BUREAU OFFICIALS TO GO HOME TO VOTE

(By Publishers' Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The government employes of Washington are being urged to go home to vote. No one commands them to vote the Republican ticket, of course, but considering the indirectness of influence of some of the departmental bureau chiefs it would be a more than brave man who would cast his vote for an opponent of the administration, such as is a sample of the offers made in a circular from Public Printer Stilling announcing in this he announces that those of his department who wish to go home to vote will be given the necessary time for that purpose. The circular winds up with the following alluring statement: "The Public Printer desires it distinctly understood that condition of work in this office is such that a large proportion of the force can be spared from the first to the fifteenth of November, more or less. Employees desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity may be paid amounts due them before leaving by applying immediately for leave."

NORDICA WILL SING FOR KING EDWARD

(By Publishers' Press.)

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 1.—Because she cannot afford to displease a crowned head Madame Nordica has urged the committee in charge of arrangements for Confederate Reunion here this month to release her from the engagement. Nordica was to be the star feature of the musical feature at the State Reunion, but she writes that King Edward has asked her to fill an engagement of fifteen performances at Convent Garden, London. She adds in her plea to be excused that although she cannot afford to disappoint King Edward she will be able to give her program her in January.

CROKER TALKS OF NEW YORK POLITICS

(By Publishers' Press.)

DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—"Everybody in New York State who supports Democratic organizations should follow the example of Senator McCarren." This was the advice of Richard Croker expressed today in an interview with a correspondent of the Publishers' Press. "I must decline to say whether Tammany ought to have a change of management," Mr. Croker continued when pressed for an answer to that important question.

Wrote Threatening Letters.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

NORTH WILKESBORO, Nov. 1.—W. W. Barber, chairman of the Democratic executive committee for Wilkes county, has in his possession threatening letters written to Democrats whose wives or kindred are postmasters, and these letters were sent under Congressman Blackburn's frank contrary to law. Mr. Blackburn didn't attempt to register in this county. The books closed last Saturday. His name was erased two years ago on account of non-residence, and his failure to register debars him from voting.

More Russian Jew Immigrants.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Jewish exodus from Russia by land and sea has suddenly commenced again on a large scale. Numbers are sailing on Russian steamships for New York and Philadelphia. These are principally small capitalists and artizans who prefer to leave Russia before their limited means are exhausted by the increasing industrial depression. Two thousand sailed this week.

Contributions for McIver Monument Being Constantly Received Now.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner Gratified at the Way People Are Responding To Call For Funds—Several New Charters Issued—Other News Items Reported From Raleigh.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2.—A number of dollars were received today from all over the state for the McIver monument fund by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner, as a result of his letter to the newspapers of the state last week. He had first asked for contributions of $100 but soon made a request for contributions of $250 instead. He wrote: "I am in full sympathy with the movement to erect a monument to Charles D. McIver. We became friends soon after I came to North Carolina and I gladly contribute $250 for this memorial to him."

State Superintendent Joyner says contributions are coming in daily and it is hoped to complete the work in getting together the necessary funds at an early date. So all who expect to contribute are requested to do so at once, sending the money or pledges to Supt. Joyner or to the chairmen of the subcommittees. Amount the pledges already received are four for $100 each.

Exterminating Cattle Tick.

State Veterinarian Talk Butler is just back from a visit to Union and Anson counties where he went for the preliminary work of inaugurating a campaign for the elimination of the cattle tick so that these counties can be taken from under the governmental quarantine and cattle may be shipped throughout the country from them without restriction.

Dr. Butler says the work of the State department of agriculture in this direction will this year result in raising the government quarantine from Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Polk, Forsyth, half of McDowell and two-thirds of Davidson counties.

New Charters Issued.

A charter was issued for the Asheville Perfecta Dry Goods Co., $50,000 capital authorized and $10,000 subscribed by J. O. Blair, R. L. Cook, and others.

Another charter is to the Swindell Pulford Fish Co. of Washington, N. C.

Mr. Patterson Improving.

Commissioner of Agriculture S. L. Patterson has been at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for two months or more for treatment. He underwent an operation some weeks ago and is rapidly recovering. He hopes to resume his duties in the office here very soon. During his absence Mr. W. A. Graham, Jr., for several years connected with the department, has been acting commissioner and has discharged the duties with a marked degree of success.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKINGS; OTHER POLITICAL TOPICS

Manager Wilson of the Bell Telephone Company, is attempting to get returns from the election in every township in the county next Tuesday night. He will have a phone in the courthouse, where the reports will be received. Mr. Wilson has always been accommodating in providing for these returns and he believes he can get a pretty correct estimate as to the results in Forsyth county by 9 o'clock that night.

Candidates at Dennis.

The Democratic candidates and county candidates were greeted by a large crowd at Dennis last night and Mr. Buxton's speech on the road question proved effective, securing many votes for the county commissioners.

The candidates will be at Mineola school house tonight and at Rural Hall tomorrow night. They are well pleased with the success of the campaign and the splendid reception accorded them throughout the campaign.

