TELEPHONE No. 168.

Monday, Nov. 16, 1896

Nearly half of the 499 speeches which Mr. Bryan made in the last campaign were delivered in eighty-five principal cities and towns of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland and Pennsylvania. A complete list of these eighty-five towns has been published in the New York World. Mr. Bryan delivered a greater number of speeches in Chicago than in any other city, and he drew the largest crowds there, but the vote shows a plurality of [56,543 against him. His next largest crowds were drawn in New York City, where the majority was about 21,000 against him, a democratic loss of 98,000 votes over four years ago. His largest crowds in New York state assembled in Albany, Buffalo and Rochester. More than 20,000 people heard him speak in each of these cities, and all gave unprecedented majorities against free silver after hearing Mr. Bryan's arguments. The free-silver leaders—republicans, populists and democrats—all agree that Mr. Bryan made the ablest presentation of their case that could possibly have been made on the stump; that his campaign has never been equalled as a personal effort and is not likely to be soon again. More than 2,000,000 voters were actually in the presence of the candidate, saw him and heard him speak between July 10 and Nov. 3. Their enthusiasm was tremendous, but the votes show that their reason was not convinced by his pleading.

On the night of November 17 or morning of November 18, according to an article in the New York Herald by M. Flammarion, the well known writer on astronomical subjects, a shower of meteors will be seen to emanate from the constellation Leo, not far from the star Zeta. A swarm of meteors numbering billions passes about the sun in a very elongated orbit once in thirty-three years and three months in a direction opposite to that of the earth. As a meteoric dust comes toward us with a speed of some 45,000 yards a second while we advance toward it at a velocity of some 32,000 yards a second, the speed with which we encounter the "shooting stars" will be about 77,000 yards a second. In passing through our atmosphere at a height of about a hundred miles above our heads they are heated white hot by friction with the thin air and are thus made visible. Some are consumed, or dissipated, in passing through our atmosphere, but others pass on into airless space and lose their heat and light. Ordinarily they are invisible, being very small—mere specks of dust. Together they constitute a vast group, or series of groups, but are not dense enough to reflect solar light. The November meteors are new to our planetary system.

An interesting case has just been concluded in the Circuit Court at Orlando, Florida. It had been in progress for two or three days, and had attracted considerable attention. William E. Willett, a railroad conductor, brought suit against the Savannah, Florida and Western Railway Company for breach of specific contract. The claim was made that Willett, who was employed on the Florida East Coast Railway, applied to the manager of the South Florida Division of the Savannah, Florida and Western for a position as conductor, and was notified to come on. He threw up his situation, went to Sanford, and was ordered to go over the line and familiarize himself with it, which he did. But the company refused to employ him. Willett ascertained in some way that he had been blacklisted, and after his failure to secure work at Orlando he traveled over the country, endeavoring to obtain a situation at the only kind of work he was familiar with, but was not successfull. Finally he brough this suit, claiming wages for a period of eight months. The case went to the jury and in a brief time a verdict was rendered awarding to Willett the sum of $85 per month for a period of eight months. The case probably will be carried up.

Blood is Life.

It is the medium which carries to every nerve, muscle, organ and fibre its nourishment and strength. If the blood is pure, rich and healthy you will be well; if impure, disease will soon overtake you. Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to keep you in health by making your blood rich and pure.

Hood's pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness.

Neuralgia is the prayer of the nerves for pure blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One Trun Blood Purifier and nerve builder.

Strong Nerves

Nerves just as surely come from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla as does the cure of scrofula, salt rheum, or other so-called blood diseases. This is simply because the blood affects the condition of all the bones, muscles and tissues. If it is impure it cannot properly sustain these parts. If made pure, rich, red and vitalized by Hood's Sarsaparilla, it carries health instead of disease, and repairs the worn, nervous system as nothing else can do. Thus nervous prostration, hysteria, neuralgia, heart palpitation, are cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Because it is the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, aid digestion. 25c.
