TWELVE PAPERS OF GARDEN SEEDS AND TWO OF THE BEST PAPERS IN THE STATE FOR $2.

The Salbury TRUTH and the N. C. FARMER, one year, and twelve papers Buist's premium garden seeds for two dollars.

We have made arrangements to club that excellent Agricultural monthly the North Carolina Farmer by James H. Enniss, Raleigh, N. C., with the TRUTH one year, and give 12 papers of garden seeds as a premium, all for $2. The N. C. Farmer is one of the best of its kind published in the South, and is well worth the subscription price, $1 a year. The seeds are Buist's and the best.

Send on two dollars and get these papers and seeds at once.

—Court begins here Monday the 20th.

—Mrs. A. H. Boyden is visiting Rochester, Mrs. Lieberman, of Washington.

—The Rev. Mr. Pearson will be here Saturday evening, and will deliver an address in the Methodist church Sunday night.

—The Western N. C. Railroad Co., we are glad to see, are raising the bridge span'ing the cut near the Hon. F. E. Shober's. This is proper, as several persons have been knocked off the cars and killed while passing under it.

—Mr. Thomas Moyle has returned from Alabama where he has been on a mining prospecting tour. He was rather pleased with the country, and says there is plenty of work at Bermingham Anniston and other points: but he prefered old North Carolina.

—Dr. John Whitehead has returned home from a pleasent trip in Virginia.

—We are glad to hear that there will be a new drug store here soon. On the corner recently occupied by Mess. Young & Bostian.

— We are glad to say that several of our young men made visit a Statesville to hear the evangelist Pearson preach.

—We were glad to see our warehouses crowded with new leaf tobacco yesterday, which sold well.

—Died in Locke township, a few days ago, Mr. Buckner Crowell, aged 79 years. He was at one time a prominent man in this county.

—Arch Ba ks, the lost negro, was found last Saturday, lying by a tree in the woods dead, apparantly just as he had laid down. Probably froze to death after being drunk.

—Died in Locke township on the 8th, instant, of pneumonia, Mrs. Margaret Smith, daughter of the late Wm. Gibson, aged 77 years. She was an excellent woman.

—Died in Providence township on the 7th instant, aged 17 years, Thos. L. son of C. A. Earnhart. The cause of death was typhoid fever. Four others of the same family are down with it, and three or four of their relations have died with the same disease within the past few months.

—We are in receipt of Senator J. H. Reagan's speech on the Blair education bill. We have heretofore anticipated this speech, and we now find no reason to change what we said. With all due respect to the Senator, we do not think his argument conclusive.

—We are glad to see Mr. John Kerr on the streets again. although on crutches.

—Messrs. Julian & Watson are now closing out their stock of Dry goods, hats, clothing and crockery at cost, preparatory to a change in business.

—Joe Brown has returned from Texas. He thinks he will return there in the fall.

—Mr. J. M. Haden is selling town and county property at very reasonable prices when we take into consideration it is all likely to incrase in value very soon.

—Died of congestive chill at Cleveland, after only 20 hours of confinement to bed, Mrs. Lucy, wife of B. F. Eaton, aged 75 years, 4 months, and 26 days. Mrs. Eaton had long been a member of the Baptist church. In the relation of wife, mother, neighbor, friend and Christian, she was faithful.

—Mr. Peter J. Swink has rented the buildings on the corner of Lee and Kerr streets for tho purpose of doing wood work, repairing wagons, carts, &c., &c. He is a good workman and will be likely to give satisfaction.

—Mr. D. R. Julian is having erected a commodious warehouse adjoining the store now occupied by Julian & Watson.

—The County Commissioners met last Monday, and but little else than routine business was done.

Some allowances were made to out door paupers: S. Eller $3; S. A. Kennerly $4; W. & M. Hall $6: Patty Cox $6; Elizabeth Gardner $4.50. Mr. Brown reported 18 paupers at the poor house: whites 7–11 negroes. J. K. Heilig was authorized to buy 150 ft. of plank for a bridge over Kimball's branch near Concord road.

Finance Committee reported receipts $3,635,90, and expenditures $3-008,85.

Rates of ferriage were fixed for the various ferries in the county.

J. F. Robinson was ordered to examine the ford at Witherow's and report at the next meeting.

OUR COUNTRY ROADS.

One of the first matters attended to by the conquering Romans in the countries of which they became masters was in all cases the construction and maintainance of good roads, and so thoroughly did they do this work in some cases, that their roads are, in not a few instances, stilled used, as public highways in England. And all civilized countries have in all ages recognized the importance of good highways to the welfare and progress of a people.

Indeed no country can yearly make the best uses of its natural resources, and must suffer to an extent impossible to reduce to figures, with a lack af good roads.

To the farmers in the country around us the discomfort, inconvenience and in many cases, actual suffeaing from the difficulties of communication with the city, caused by the present state of public roads, is a serious drawback, while to dwellers in the city it is scarcely less an inconvience and loss.

If "time is money," what bad economy it surely is for the inhabitants of a productive and populous county like this to neglect the roads.