Ballot Boxes.

The ballot boxes are being sent out to the 17 voting precincts in the county. There are four boxes each, making a total of 68 boxes.

A Fine Record.

I wish to state for the benefit of any who may doubt, there is a record that the voters passing judgment against 130 counties of Forsyth in the courthouse bonds. The present board of county commissioners, during the last two years, paid off a floating debt of about $23,000, besides building two new county bridges, paying for them out of the taxes. These are facts which I have written during the present board's term for their approval against their record in matters already. Not a dollar of this taxes has yet been used.

H. W. LINDSAY.

Republican candidate for commissioner.

A TRIPLE ALLIANCE

One May Be Formed by Germany, Austria and Russia at Early Date.

Alliance Recently Formed By England, France and Italy Largely Responsible For This New Movement Which Gives Every Promise of Being Consummated Soon.

(By Publishers' Press.)

VIENNA, Nov. 2.—Germany, Austria and Russia may form a new triple alliance, thus necessitating new adjustment of diplomatic arrangements. The move contemplated is the result of Italy's recent preparations to leave the alliance now existing between Germany, Austria and Italy and throw in her lot with France and England. Efforts have already been put out by Austria looking to the formation of such an alliance. The correspondent of the Publishers' Press is informed on good authority that so far the advances made have been well received. There is a strong likelihood that this group of powers will ultimately be arranged.

LAST CHAPTER OF SENSATIONAL LITIGATION

(Special to The Sentinel.)

RALEIGH, Nov. 2.—In the superior court here the jury has awarded a verdict to Mrs. Martha Fowle Wyatt against her husband, J. Walter Wyatt, for $2,900 in a suit for the recovery of $2,000 money loaned to Mr. Wyatt by his wife. This is a part of the final chapter in one of the most sensational litigations Raleigh has had in a number of years. Mrs. Wyatt was Miss Martha Fowle, daughter of the late Governor Fowle. It was in 1904 that she brought suit against her husband for limited divorce, charging the most flagrant acts of neglect and cruelty. The suit was terminated within the past year, the court declining to allow the divorce. They have lived apart for a number of years. Mr. Wyatt is a prosperous farmer in Johnston county near the Wake line, and is a man of excellent family. He made denial of practically all the charges brought against him by his wife and defended the suit for divorce. He charged in his answer that his wife was of a very nervous temperament and somewhat unbalanced mentally.

EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH OF ONE

(Special to The Sentinel.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 2.—A terrific explosion that shook nearly every building in the city, killing at least one man and injuring more than half a dozen others, occurred in the yard storehouse of the Cincinnati & Southern Railway shops here this morning. The storehouse was entirely destroyed. Other buildings were damaged. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. It is said that dynamite was stored in the storehouse. It is impossible at this time to make an estimate of the property loss. The officials are at a loss to account for number of men supposed to have been in the shops at the time of the explosion. It is barely possible that some are covered in the wreckage.

WANT POSITIONS

Negroes in Cuba Insist on Being Recognized by Provisional Government

Another Delegation Called on Governor Magoon Today in Interest of Senator Delgado—Negroes Seem Determined To Be Recognized As a Factor in the Government of The Island.

(By Publishers' Press.)

HAVANA, Nov. 2.—In a demand made today upon Governor Magoon for appointment to the position of one of the government subsecretaries of Senator Delgado leading negroes of the island clearly outlined their determination to force the provisional government to recognize them as one of the political elements to be reckoned with. The negroes want offices and say they will never drop their agitation until Senator Delgado and General John G. Gomez have been given important positions. General Evaristo Estenoz, negro leader from Pinar del Rio province, waited upon Governor Magoon today with application for Senator Delgado's appointment. He was treated courteously and Magoon promised that full consideration will be given the request.

Governor Here Monday Night.

Chairman A. H. Eller of the county public executive committee, received a telegram this afternoon from Governor R. B. Glenn, who has been sick at his home for several days, stating that he will fill his engagements in Forsyth to will speak at Walkertown at 1 o'clock tomorrow, at Kernersville at 7 in tomorrow evening, at Clemmons Monday and at the courthouse in this city Monday night. The governor will no doubt be greeted by large crowds at these places.

SALARIES OF THE POLICEMEN INCREASED

The Winston Aldermen at their regular monthly meeting last night increased the salaries of the policemen from $45 to $50 during the ensuing year. The motion to do this was made by Chairman Smith of the police committee.

The board declined to change the ordinance permitting Southern Railway trains remaining on street crossings for minutes instead of five. The request for a change was made by Agent Reid.

Mayor Eaton was authorized to sell a lot belonging to the city to the Southbound Railway Co., the same being on the right-of-way of the new Southbound road.

