NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Minor Events, Retrospective and Prospective, Gathered About the City By Our Alert Reporters.

Oxford Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 103, meets tonight.

There was a great deal of fine tobacco on the break today, and the prices were pretty stiff.

A big brass key was found on the streets. The owner can recover same by calling at this office.

If a man wants to borrow your DAY for a few minutes "just to see what's going on," tell him it is Lent.

Mr. M. Oppenheimer is doing some artistic paper hanging in the city. He is a valuable acquisition to our community.

The break of tobacco on the market today is large and includes a good proportion of shipments from eastern counties and Virginia.

Mr. C. H. Lewellin is opening his merchant tailoring establishment in the old Grandy stand on Main street. He has a full and beautiful line of seasonable samples to show his customers.

The weather changes again to a semblance of balmy spring. Which reminds us that it is only a few weeks before the scenes will be shifted, and the vernal season be with us and "the green grass grow all around and around."

At a business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. the following were elected delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Goldsboro, March 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th: Jno. H. Bullock, B. S. Royster, C. J. Cooper, C. J. Gregory, J. C. Hundley, J. M. Morris, R. V. Minor and J. S. Brown.

Finally Decided.

The right to the possession of the piece of track in Henderson, used by the Oxford & Henderson R. R. in running from their freight depot up town to their passenger depot, has been finally decided in Vance county Superior Court in favor of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R.

The case came up yesterday before a jury. After the cross-examination of the witnesses for the plaintiffs their attorney made a statement to the effect that they were unable to prove their case and asked for a non suit.

Recovered Mule and Buggy.

A Mr. Turner, from Norfolk county, Va., was in the city yesterday looking for a man named Morgan. The latter was in the employ of the former, and was furnished with a mule and buggy to canvass a neighboring county, with the understanding he was to report every Saturday night.

Nothing having been seen of Morgan for a month, Mr. Turner started out in search of the fugitive and his property, and traced them to Oxford. Yesterday afternoon they were found at Royster's livery stable.

Having recovered his mule and buggy, Mr. Turner gave up his previously-expressed intention of having Morgan arrested, and drove off for home.

Provident Savings Life Assurance Co.

Mr. Geo. H. Haigh, of Fayetteville, is again visiting Oxford in the interest of the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society, of N. Y., of which he is special agent. See what the Spectator, the best and highest authority in the way of an insurance journal, has to say in regard to the company he represents:

The Provident Savings Life, of which Sheppard Homans, the well known actuary, is president, had a very successful year in 1889. It wrote $20,000,000 of new business, which is about sixty per cent more than its new business of the previous year. The Provident Savings is known as one of the conservative, old line companies, doing a safe and growing business. Its form of term assurance grows in favor the better it becomes known. This class of assurance, whereby a person can assure his life for brief periods, as his circumstances may require, has long been in demand, and the Provident Savings seems to have hit upon the proper plan for supplying his want. The company issues other forms of assurance to suit the requirements of its patrons.

IN A GENERAL WAY.

Important Happenings in Other States and Countries.

A tug boat blew up yesterday afternoon on the Mobile river. Three persons were killed and two severely injured. Low water in the boiler is supposed to be the cause.

At Augusta, Ga., yesterday afternoon while three children of Mr. Hunt Reed, aged six, four and two years, were playing in their home, the house caught fire, and the children were burned to death. The skeleton of the youngest child was found clasped in the arms of the oldest.

Bishop Walker, of North Dakota, so the press dispatches tell us, has let a contract to the Pullman Palace Car Company for a gospel car with a seating capacity of eighty persons and supplied with a robing room, pulpit and font. The car is to be of rich design and is to be completed in fifty days. The bishop with his car will now be able to conduct confirmation services with appropriate surroundings in the barren country where few churches exist and where the villages are devout.

A disaster like that of Johnstown occurred at Prescott, Arz., Sunday night. A despatch says: 'The large storage dam built across Hassayampa river by the Walnut Grove Water Storage Co., gave way before midnight, causing great damage and the loss of about forty lives. The dam was built for mining purposes, at a cost of about $800,000. It was 110 feet long at the base, 400 feet at the top, 110 feet thick at the base and 10 feet thick at the top, forming a lake three miles in length by three-fourths of a mile wide. Heavy rains have been falling for several days.

The bronze equestrian statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee, by Mercie, the French sculptor, has been completed and ready to be turned over to the Monument Association. The committee have selected Col. C. P. E. Burgwynne, of Richmond, to go to Paris and inspect the statute. Col. Burgwynne will sail from New York March 1st for Paris to carry out the duty with which he has been entrusted. In deference, it is understood, to the wishes of General Jubal A. Early, the unveiling of the monument has been postponed from May 15th to the 29th. That gentleman, who is said to be the largest contributor to the monument fund, was anxious to present on the occasion, and to enable him and Gen. Bureaugard to do so the postponement was agreed to.
