheriff and posse went from New Berne to James City to evict the negroes under authority of the law.

People began to gather from all quarters. Across the street a flag was raised with the union down. This was evidently a signal, for in less than five minutes there assembled on the corner and in the near vicinity at least one thousand negroes, growling and swearing that their blood would be spilt before they gave up the property.

Hundreds of violent expressions were made by the excited mob, growing louder all the time.

Dozens said: "Send Bryan himself over! We'll fix him!" Whenever such a speech was made the crowd laughed derisively.

Men and women and children were talking excitedly and fast. The older ones shook their heads and said there would be blood shed.

Up to date all attempts at compromise at James City have proved futile. Accordingly in compliance with the requirements of law, and at the urgent request and call of the civil authorities of New Berne and Craven county the Governor in accordance with the power vested in him, has called out the military of the State to enforce the law, and in obedience to his order Adjutant General Cameron, with the First Regiment of Infantry of the North Carolina State Guard, left yesterday, on the noon train for New Berne to render such assistance to the civil authorities as may be found necessary.

General Cotten, commanding the First Brigade, joined Gen. Cameron at Goldsboro with several companies of the Brigade.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 24.—A special to the Star shows that the arrival of a large body of State troops at New Berne today had the desired effect and the negroes at James City announce their willingness to retire peaceably but ask that ejectment be made by the civil authorities. It is not thought the use of the military will be necessary.

Cleveland's Statement Inspires Confidence.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—The authoritative statement of Mr. Cleveland yesterday in which he announced the present and future policy of the administration relative to the use of gold reserve, has taken the edge off of the excitement that followed the act of the Secretary of the Treasury in dipping into the reserve fund. If there has been any danger of financial flurry that danger appears now to have passed. Under the interpretation of Mr. Cleveland's statement the reserve is to be treated simply as so much cash in the treasury, and whether aggregate rises or falls a few million per day, becomes a matter of little consequence; consequently very little interest was manifested today at the Department in regard to the financial situation. Some offers of gold were received from the West and accepted, and Treasurer Jordan, at New York, it was reported, had also received a considerable amount of gold certificates. Up to noon the Treasury was not advised as to the extent of gold shipments for tomorrow.

Mr. Leech, director of the United States mint, a recognized authority on finances, said today: "I look upon the statement by the President as a plain and forcible announcement of the determination of the administration to maintain gold payments at all hazards, and if the supply of gold at the disposal of the Treasury should at any time be insufficient for the purpose, that the credit of the government will be used to secure the necessary amount. As such it will go a long way towards restoring confidence and averting any financial difficulty."

Winthrop Industrial School of South Carolina

It is said that for some time the people of Columbia, S. C., have been exercised over the locality for this prize. It was finally decided that Columbia's bid could not be entertained as it was not sent in until after the time fixed by the Board, had passed. The contest was between Chester, Rock Hill and Spartanburg. All bids were very creditable but Rock Hill won the School and her people of all ages celebrated the announcement with a torch light procession, marching of hundreds of school children, and with rejoicing generally.

So far as noticed the names of Dr. Joynes, of the University of South Carolina; Prof. Craighead, of Wofford College, Spartanburg; State Superintendent Mayhew and Superintendent Johnson, of Columbia, have been mentioned as suitable for president of the school.

South Carolina and her cities are exercising commendable zeal in promoting the cause of education.

Death of a Prominent Winston Lady.

WINSTON, N. C., April 24.—Special.—Mrs. Hege, wife of C. A. Hege, the owner of the Salem iron works, died suddenly at 5 o'clock this afternoon, aged 45.

A Disturbance

isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

New Berne Seat of War.

While the soldiers are at New Berne preparing to fight, we are here quietly preparing for a special sale of ladies straw hats next Monday May 1st. One hundred dozen hats to be sold at 15c each. This is a lot of assorted dress shapes in lace straw, sailors, and Toque flats and plaques, many milan straws new shapes and are worth 50c and $1.00 each. This will be the last chance you will have at these hats at 15c each. You know when we advertise a special sale it means something worth having.

Next Monday is the day at

SWINDELL'S.

Funeral.

The funeral of Miss Eliza Weathers took place from the residence, on Blount street, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Dr. J. N. Carter, assisted by Dr. J. J. Hall. The floral offerings were beautiful and appropriate. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Messrs. Ed. H. Lee, C. F. Lumsden, J. M. Broughton, D. H. Allen, A. Willis and J. D. Briggs.

OFF FOR NEW YORK.

THE VESSELS AT HAMPTON ROADS SAILED YESTERDAY.

The Great Marine Spectacle is Over at Norfolk and is Transferred to New York Harbor.

By Southern Associated Press.

FORT MONROE, Va., April 24.—The Naval rendezvous at Hampton Roads is now a thing of the past, and will go down into history as one of the most brilliant marine pageants of modern times. The officers and men on the fleet were up and stirring at an early hour this morning, getting things in readiness for the start, which was fixed for 9 o'clock. It was half-past nine, however, before the Philadelphia got under way and started up the Roads to the west end of the fleet. She was quickly followed by the Newark, Atlanta, San Francisco, Bancroft, Bermington and Baltimore, of Admiral Benham's squadron, and the Chicago, Yorktown, Charleston, Vesuvius and Cencord, of the second squadron, under Admiral Walker.

Upon arriving at the Point, about five miles away, the White squadron wheeled into line and came down past the Fort and stood out to sea. In the meantime the Dolphin, with Secretary Herbert and party, got under way and steamed up the Roads with one fleet, until they turned, where she remained to observe the movements of the other vessels. As the White squadron came down the Roads they were joined by the Holland ship Vanspeyk and two German vessels, "Kaiserin Augusta" and "Sea Adder," which completed the first or port column. A the head of the starboard column came the British fleet, with Vice Admiral Hopkins as commander in-chief, and consisting of the Blake as flagship, the Australia, Magcienne and Tartar. Russia came next, with Vice-Admiral Kosenkoff, commander in chief, on the flag-ship Dimitri Donoski, followed by General, Admiral and Rynda. France followed with Rear Admiral Delibrana, commander in chief in the flag-ship Arethuse, and the Hussard and Jean Bart following. Italy came next under Rear Admiral Magnaghi, with the Etna and Giovanna Raussn. Brazil brought up the rear of the column, with Admiral Julio Cesar d'Norenta as commander in chief, on the Aquidaban, and accompanied by the Tiraxentes and Republica. The foreigners did not make a sweep up the Roads and turn into line as did the White squadron, but took their places in line from their anchorage. While the fleet was getting under the way the Roads were crowded with pleasure yachts, excursion steamers and tugs and sail boats of all descriptions, crowded with visitors, many of which accompanied the fleet down to the capes. The ramparts of the fort were black with visitors. The piazzas of the Hygia were packed with ladies waving dainty handkerchiefs to their departing friends. Col. Frank, commandant, had a band stationed on the ramparts, and as the vessels passed national airs of the country they represented were played in turn. When the fleet had all passed the hotel the little torpedo boat Cushing came out from her anchor and passed to join her sister ships at a rate of speed that called forth a hearty round of applause.

Wake Superior Court for the trial of civil causes convened here yesterday, Judge George H. Brown presiding.