Alderman Galloway recommended that chapter 4 of the ordinances be changed to read: "That any person, firm or corporation owning vacant lots be required to keep them in a sanitary condition, free from open wells, rubbish, weeds, stagnant water and other matter which would cause sickness or render the lot unsanitary and that any violation of the ordinance, after due notification, shall subject the owners to a fine of $10." He also suggested that chapter 9 be amended by striking out all of section 8 and inserting in its place to the effect that owners of or occupants of buildings, houses or factories fronting on streets where sidewalks have been laid be informed that they must sweep and clean such walks daily and that any person failing to comply shall be fined $2 on conviction before the mayor. These changes were ordered adopted.

The question of requiring people to get permits from the city engineer to build sidewalks and to have them laid according to specifications was discussed. It was discovered that there is already an ordinance requiring permits and the board decided to have it enforced.

The proposition to borrow $200,000 in bonds for much needed street improvements was made the subject of considerable discussion. It had been broached at the last meeting of the board and last night the mayor appointed as a committee to further investigate the matter Messrs. W. T. Brown, Norfleet and Galloway.

Alderman Brown desired that noise and disturbance at the depot on the part of hackmen and cab drivers be stopped and when it was discovered that an ordinance also covered that, Chief of Police Thomas was requested to attend to the matter.

TWO OTHER DIVORCE SUITS MAY FOLLOW

(By Publishers' Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Two more American women who are unhappily married to English notables of high degree are likely to follow the example set by Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, and seek separation from their husbands. This is the statement made by the Manchester Dispatch. In the same connection the Dispatch asserts that in the future marriages between impecunious English noblemen and American heiresses will probably be rare occurrences as practically all the matches of this character so far arranged have turned out unhappily.

No hint is given of who the two women said to be contemplating forcing their noble husbands to agree to terms of separation are, but they are stated to be of equal rank with the Marlboroughs. The women have borne patiently with their husbands but now that the Duchess of Marlborough has set them a precedent they are about determined to follow in her footsteps.

(By Publishers' Press.)

PITTSBURG, Nov. 2.—James A. McMillan, aged 65, special sales agent for Western Pennsylvania for the Automatic Heating Co., of New York, was found murdered this morning. The body was discovered in a vacant lot. The head was crushed as if from a blow with a club. Robbery was evidently the motive as the pockets were rifled and his watch gone.

CASE OF MATTHEWS

Physician Convicted of Wife-Murder Has Not Been Re-Arrested Yet.

However, Papers For His Arrest And Commitment To Penitentiary Will Probably Be Served Within Next Few Days—Review of the Case—Suit Against Railroad—Man Killed By Train—Young Man Arrested.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

GREENSBORO, Nov. 2.—The papers in the case of Dr. Matthews for re-arrest have not been placed in the hands of the sheriff since the Supreme Court handed down the opinion affirming the decision of the lower court, and hence no effort has been made to locate the convicted man. It is known that he was in the State at the time the appeal was heard, and probably is yet, though the officers here have not been apprised of his whereabouts.

Dr. Matthews was arrested on the night of December 1, 1905, on a warrant charging him with the murder of his wife. Mrs. Matthews died on the afternoon of that day from strychnine poison, as the attending physicians testified, administered by Dr. Matthews, while pretending to be praying at her bedside. The trial of Dr. Matthews was held last March and the man was convicted and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. The counsel for the defence waived all other exceptions and claimed that the defendant was guilty of murder in the first degree or not guilty at all.

The Supreme Court sustained the lower court and denied the request for a new trial. Attorneys here are divided upon the matter of the decision of the Supreme Court. There are those who believe that it is a bad precedent to bring in a verdict of murder in the second degree when poison was used. The court holds, however, that whatever may have been the cause that led the jury to arrive at its verdict the prisoner cannot take advantage of it to get a new trial.

Suit Against Railroad.

Superior Court today is engaged in the trial of W. T. Osborne against the North Carolina Railroad. The trial was commenced yesterday afternoon and will probably go to the jury before the adjournment of court this afternoon. The plaintiff is suing for damages for injuries received while in the employ of the company.

Man Killed By Train.

Frank Roberts was struck by a southbound passenger train near the Proximity cotton mill yesterday morning and instantly killed. His neck was broken, his left side badly mangled and other serious injuries were sustained. Young Man Arrested.

G. Cleveland Blaylock, wanted in Randolph county for a number of offences, was arrested here last night. He is a young desperado who burglarizes houses and then threatens to burn the dwellings of those who report him to the officers. He will be carried to Randolph county today.

Card From M. D. Bailey, Sr.

To the Editor—I am advised that a report is being circulated to the effect that during the past summer, while riding on one of the street cars, I made the remark that I would visit Nissen Park more frequently if I did not have to pass through Salem. I have no recollection of making any such statement, but if I did, those who know me know it is unnecessary to say that I was only joking with a friend. Winston-Salem is one community. During my administration as county commissioner I have endeavored to serve the whole people of the best county in North Carolina.

M. D. BAILEY, Sr.

You Are Invited.

A cordial welcome awaits you at Lankford & Pfohl's drug store on Tuesday, November 6th, to hear the election returns.