What a constantly accumulating loss is being incurred by all who have to travel or transport goods over our sloughs of Despond. What a serious increase in the cost of all country produce is incurred, through the difficulties of transportation over roads that, as was remarked the other day, have "no bottom."

Yes it is to the mutual interest of both us in the town, and our friends in the country to have good roads; and old Rowan and her county seat will never reach the bright height of prosperity which we so dearly wish to see her attain, until she recognizes the fact that money spent in thorough work on her roads is money well spent, and will repay the outlay with more than compound interest.

Phil. Record: The rioters at Shenandoah were ignorant Poles and Hungarians, say the dispatches from that point. No American workman joined in the carnival of blind and bloodly license. How come these ignorant, brutal half-savages from Eastern Europe to be in the Pennsylvania coal country? They came there through the efforts of agents of that same authracite Monopoly which now calls piteously upon the State for protection against their lawless violence. The weapon which has been wielded against American workmen has been turned against its devisers. The law will suppress wrong and rioting; but the cost to the coal companies of the suppressive agencies would go far toward paying fair wages to native American citizens.—The Charlotte Hornet.

The announcement that the Standard Oil monopoly has at length gained control of the turpentine trade in the South is not encouraging. Wherever the Standard Monopoly is in control the inhabitants work for a bare living, handing the profits over perforce to their master.—Charlatte Hornet.

CONVENT SOLD.

We only had time to say last week that the Catholic property in Hickory had been sold to the Ohio Lutheran Synod. The papers were signed last Friday and $500 of the money paid. The Balance $5,500 is to be paid in July or as soon as possession of the property is surrendered. A Board of Practical Seminary of Hickory has been appointed by the Ohio Synod to hold the property and run a school.—Hickory Press.

ALL BURNED DOWN.

Every business house in the little town of Walnut Cove, Stokes county, N. C., was burned to the ground a few nights ago. The fire broke out about 10 o'clock in the store, and also the stores of Wilder & Adams, W. A. Lash and W. N. Blackburn, the latter of which was unoccupied. Bailey, Wilder, Adams and Lash had large stocks of goods which were nearly all destroyed. The loss is said to be $50,000, with not over $6,-000 insurance.

LABOR UNION.

At a meeting of the Knights of Labor, assembled at Rock Mills, Ala., Jan. 21st, 1888. Mr. Meacham, the county organizer of the Farmer's Alliance, delivered a forcible discourse in the interest of the Farmer's Alliance, at the termination of which Hon. C. B. Taylor, tendered the following reasons on part of the order of Knights of Labor, clearly setting forth many reasons why this organization exists.

The question is asked "Why have you such an organization as the Knights of Labor." And the answer comes from the lips of every man who does not receive just compensation for labor done, it comes from the life of the thousands of under fed and overworked laborers and mechanics, it com s from the mouths of thousands of farms whose lands are as profitless as though a blight had fallen on them; it comes from every hill-top and valley and every home where the pangs of unrequitted toil are felt. That answer is because men in whose hands power and wealth have been placed have forgotten that this nation is a Republic, because they have forgotten that the founders of the Republic intended that it should be maintained, upheld, and governed by and for the people of the Republic. We are Knights of Labor because we believe that the Declaration of Independence means something more than mere words and beautiful sentences. We are Knights of Labor because we believe if it was wrong for an alien king to oppress a people and rob them, it is also wrong for any other man to oppress or rob his fellow creatures. We are Knights of Labor because we believe, "To whom belongs the soil, it is his, even unto heaven. We are Knights of Labor because we believe that the poorest, humblest man or woman of toil should stand forth more clearly, and be treated with more respect, than the privileges conferred upon, or stolen by, the worthiest in the nation. We are Knigths of Labor because politicians and political parties have deceived, degraded and debauched the people, because they have too often gained power through deception and fraud, and in return for the confidence imposed in them they have basely deserted the common people and knelt at the shrine of gold.

We are Knights of Labor because we believe that law and order should prevail, and that both should be formed in equity. We are Knights of Labor because we believe that the thief who steals a dollar is no worse than the thief who steals a railroad; that the burglar who breaks open a house or a vault is no worse than the criminal who destroys or orders the destruction of the property of a railroad or telegraph company; and we believe that some law should reach out with a firm unshaken hands and punish both criminals according to the magnitude of their guilt. We believe that if it is wrong to steal a loaf of bread, it is also wrong to steal the land whereon the grain was raised from which the bread was made; and if the land was stolen according to a law made by a dishonest time serving politician, we believe that the land sh'ld be restored to the people. We are Knights of Labor because we believe, if the article manufactured by the hands of the American labor is worthy of protection from foreign competition, that the hand whose skill lends value to the article should be protected, and we have determined to protect our labor, independent of politicians or political parties.

And so in all God's dealings, both in nature and in grace, respect is had to the fullness of time. Through all the ages of bondage to the ceremonial law, when types and shadows which even to us are oft so puzzling, were the conveyancers of sacred truth, when prophets spake in tropes and figures, through the darkened ages, when the pure, cl ar light had faded, when there was no more open vision, when prophecy had ceased—through all these the world, with its ceaseless course of providence, sped on until the fullness of the time had come, when God manifested in the flesh should appear as the Saviour of the world.—N. C. Presbyterian.

Goldsboro Headlight: We are glad to announce that a savings bank has been established in this city, with forty incorporators, the shares being $25 each, making the capital stock $1,000. The bank has been named the Goldsboro Saving Bank.

WONDERFUL OCCURRENCES.

Hickory Press.

Wonderful stories have been told of a haunted house in Caldwell county, some eight miles from this place. Mr. P. C. Martin was in our office on Tuesday and gave us some of the particulars. They are wonderful, but we have not the space to give them to our readers this week.

The locality is known as the Martin house, and about two months ago the grand-daughter of our informant said there were rocks falling in the house. From that time on, this has continued. They were seen to fall in the house by various persons. Rocks from ten pounds weight down to a quarter of a pound. They fall apparently from the roof and do not indent the floor like they would do if dropped from that height. In two instances something resembling a piece of corn bread fell, and appeared to come from the comb of the roof. In some cases they appear to project themselves from the side of the room

The first observation of this strange phenomenon was at the old Martin house. The family moved about a quarter of a mile to Mr. Martin's, and the rocks fell there. Then they moved into another house, and still they come. Some times they fall outside, and appear to fall from a clear sky.

They only fall when Mr. Martin's grand-daughter, a girl about eleven years of age, is present.

Other curious things happen. The wash-bowl will move off the bench on which it is usually kept, and fly up as high as the top of the door, and then go over across the room and alight on the bed.

We might fill several columns of our paper with the wonderful occurrences, but have not space. We shall look into the matter further and report again.

Romeo and Juliet; by WILLIAM BLACK. This author's stories are always racy and full of telling points. His "Romeo and Juliet," is an exquisite sketch of two foolish lovers, who mingle tender sentiment with the ludicrous in a way to make everybody smile.

Enoch Arden; and other gems; by Alfred Tennyson. For purity of style, genuine sweetness and touching pathos, the great poet has never surpassed his "Enoch Arden." In this poem of human affection he is at his best, and one cannot know the poet-laureate without knowing it.

Miss Toosey's Mission; and Laddie. Two of those rarely conceived and charmingly told stories of home and duty which refresh and inspire. They ought to be read by every young person who has the world to face.

William Shakspeare; How, When, Why, and What he Wrote: by E. A. TAINE. There never has been compressed into such brief space so much about the immortal "Bard of Avon" as in this work by the brilliant French author. It will open the eyes of the reader to a thousand things never before dreamed of.

Doom; An Atlantic Episode; by Justin McCarthy. A powerful and thrilling story of life on an American liner. The situations are natural, the plot intense, the sketching exquisite. The hand of a master is visible from the "all aboard" at Liverpool to the terrible landing at New York.

The Lady of Lyons; by SIR E. BULWER LYTTON. This is the Lady as seen in the celebrated play of the same name. It ranks as the prettiest picture of devotion and sincerest expression of the "tender passion" ever placed on the stage. The queens of the drama never tire of presenting it to admiring audiences.

Bulldog and Butterfly; by David Christie Murray. A nicely told story of human character, yet not a bit overdrawn. Bulldogs and Butterflies are all around us. The author clothes his realism in garbs of pleasantry and humor. Hence his stories are hits.

The Trial of Pickwick; by Charles Dickens. This is the first time the entire story of the gallant Pickwick's adventures with the impressionable Mrs. Bardell has appeared in connected form. It abounds in ludicrous situations and mirth-provoking incidents, whose interest is heightened by the wise conicalities of the immortal Sam Weller.

Clouds and Sunshine; by Charles Reade. A happily told story of farm life, full of pretty rural pictures and pastoral sentiments. An ingenious plot, exciting narrative, characters with passions and motives just like "city folks." All in all, one of the most interesting and readable efforts of the illustrious author.

Sweet is True Love; by the "Duchess." A touching story of disappointment, estrangement and reconciliation. Full of pretty sketches of situation and character. A vigorous and pleasing narrative. One of the author's strongest stories.

The Haunted House; by SIR E. BULWER LYTTON. This is one of the great author's quaintest conceits and happily told stories. Weird and thrilling throughout. Everybody reads it with feelings of delight.

Dr. Marigold; by CHARLES DICKENS. One of Dicken's crispest and most amusing sketches of a quaint and curious character. Readable, laughable, and a sure antidote to dull care. Every community needs its "Dr. Marigold," and all lovers take kindly to his "prescription."

On Her Wedding Morn; by Bertha M. Clay. A very strong and charming character-story, abounding in striking situations and stirring narrative. Enlists warmest sympathies and rivets attention to the end.

Jack of All Trades; by CHARLES READE. The wonderful trials of an artisan who didn't stick to his trade. Full of comical situations, funny incidents of travel in Europe and America, and thrilling adventures as keeper of a colossal elephant.

38 other Books during the year to complete the 52.
